Bowers & Merena Sets Pair of Sales

January: Auction Month to Remember

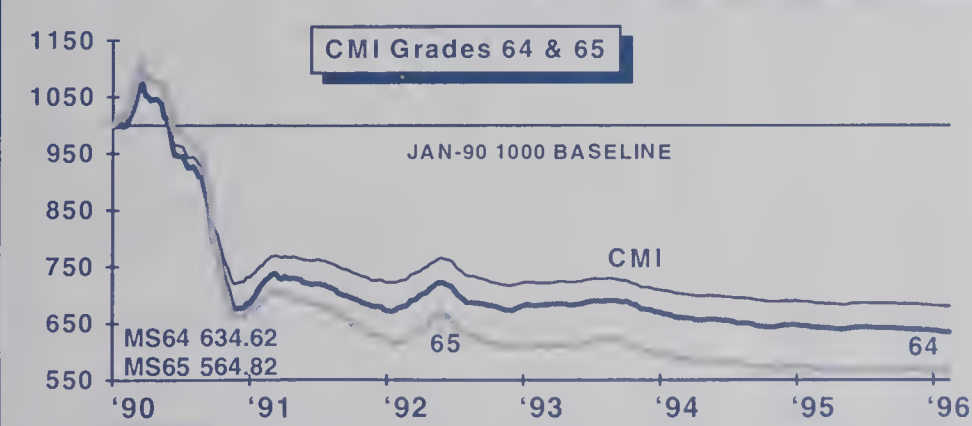

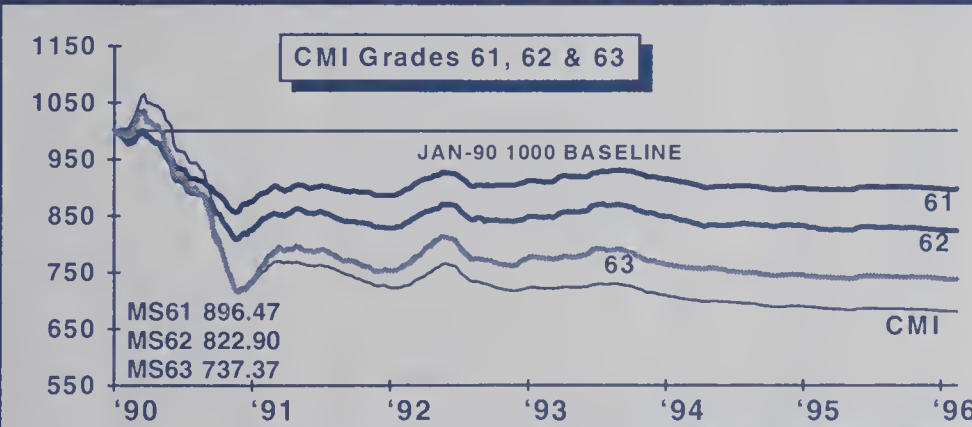

Auctions by Bowers & Merena will be holding their annual 'West Coast' auction just before the Long Beach Coin Show, Jan. 25-26, at the LA Renaissance Hotel. Technically speaking, you could argue that they are offering two auctions, since they have two separate catalogues for the two-day event. I guess that's what happens when you can't fit all the nice coins into one sale! The B&M event starts with the James Bennett Pryor Collection on January 25, and ends with the Set Shahbadian, M.D. Collection on January 26.

The Pryor catalogue is devoted entirely to the Half Dollar denomination; the Pryor Collection is magnificent, and provided the cataloguer with an ideal opportunity to present a dozen pages of numismatic history and commentary on this important denomination — and the list of pedigrees and sources runs almost as long! You can be sure that the specialists will be actively vying for these lovely ladies. Many of the important coins have already been certified, but rarity and condition will be chased regardless. Among the Pryor Halves certified by PCGS:

"Solid" FUN Show Buoy Dealers January Auctions Strong

Dealers were pretty unanimous in expressing satisfaction with their results from the F.U.N. Show which concluded last weekend in Orlando; while none went so far as to describe the market as "hot," many described their sales as "solid." Atlantic Coast dealers staying over for a day or two of vacation time got 'snowed-in', and what better place to be stranded than Orlando! Coin Shops are digging out up and down the Coast.

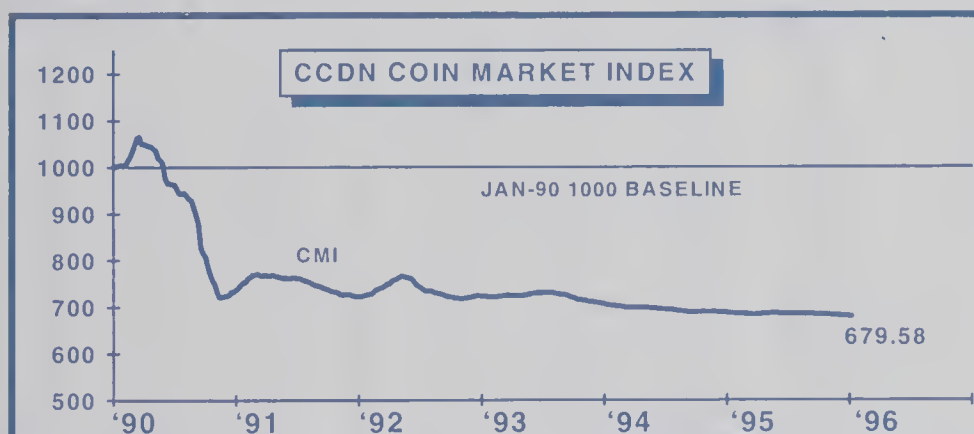

Dealers' spirits seemed to be especially buoyed by the higher levels of activity that they encountered in Orlando — higher, that is, than their original expectations. It is no secret that 1995, taken as a year, was pretty flat, and flat sales have a marked tendency to flatten spirits. (Give a dealer a soaring market, where replacement costs are higher than last month's sale price, and he's happier than a clam. Go figure). The 1995 Holiday season was "O.K." for most dealers, and "good" for a few, but no one was bragging about the year's end. Accordingly, most dealers had flat expectations for F.U.N.; sure, they hoped for a good show - and maybe even a solid show - but no predictions were being made. So what happens? A solid show!

The retail buyers in attendance 'made' the Show for most dealers. These were collectors, to be sure - that much was evident from the careful examination given prospective buys, and from the frequent consultations of checkbook balances and Want Lists. These were selective buyers, but they were buyers! They knew what they wanted, were willing to 'comparison shop', and determine the best value for the money. The F.U.N. bourse is rather large, and filled with rare coins; the failure to satisfactorily conclude negotiations with one dealer typically meant just moving on to the next. Buyer enthusiasm seems to be related to the notion that current levels mean many coins are just "silly cheap," and collectors are taking advantage now to build their collections for the future. Buyers are picky, and they don't mind looking and negotiating, but when they are done looking, they are also buying.

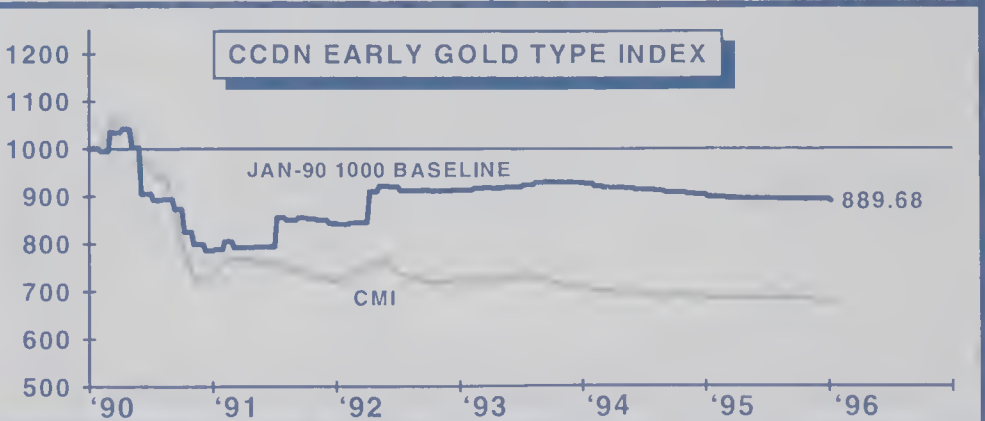

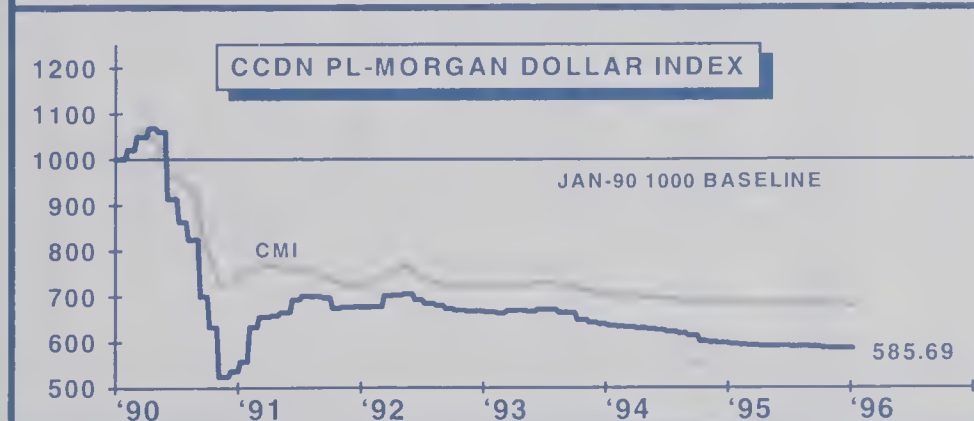

What are dealers watching closely for additional clues about 1996? Dealers are vocal about more active bullion markets, perhaps inspired by the events (or lack thereof) in Washington. Dealers are also sharing a fair amount of speculation about 1996 being the year for the end of the Bull market on the Stock Exchange (although some will also admit, much to their chagrin, that they have been making that same prediction for more than two years now!). Collector interest is paramount, and the upcoming Long Beach Show will provide still another indication of the strength of demand. Some excitement is already starting to build among dealers for the upcoming sales of the Eliasberg Collection by Bowers & Merena; consensus is that these are the coins that can bring "fresh collectors" and "fresh cash" into the numismatic market.

Heritage reported pre-audited Auction results exceeding $3 million for their Signature auction, the 1996 F.U.N. Sale. While the heart of collector demand remains for coins valued below $2,000 (and some might argue below $1,000, as evidenced by this sale), we always enjoy looking at the prices that the 'medium-ticket' coins bring at public auction. From having watched many lot-viewing sessions, we know that collectors also enjoy these opportunities to hold and inspect some of the quality coins that are within the realm of possibility. Among the Heritage highlights:

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDn may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDn uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDn does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

Certification does not guarantee protection against the normal risks associated with potentially volatile markets.
Client or sight-seen sales may command a substantial premium above Bluesheet Dealer-to-Dealer Bids.

The P C I Capsule . . .

✓ $7⁵⁰ PER COIN

✓ 6-DAY SERVICE

*Tells why more people
are turning to P C I*

☐ PCI accepts direct submittals from the general public, collectors and dealers. There are no minimum or maximum submittal requirements.

☐ PCI recognizes that all coins are not "generic." We grade, authenticate, verify and list attributes for errors and varieties such as 5, 5+, & 6 steps for Jefferson nickels, DM (deep mirror), DMPL (deep mirror proof like) for Morgan dollars, and we apply our exclusive attribute PQ (premium quality) to those coins that qualify.

☐ PCI provides our original "Red Label" capsule for "problem" coins, and assigns the grade right on the label (exceptions are: altered, counterfeits, etc.)

☐ PCI offers the most affordable rates of any "third party grading service" — and we provide the fastest turnaround time of any grading service . . . for the applicable fee of $7⁵⁰ per coin, plus postage and insurance.

☐ PCI excels at providing the highest quality customer service. We will go the extra mile to meet the needs of our customers, and our service is backed by our guarantees!

☐ As a special bonus — PCI provides a FREE storage box when twenty (20) coins are submitted. ($5 charge for storage box on orders containing less than 20.)

After our 6th year of new and innovative ideas and technology in setting the pace for 3rd party grading, we at PCI have come to rely upon business practices that you can consistently count on. Your coins will be accepted, authenticated, and graded at the lowest rate and the fastest turnaround time of any service . . . guaranteed!!

Mint State Gold Up Gem Commems Hit Hard

After a successful F.U.N. Show, dealers were looking forward to really starting 1996 off on the 'right foot' with a successful Long Beach Coin Show. For dealers with inventory heavy in Mint State Gold, a gently rising market seems just full of 'good news.' On the other hand, dealers holding quantities of Gem Silver & Gold Commemoratives were hard hit this week. Fortunately, the populations of these Gems are somewhat limited, meaning that the 'pain' isn't widely spread; this is 'good' news only if you don't have any in inventory that had been "priced to sell." Incidentally, this is probably an excellent time to remind all dealers of the importance of following Population statistics, through the reports issued by PCGS & NGC. The 'pops' on many Gem Commems have increased over the last couple of years. At some point, a 'limited pop' coin becomes sufficiently numerous to exceed demand, and Bid will slide. The impact of Bidding is more pronounced on limited pops, so it takes fewer dealers to strengthen the charts; greater populations require many more dollars to support.

So, what happened? The answer is simultaneously simple and complex. Demand for the premium Commems, according to one specialist, has been "somewhat thin" lately; we had noted the greater strength for the MS61-63s in our commentaries, although we frankly didn't make that big a deal over it. After all, there were still scattered plus signs generated by occasional demand. Selected issues were dropping due to discounted sells (a trend also noted), but not in sufficient numbers to be especially newsworthy. As noted in our many "South of Steady" comments, the declines slightly outnumbered the advances, resulting in a slowly declining CMI level.

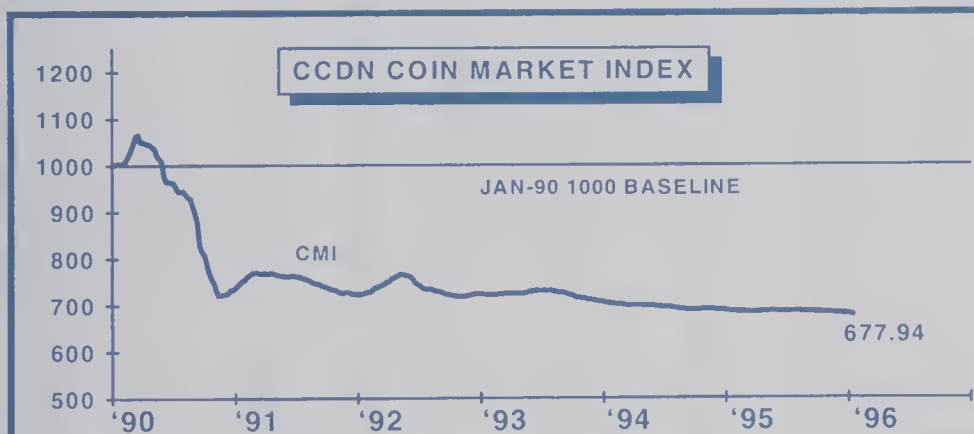

The relative balance of supply and demand changed in January, as Silver Gems showed real weakness at major auction sales, and some leading dealers responded by drastically lowering their buy prices as well. Lower sells on a chart that lacks widespread demand is going to produce a bushel of minus signs, as in this case. This is the downside of a supply/demand market. The more difficult question to answer is why now, and why discount so severely as to drive the market down. Not a bad tactic for anyone interested in serious buying. Collectors who believed that many of these Gem issues were "out of reach" are now confronted with a 'golden' opportunity for the Long Beach Show. Other Commem collectors will take solace in the fact that 87% of all the Commem Bids we report remained steady; not as exciting as plus signs, but quiet strength isn't a bad response to bad news.

While the declines in the Gold Commemorative chart weren't as spectacular, they spring from the same source. The Gold issues had been enjoying selected demand to offset the occasional discounted sell, but dealers seem to be pulling back their Bids until they can determine correct levels. The declines on the Gold Commems occurred in MS65 and better grades, so most collector coins are holding steady here as well.

We offer the opinion, based on having examined many hundreds of Bid history charts, that a precipitous drop is often immediately followed by a partial rebound; Bid levels will bounce around for a bit until the market finds a new equilibrium. Other dealers may feel that the correction was too severe, and put their Bids where their beliefs are. This is not a prediction, because it doesn't always happen, but such recoveries can be seen on many of the charts in our CDN GRAPHS: Silver Commemoratives book published last year. Astute buyers, be they collectors or dealers, will look at the long-term trends and the short-term reactions, and make appropriate decisions. When the Bids climb back up, we'll enjoy writing the headlines.

In the 'good news,' 95% of the Bids listed in this Bluesheet continue to hold steady. The market has been demonstrating quiet strength, especially in the issues below MS65. Greater volatility has been the rule for the Gems, but with more limited populations on many of the coins, dealers didn't seem compelled to offer discounts. Theoretically, we suspected values were declining, but there was no evidence to be seen in the marketplace or at auction.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest rationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDN may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDN uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

THE JAMES E. HALDAN COLLECTION

May 28, 1996

To be held at Butterfield & Butterfield's Los Angeles Gallery

The James E. Haldan, of Glenbrook, Nevada, Collection is highlighted by an extensive and impressive run of United States Gold Coinage. There are more than five hundred (500) coins, One Dollar through Twenty Dollars, Territorial and California Fractional Gold. Included are many rare date, low mintage issues, especially those coined in Carson City, Nevada; New Orleans, Louisiana; Dahlonega, Georgia; and Charlotte, North Carolina (most in high grade). There is also a nice offering of U.S. Silver Dollars, more than one hundred (100) coins, plus a small but important offering of U.S. Pattern Coins.

Additional Consignments Now Being Accepted

Butterfield-Johnson-Gillio invites you to consign your coins to be included in this multi-million dollar sale. Butterfield-Johnson-Gillio (BJG) is a division of Butterfield & Butterfield (established in 1865). Combining the best features of a regional auction house with the global reach of an international company, Butterfield has grown from its modest origins to its current ranking as one of the top five auction houses in the world and continues to grow through its commitment to exceeding clients' expectations. Butterfield has been selling coins for more than three decades, achieving consistently strong prices and records in the process. A notable success during those years occurred in 1983 with the sale of the finest 1851 Schultz & Co., San Francisco, $5 Gold coin discovered by a beachcomber with a metal detector. The coin sold for a record $49,500! BJG held three sales in 1995 which yielded uniformly impressive auction results with almost 96% of the lots selling and prevailing bids exceeding presale estimates by as much as 40%. "Collector" coins, sought by buyers to complete specific sets, 19th century Morgan Silver Dollars, brilliant uncirculated rolls and early American copper and gold coins have generated competitive bidding, a testament to the quality and rarity of the property.

Ten Million Dollars ($10,000,000.00)++available for immediate cash advances or outright purchase of your collection of U.S. and World Coins, Medals, Paper Money and Stamps, whether you have a few items or complete collection (minimum total value $1,500). WORLD CLASS PHOTOGRAPHY FOR YOUR COINS

If you're like most collectors, you enjoy looking at your coins whenever you can. You like to take them out and examine them. Then, you carefully put them away for safekeeping.

Days, weeks, and maybe even months pass before you find the time to take them out again. Wouldn't it be wonderful if you could leave your coins out in the open without fearing that harm or damage would occur? Wouldn't it be nice to enjoy your coins every day?

Collector's Photo Service was established to help collectors enjoy their collectibles every day. This new company, a division of PCGS Inc., the world's number one coin grading service, makes world class photography available to all collectors for as little as $10 per photograph.

With Collector's Photo Service, you'll get a team of professional photographers to handle your fine collectibles. The photographers with the Collector's Photo Service have photographed some of the world's most famous coins. Their images have been reproduced in trade publications, corporate newsletters, auction catalogs and advertisements distributed throughout the world.

Collector's Photo Service knows how important your coins are to you. For more information and a price list, please call (800) 447-8848 or return the coupon below.

Mint State Gold Still Up Silver Commems Still Down

Nothing like $400 Gold to bring a smile to the faces of coin dealers — except maybe $500 gold. Actually, that's the way dealers think. You wait and wait and wait for Gold Spot to do anything at all, and then it finally starts to move up — and you can't wait until it moves higher! Well, $400 Spot is definitely better for business (and inventory valuation), which means that $500 Spot would be "more better." Just how important Spot is to numismatic gold is readily apparent from the charts. When Spot moves up $10, you will notice the result on a handful of circulated types. The higher Spot moves, the more coins are directly affected, but the numismatic effects are less direct. When the plus signs start appearing on the Uncirculated coins already bearing substantial numismatic premiums, you know that the results are quickly passing through.

Most interesting is the concentration of advances around the MS62 columns. We know from experience that the MS61-MS64 segment is much stronger than the Gem grades; one could argue that it will take not only a substantial increase in Spot, but the secondary increase in numismatic activity/demand to move the Gem Bids upwards. Still, we failed to get a satisfactory explanation from dealers regarding MS62 vs. MS63 as the center of attention. One dealer offered his succinct reason for the strength of MS62s: "Because that is where the Bids increased." There just may be some solid truth in that statement. We have a dealer friend who answers such inquiries with the even terser "Because," an answer useful in explaining many numismatic mysteries!

With all the good news about gold, it seems discouraging that the Silver Commemoratives are acting as an anchor on any market rally. This week's trading activity produced three times as many minus signs as advances — which somewhat dulls the 'good news' that two dozen issues advanced! Most of last week's declines were in the Gem grades, while this week's lowered Bids can be found across the charts. Commemorative specialists may take some consolation in the steady market for the Gold Commems this week. Also, it behooves us to mention that some dealers are reporting that they are continuing to sell quality Commems at (or even above) the old Bid levels to both their wholesale and retail customers. This may yet end up as an unfortunate combination of sight-unseen demand declining because of quality concerns, intersecting with other dealers 'blowing off' inventory. Even so, in a market without sufficient support, one major selling dealer can really motivate Bidders to 'back off' on their Bids until the market settles down. One thing is for sure — if you find a coin you like at the new low price, it's easier to consider this opportunity. You can bet that a lot of dealers will be prowling the bourse at Long Beach, looking to 'beat up' other dealers with the lowered Bid levels.

Several Buffalo Nickels are up this week, with a strong showing in the 'middle dates' (late 'Teens and early 'Twenties). The Buffs were a little weak in the second half of 1995 (although they still managed to turn in a positive year). Plus signs began to appear in early January, but dealers are waiting for better clues before making any predictions. Actually, attention is turned so solidly to Gold (for good reasons) and to Commems (for defensive reasons) that the Buffs are a bit of an afterthought. Dealers are naturally glad to find plus signs wherever they can, but frankly, most dealers are more concerned with the Walking Liberty Halves. Among the specialty series that we cover in the weekly Bluesheet, the majority of dealers would rank Walkers ahead of Buffaloes. That is not to say that there aren't plenty of dedicated collectors of Buffaloes, but merely to affirm that Walkers lead in terms of market importance, numbers of dealers making a market, and numbers of coins and collectors.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDN may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDN uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

Certification does not guarantee protection against the normal risks associated with potentially volatile markets.
Client or sight-seen sales may command a substantial premium above Bluesheet Dealer-to-Dealer Bids.

COMMEMORATIVES

Some bids within represent very conservative sight-unseen buy prices on the part of the highest visible bidder. In these cases, a more accurate reflection of a coin's true value may be found in the CDN, albeit, on a sight basis.

MARKET LISTINGS

MARKET columns reflect the latest dealer-to-dealer selling prices seen in the market, based on monitoring Low Asks or Last Trades from wholesale trading networks and other sources of wholesale transactions. Auction prices realized or retail trading information are used to adjust prices for infrequently traded issues. The Publisher warrants that it has exercised due diligence; presently, there is no practicable method of following all wholesale postings or transactions. Readers should be aware that there is no implied guaranty or belief that the prices listed are actually representative of the current market value of any coin; listing does not guarantee that such a coin is now available for purchase, or that it was actually available at the time the Market price was posted. Due to the volatile nature of the market, current values may be greater or less than the market price listed. A higher grade coin might display a lower Market level than a lower grade specimen, due to limited sell information. Listing Policy: During the thirty days prior to publication, we track the lowest sales-related price in the marketplace. Last Trade information normally takes precedence over Low Asks, except when a lower Ask is posted during the last week before publication. We delete stagnant Market prices which are lower than current Bid. Since the timeliness of the information is important, we use the following timing symbols: "w" – Lowest asking price during the week prior to publication (week old); "m" – Lowest asking price during the previous three weeks (month old); "t" – Trade during the most recent month; "lm" – Lowest asking price appearing last month; "lt" Trade appearing last month; "ot" Trade older than 2 months; " " a blank, for all Market prices older than two months; "a" for auction transactions; "oa" – auction older than 1 month

COMMEMORATIVES

Some bids within represent very conservative sight-unseen buy prices on the part of the highest visible bidder. In these cases, a more accurate reflection of a coin's true value may be found in the CDN, albeit on a sight basis.

PCGS Celebrates 10th Anniversary Pryor-Shahbajian Auctions Start LB Festivities

The Professional Coin Grading Service, known throughout the numismatic world by its now-famous initials PCGS, is celebrating its tenth Anniversary this week. And what a decade it has been. Over 4.2 million coins certified, with a declared value edging close to $6 billion, submitted through a worldwide network of more than 800 dealers. That's billion, folks! The founders of PCGS could rightly claim to have brought to the coin market the benefits of their vision of the need for third-party grading. They would be right, of course, but as CEO David Hall freely admits: "In the beginning, we truthfully didn't have any idea how big PCGS would become. We expected to receive a few thousand high-grade coins each month from specialist dealers. The very first month in operation, we received 18,000 coins, and the demand since then has been nothing less than staggering. It just goes to show how pure the concept of third-party grading is." Four million-plus submissions would seem to be very convincing evidence of the demand for this important service. Congratulations, PCGS!

Auctions by Bowers and Merena started off the Long Beach Auction activities with their pair of sales. The James Bennett Pryor Collection of Half Dollars, held on January 25, realized $1,971,750; the second catalogue, the Set Shahbajian, M.D. Collection held on January 26, realized $1,922,936. The Pryor catalogue, consisting entirely of Half Dollars, will long be remembered by specialists for the high quality of these truly magnificent coins. Among the highlights.

B&M Pryor Sale	Certified Grade	Price Realized
1806 50¢, Pt 6/Stem	PCGS64	$33,000
1836 50¢, Reeded Edge	PCGS64	$36,300
1838-O 50¢	PCGS Pr63	$104,500

Pattern Halves from the Pryor Collection also attracted significant attention. A trio of Walking Liberty Patterns from 1916 (J-1797 in Pr63; J-1798 in Pr61; J-1799 in Pr64) realized $20,900 each. An 1864 J-393 Half in Aluminum, in Pr67, topped out at $10,175.

The Set Shahbajian, M.D. Collection covered a broader range of denominations, to be sure, but the coins were purchased with the same loving attention paid to quality and rarity - and the results showed when the time finally came to sell. Among the Shahbajian Gold highlights:

B&M Shahbajian Sale	Certified Grade	Price Realized
1865 $2.50	NGC Pr63	$16,500
1854 $3	PCGS64	$6,325
1807 $5	NGC62	$9,350

Butterfield•Johnson•Gillio concluded their January 30 Auction of United States and World Coins, Medals & Banknotes, with total Prices Realized reaching $847,352. Among the highlights:

B•J•G Sale	Certified Grade	Price Realized
1844 $1	PCGS Pr62	$20,900
1851 $1, Original	PCGS63	$35,750
1852 $1, Restrike	PCGS Pr63	$24,750

Superior hosted 3 sales to an enthusiastic crowd of buyers. The Robinson S. Brown Jr. Collection of Large Cents, 1793-1839, the most complete variety set ever auctioned, realized $1,982,860. The Piedmont Sale, held Jan. 29, brought $2,998,671.

Piedmont Sale	Certified Grade	Price Realized
1918-S 25¢, 8/7	PCGS64	$28,600
1838-C $2.50	NGC63	$26,400
1854-D $3	PCGS61	$72,600

Results from Superior's third offering, the Keston Collection, were reported at $3,060,091 (bringing the 3 sale total over $8 million!), including a Pan-Pac Set at $121,000!

Keston Sale	Certified Grade	Price Realized
1804 $2.50, 13*	PCGS40	$63,250
1875 $3	PCGS Pr64	$82,500
1828 $5, 8/7	PCGS55	$137,500

The strength of the market has been demonstrated on the auction scene, and rising Gold Spot seems to be inspiring increased retail activity. After the low-price activity at a recent auction, some of the Silver Commems are bouncing back!

✓ 6-DAY SERVICE

*Tells why more people
are turning to P C I*

☐ PCI accepts direct submittals from the general public, collectors and dealers. There are no minimum or maximum submittal requirements.

☐ PCI recognizes that all coins are not "generic." We grade, authenticate, verify and list attributes for errors and varieties such as 5, 5+, & 6 steps for Jefferson nickels, DM (deep mirror), DMPL (deep mirror proof like) for Morgan dollars, and we apply our exclusive attribute PQ (premium quality) to those coins that qualify.

☐ PCI provides our original "Red Label" capsule for "problem" coins, and assigns the grade right on the label (exceptions are: altered, counterfeits, etc.)

☐ PCI offers the most affordable rates of any "third party grading service" — and we provide the fastest turnaround time of any grading service . . . for the applicable fee of $7⁵⁰ per coin, plus postage and insurance.

☐ PCI excels at providing the highest quality customer service. We will go the extra mile to meet the needs of our customers, and our service is backed by our guarantees!

☐ As a special bonus — PCI provides a FREE storage box when twenty (20) coins are submitted. ($5 charge for storage box on orders containing less than 20.)

After our 6th year of new and innovative ideas and technology in setting the pace for 3rd party grading, we at PCI have come to rely upon business practices that you can consistently count on. Your coins will be accepted, authenticated, and graded at the lowest rate and the fastest turnaround time of any service . . . guaranteed!!

Gold Still Over $400 Specialty Series Steady

Certified U.S. Gold was in strong demand at the Long Beach Coin Show, thanks to a rising bullion market. Analysts seem to be in agreement (a scary thought in itself!) that Spot is rising due to the buying of gold-mining stocks by mutual funds, while the mining companies themselves have cut back on forward sales. If these underlying supply/demand forces continue, this could be another coin rally inspired by Wall Street! Astounding! Whatever the driving motivation, dealers are ever-so-thankful for the activity — and judging from their attendance and buying at Long Beach, so are the collectors.

We've remarked upon the importance of Gold Spot to coin dealers many times in both the Greysheet and the Bluesheet, but we had to make the rounds of dealers to see if any could recall Spot movements translating into advances on Mint State Gold quite so quickly. This was not a rally that built slowly on advances in VG-XF 'bullion' gold — you know, the kinds of advances seen on the 'left-most' columns in the Greysheet. This was not a rally that consolidated in the lower grades, and then blossomed into the higher grades. No, nearly from the start, the higher-grade coins have been moving as well as the circs. In this week's Bluesheet, the Mint Gold coins are showing 77 advances to only 2 declines; two-thirds of the advances are found in the grades of MS61-MS63, but that still leaves plenty of advances in the MS64-and-up grades. To this point, we haven't seen any advances in MS67s, but according to most dealers, it would take quite a sustained rally in Spot to move these numismatic masterpieces! We also have yet to see any increased demand on the Early Gold Types, although better-dates continue to enjoy the sustained demand evident over recent years.

In last week's Bluesheet, we presented some of the highlights from the 'Long Beach' auction sales. Heritage presented one of their acclaimed Bullet Sales as the official Long Beach auction, which again meant that it was also the last sale to be auctioned. Heritage reported preaudited Prices Realized of $917,422. While the Bullet sales have proven to be particularly adept at moving coins valued below $1,000, some 'bigger-ticket' items sell as well. Among the Heritage highlights:

Heritage Bullet Sale	Certified Grade	Price Realized
1822 Bust Dime	NGC64	$14,080
1889-CC $1	PCGS61	$8,140
1879-O $20	PCGS53	$8,184
1914 $20	NGC Pr65	$25,850
1915-S Pan-Pac $50 Round	NGC64	$39,600

Adding up all the reported Prices Realized, the auctions held by Bowers and Merena, Butterfield•Johnson•Gillio, Superior, and Heritage hammered down more than $13 million in rare coins to new owners. With this many lots available, dealers were busy filling Want Lists, and dealers buying for their own accounts had plenty of fresh material for the Bourse.

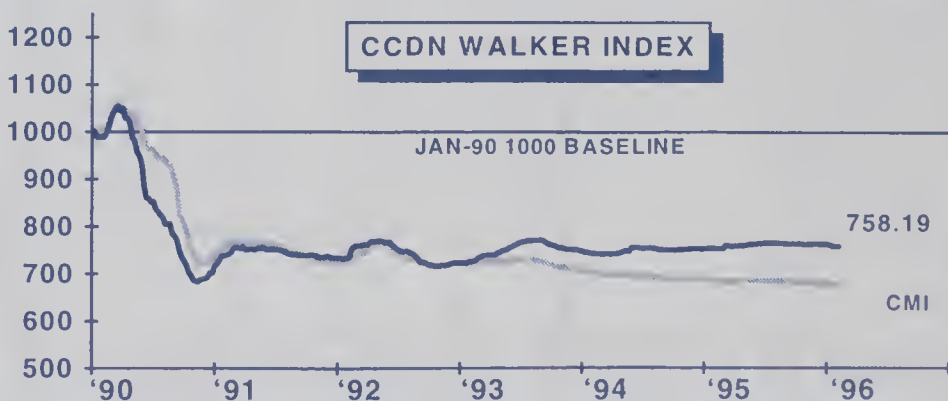

Bidding activity on the specialty series also showed dealers in an optimistic mood this week. Bids are rising on selective demand, as dealers push to fill Want Lists at current levels; the quiet consensus is that prices will continue to rise, and now is the time to buy nice coins when available. Quibbling over a few dollars on a wholesale transaction doesn't seem to be wise when expectations are that the coins will be even more expensive next week! That translates into 'stretch time.'

In the specialty series, plus signs followed no pattern. Buffalo Nickels turned in another rousing performance, with advances on the early dates in MS63 & MS64. Mercury Dimes were steady, with some later dates in NGC67 Full Bands climbing. Walking Liberty Halves were even steadier, with a handful of advances in the later dates. Morgan Dollars added to Bid on some four-dozen issues, but spread from MS61 through MS67, the evidence is mostly hidden. Peace Dollars were steady, as were Mint State Type and Proof Type, although sharp-eyed readers will notice selected and scattered declines balancing advances. Silver Commems continued their downward slide (notably in the higher grades), although even here 97% of the Bids remained steady.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDN may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDN uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

PROOFLIKE MORGAN DOLLARS

P/L Dollars may be semi-reflective (on one or both sides) with less reflectivity than the deep-mirror Prooflikes. Bids for P/L's are usually much lower than for DMPL's, but command some premium over non-P/L strikes.

The Tenth Anniversary of the solution... or how One Fairy Tale Came True

As PCGS celebrates its 10 Year Anniversary, the story of how PCGS began may sound like a fairy tale.

But those who are familiar with the rare coin market before 1986 can tell you this story is very real.

10 Years as the Standard for the Rare Coin Industry

ONCE UPON A TIME, FOUR PROFESSIONAL NUMISMATISTS MET IN A CRAMPED HOTEL ROOM AFTER ANOTHER LONG DAY AT A COIN CONVENTION.

"Wouldn't it be great if almost every dealer and collector could agree rather than disagree about grading," Gordon said. "Imagine spending your time doing business rather than bickering."

"That is a fairy tale, indeed," said J.D., "but while we're in fantasy land how would you like to find some way where you didn't have to look at every coin three times to make certain it hadn't been repaired or recolored? It's especially tough in coin show lights."

"You might as well ask that someone come along and give you a lifetime guarantee of grade and authenticity," Bruce quipped.

"Yeah, well how about this one," Gordon said, "how about a holder that doesn't cause that green stuff to start creeping all over the coin. A lot of coins feel like they're made out of used chewing gum or something they're so sticky with that stuff."

"Wait," said J. D., warming to the fantasy, "how about a network of over 500 dealers where you could buy and sell coins sight unseen if necessary. Imagine those bid and ask prices really meaning something."

"The next thing you're going to say is that someone devises a Customer Bill of Rights and consumer protection reaches an all-time high," Bruce said, less cynical now.

"You know," David said, "this gives me an idea. Let's order some room service and talk about it."

And the rest, as they say, is history.

In an effort to meet the needs of the numismatic community, these experts created the Professional Coin Grading Service (PCGS) and the rare coin industry was changed...forever.

The Rare Coin Revolution

When PCGS opened its doors for business on February 3, 1986, it became the first third party grading service of its kind.

Within the first hour, the first coin was graded and encapsulated in a protective, tamper-evident holder invented by PCGS. The Rare Coin Revolution had begun.

A Decade of Customer Satisfaction

Today, thanks to your overwhelming acceptance and support, PCGS is celebrating its 10th anniversary. To date, PCGS has graded 4,222,980 coins with a declared value of $5,792,106,755. A network of 865 authorized dealers supports the PCGS concept.

But sheer numbers don't tell the whole story. More dealers, collectors, and investors buy and sell PCGS-graded coins for a reason.

The PCGS Advantage

Precision third party grading, the PCGS Guarantee of Grade and Authenticity, and consumer protection are some of the advantages that have made PCGS the grading service of choice for the majority of the marketplace.

Since PCGS upholds the highest quality standards in the industry, our clients are assured of grading integrity that they can bank on, coin after coin and year after year.

The Sincerest Form of Flattery

From the beginning, PCGS found immediate success in creating a level playing field where consumers could participate in the coin market with new confidence. PCGS was so successful that other grading services soon began patterning themselves after the PCGS concept. But none can offer the overall value inherent in the PCGS product.

Thanks to You

Saints Soar, Gold Mixed What a Market!

Take most of what you've come to expect from the 1996 coin market, and prepare to be surprised again. As Gold Spot climbed, the rise inspired a mini-rally in coins (especially in Gold Type). The rally in numismatic coins happened quicker than expected for a 'trickle-through' effect, but who's going to argue with the reality of a hot market? When the gold producers reversed their earlier decision and began to sell into the future market again, Spot drifted back into the $400 range. Some of the earlier enthusiasm, however, can still be seen on the charts.

Mint State Gold Type may be mixed, but the Saints produced enough advances to bring the CMI positive; it looks like we have to dust off our "North of Steady" headline. Despite Gold's indecisiveness, the Saint-Gaudens $20s turned in an amazing performance, covering the chart with Plus signs! Gold enthusiasm focused on the Saints, and especially below MS65. Increases in generic Bids combined with advances on better-dates to produce an overall display of strength that hasn't been seen in the marketplace for too many years.

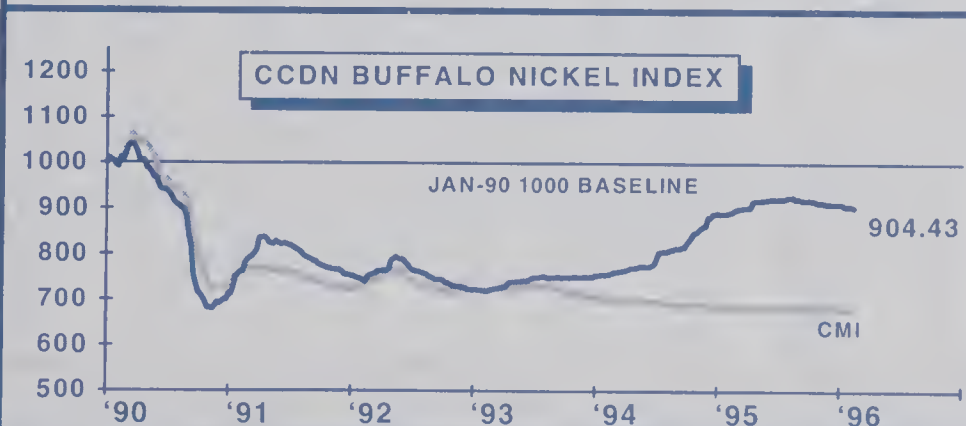

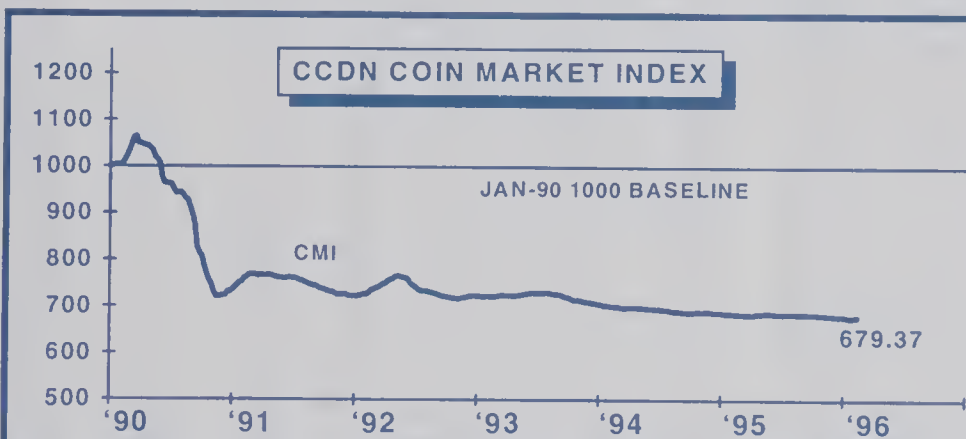

The Plus signs inspired us to look at some individual Saints. Two issues in particular caught our eye, as both produced advances exceeding 100% since 1990 — and yet neither could be called 'absolute winners.' Note how differently the growth in Bids for the 1921 and 1922-S Saints occurred over the last six years (Bids average PCGS & NGC):

	1921 JAN-90	1921 FEB-96	1921 Change	1922-S JAN-90	1922-S FEB-96	1922-S Change
MS61	$12,250	$25,000	+ 104%	$925	$620	- 33%
MS62	$15,750	$35,000	+ 123%	$1,350	$718	- 47%
MS63	$27,250	$50,000	+ 84%	$4,500	$1,100	- 75%
MS64	$44,500	$75,000	+ 69%	$6,800	$3,500	- 48%
MS65	$72,500	$110,000	+ 52%	$10,750	$28,000	+ 160%
MS66	$130,000	$125,000	- 4%	$20,000	$32,500	+ 63%
MS67	$187,500	$170,000	- 9%	$35,000	$39,000	+ 11%

Was the 1921 Saint a big winner? You bet, with MS62s advancing 123% and MS61s climbing 104%, but the MS66 and MS67 coins both slipped. How about the 1922-S? It was a big winner in MS65, increasing 160%, but also a big loser in MS63 with a 75% decline. Incredible, and a worthy illustration of how maddening it can be to generalize about this market, and the critical need to know your material and the market. Particular dates will turn in very different results according to grade, and vary in turn from other coins in the series.

The uncertainty over Spot Gold spilled over into Mint State Gold Type, which turned in a mixed performance. The declines can be found from MS61 all the way to the MS66 columns; actually, there were more declines on MS62 Types than MS61s, so in true numismatic fashion, we can't even generalize about Spot declines hitting the lowest-grade coins first! As my pragmatist cohort would say, much to the annoyance of his remaining friends, "More MS62 coins are down than MS61 coins because more are worth less." There just might be real numismatic truth in that: For whatever reasons — and nobody ever said that human actions had to follow good reasons — demand for more MS62 Types declined than in the other grades. We probably also need to come up with a rationale for why the MS62 Gold Types in this week's Bluesheet also showed more advances than the other grades! MS62s were really active this week, both up and down!

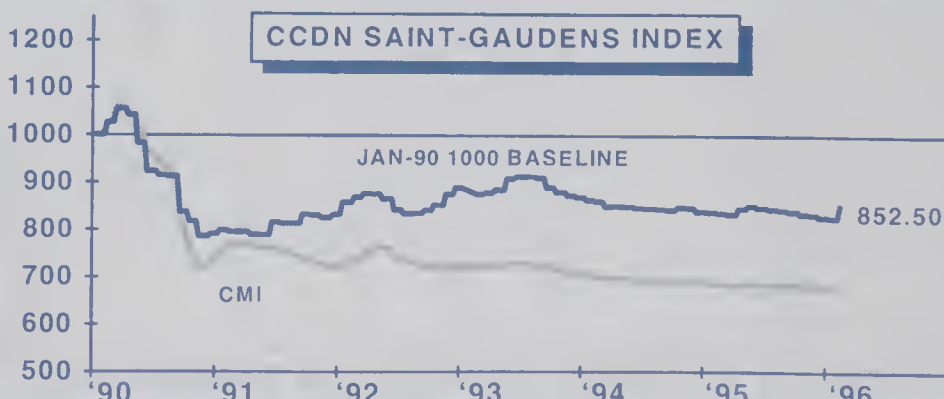

Looking at the remaining charts in this Bluesheet, the discounted sells continue to visually outnumber the advances. What doesn't show is that Bidding activity is still stronger than in late 1995. The strength is found at (or just beneath) current levels, and mainly below the MS/Pr65 grades. This market is stronger for the "bread-and-butter coins," and weaker for the Gems. Dealers are usually more willing to stretch for Gems and rarer coins; with Gem demand off, so is much of the willingness to 'step out' in advance of current sight-unseen levels. At recent Shows, dealers with Want Lists were spending a few extra 'sight-seen' bucks to fill that demand, but by definition this focused on selected issues.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDn may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDn uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers — are strictly the responsibility of the dealers — and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDn does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

Market Steady As She Goes Traders Content At Current Levels

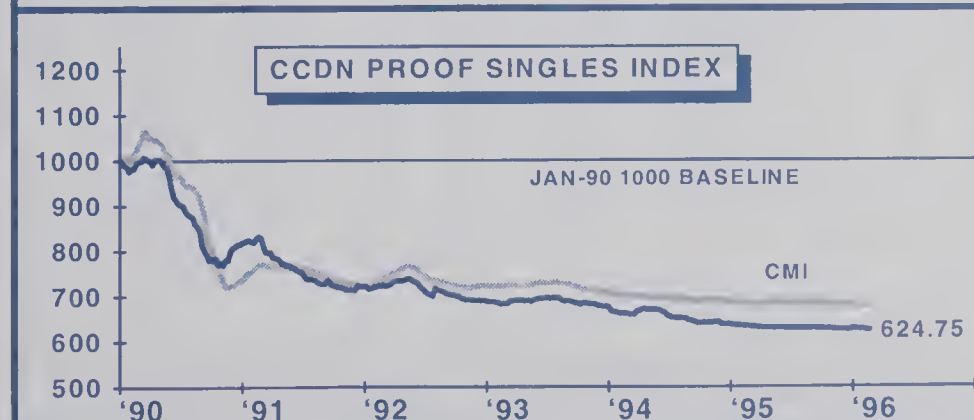

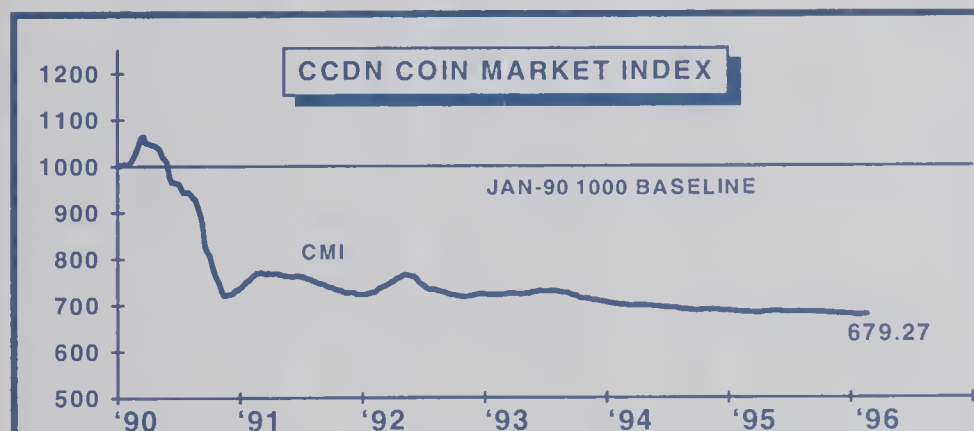

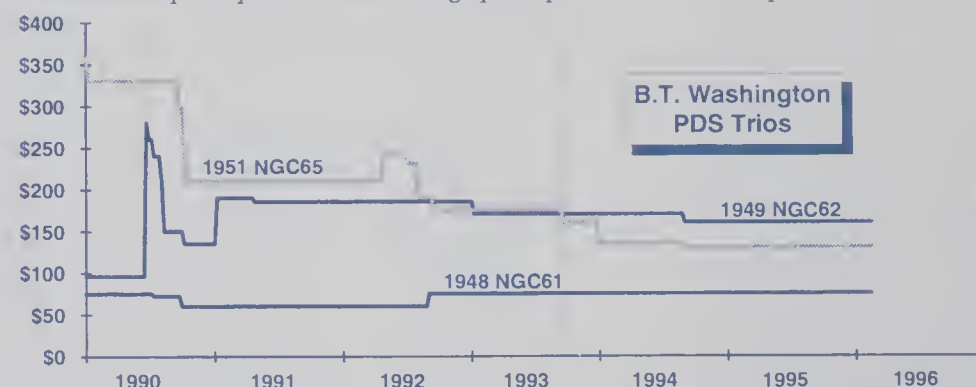

Over the years, dealers have reaffirmed the value of the plus and minus signs that we post in our publications; with their livelihoods at stake, dealers need to quickly see which issues are changing so they can adjust their buying and selling prices. These movements also give dealers a quick fix on market direction, although with generics, a $1 change in Bid can produce a large number of signs on some charts which don't have much of a direct impact on the market. The psychological impact of large numbers of plus or minus signs can be something else, however. The recent climb of Spot Gold, which triggered many pluses, reminded us of the euphoria produced by week-after-week of advances during the late 'Eighties. Numismatists are not naturally contrarians, so continual plus signs produce tremendous buying activity; we saw activity jump even during this quick rally.

With Spot Gold 'steady' for the moment, the number (and direction) of changes has returned to more typical levels. In this steady market, small numbers of changes in Bid levels are simply not as significant as the steady Bidding — and trading — which is taking place at current levels. The Silver Commemorative chart may have produced 9 plus signs and 12 minus signs in this Bluesheet, but the real story is that 99% of the Silver Commem Bids are steady, and that coins are changing hands at these levels. Longer-term trends are tracked in our CMI indices. The Silver Commem CMI reflects the quiet liquidation that has characterized the coin market over the last five years, but that is a reality that all dealers already know about. We merely reflect dealer's actions, and you know that your profits in Commems have been less than preferable. Even with the CMI sliding due to occasional discounted selling, it is difficult to make generalizations.

Even within a chart, it can be difficult to generalize; some grades will advance, some decline. Or, differences might reflect early dates versus later issues. It can even be difficult to generalize within a Type, as the graph for Booker T. Washington PDS trios illustrates. We selected these issues from the NGC side, but be assured the same results hold for PCGS coins. The 1949 B.T.W. PDS trio in NGC62 advanced from $96 in Jan. 1990 to this week's $160 level, posting a 67% increase and conclusively demonstrating that good profits can be made in Silver Commems. The 1951 B.T.W. PDS trio in NGC65 declined from 1990's $360 Bid to today's $130 level, posting a 64% decrease and conclusively demonstrating that losses can be suffered in Silver Commems. The 1948 B.T.W. trio in NGC 61 started 1990 at the $75 level, and after minor adjustments, remains there, conclusively demonstrating market stability in Silver Commems. The graph also reinforces the stability of the market since 1994.

With today's mixed market made up of mixed charts made up of mixed coins, outguessing the market seems difficult. Collectors need to buy coins at prices they like when encountered; in a long-term collection, purchasing nice coins is more important to eventual profitability than small differences in buying prices. Dealers might encourage their customers to incline towards reasonable quality when balancing quality and affordability.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services determined through careful study of market activity including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices. The CCDn may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDn uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDn does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

Some bids within represent very conservative sight-unseen buy prices on the part of the highest visible bidder.
In these cases, a more accurate reflection of a coin's true value may be found in the CDN, albeit, on a sight basis.

MARKET LISTINGS

MARKET columns reflect the latest dealer-to-dealer selling prices seen in the market, based on monitoring Low Asks or Last Trades from wholesale trading networks, sell lists, coin shows, and other sources of wholesale transactions. Auction prices realized or retail trading information are used to adjust prices for infrequently traded issues. The Publisher warrants that it has exercised due diligence; presently, there is no practicable method of following all wholesale postings or transactions. Readers should be aware that there is no implied guaranty or belief that the prices listed are actually representative of the current market value of any coin; listing does not guarantee that such a coin is now available for purchase, or that it was actually available at the time the Market price was posted. Due to the volatile nature of the market, current values may be greater or less than the market price listed. A higher grade coin might display a lower Market level than a lower grade specimen, due to limited sell information. Listing Policy: During the thirty days prior to publication, we track the lowest sales-related price in the marketplace. Last Trade information normally takes precedence over Low Asks, except when a lower Ask is posted during the last week before publication. We delete stagnant Market prices which are lower than current Bid. Since the timeliness of the information is important, we use the following timing symbols: "w" – Lowest asking price during the week prior to publication (week old); "m" – Lowest asking price during the previous three weeks (month old); "t" – Trade during the most recent month; "lm" – Lowest asking price appearing last month; "lt" Trade appearing last month; "ot" Trade older than 2 months; " " a blank, for all Market prices older than two months; "a" for auction transactions; "oa" – auction older than 1 month.

COMMEMORATIVES

Some bids within represent very conservative sight-unseen buy prices on the part of the highest visible bidder. In these cases, a more accurate reflection of a coin's true value may be found in the CDN, albeit, on a sight basis.

WHO IS THE KING OF CASH AND WHAT CAN THEY DO FOR YOU?

Spectrum Numismatics was formed in 1991, with a unique vision and a unique financial position. Like most other coin companies, Spectrum Numismatics has a small group of employees - 6; but there's one way that Spectrum is unlike any other company in the coin business. The difference is that cash is never a problem for Spectrum. In fact, Spectrum Numismatics may be the best capitalized rare coin company in the history of numismatics. Spectrum is king of cash.

Since 1991, the Spectrum strategy has been very simple. Spectrum felt it could grow its business and increase its market share by taking advantage of its cash resources to always pay the most for rare coin deals that made sense. All it would take to implement this strategy would be world class rare coin knowledge and a ton of cash. Spectrum has both and because of it, Spectrum is becoming the biggest buyer of rare coins in the world.

Who is Spectrum Numismatics? Spectrum Numismatics is world class rare coin experts, unlimited cash resources, and highly efficient staff. The money man behind Spectrum is a name that is known by all in the financial circles of this country, but for purposes of the coin business, it's a name that by choice will remain anonymous.

The president and top rare coin expert behind Spectrum Numismatics is Greg Roberts. Although only 34 years old, Greg has been a major player on the national coin circuit for the past fifteen years. Since that time, Greg has personally purchased $213,285,000 in rare coins. In the process, he has handled virtually every coin in the book. The other world class experts on Spectrum's team combine more than 26 years of experience and over $85,264,000 in purchases of coins.

In just five short years, Spectrum has become the major buyer of ultra rare United States coins. But more than that, Spectrum has become perhaps the largest buyer of all rare coins in all price ranges. Let's talk about major rarities first. Here's a partial list of coins that Spectrum Numismatics has bought at public auction. In other words, this is a list of coins which Spectrum outbid every major United States coin dealer:

Coin	Grade	Date Purchased	Purchase Price
1894-S Barber 10c	Prf-64	Aug. 1992	$165,000
1913 Liberty 5c	Prf-64	Oct. 13, 1993	962,500
King of Siam Proof Set	Gem Proof	Feb. 2, 1993	1,815,000
1848-O $10 Liberty	MS-66	Nov. 1994	154,000
1876-CC 20c	MS-65	Feb. 1995	99,000
1796 $2½ No Stars	MS-65	Nov. 1995	605,000

WHAT'S IN IT FOR YOU?

Not everyone owns a 1913 Liberty Nickel or an 1804 Silver Dollar. In fact, the odds are that you don't own one of those great rarities. But if you're reading this ad, then there is a high probability that you do own some rare coins. You may have some Uncirculated silver dollars, some Uncirculated United States gold coins, some silver commemoratives, some type coins, some rolls of Mercury Dimes or Walking Liberty Halves and maybe even some rarer coins.

If you do, then you should know that Spectrum is the major buyer of that type of material, too. In fact, 91% of all the coins Spectrum purchases, are coins priced under $5,000, and 18% of all the coins that Spectrum purchases, are coins priced under $200 per coin! And you should know that if you have rare coins for sale, Spectrum wants to buy your coins and will probably pay you more than any other coin dealer in the world for your coins.

HOW TO CASH IN

If you've decided that you want to trade all or some of your coins for cash, you should know that it's really easy to do business with Spectrum. If you have rare coins for sale, and you want to sell them for as much money as possible, then all you have to do is pick up the phone any weekday between 9:00 am and 5:00 pm California time and call the Spectrum cash line collect (714) 955-1250. Ask for Greg or Thad or Kerry and tell them you have coins for sale. Tell them you want to talk to the king of cash.

Morgans, Peace, Silver Commems Surge Market Steady - Plus Some Welcome Juice

There are some weeks where market Bid levels are 98% steady, but the few changes are weighted towards the discounted selling; we then spend much of our commentary talking about the 'mostly steady' market (true enough) having an unfortunate negative spin created by the minus signs (too true). Well, this week we celebrate a turn about! This week's Bluesheet is 96% steady, but the clear majority of changes are plus signs! Yes, plus signs!

We'll still repeat some of our exhortations about the importance of a 'mostly steady' market. Dealers will each have their own opinions, but active collectors seem to overwhelmingly prefer a steady market with a small number of changes, and the clear majority of those on the plus side. A steady market with no changes seems a little too stagnant, with too little excitement to keep collectors excited enough to buy now rather than later. I prefer to see the normal advances and declines that numismatists associate with a "healthy" market, with constant but minor adjustments in prices as dealers match inventory against desired levels and collector demand. Markets that are nearly all plus or minus signs make me apprehensive; minus signs naturally because I like to see both dealers and collectors own appreciating coins. A market with all plus signs is exhilarating, to be sure, and you'll find collectors and dealers happily excited about it, but the joy must be tempered with the expectation that up-markets never last forever. Of course, we are starting to wonder if the same holds true for 'steady markets!'

Anyway, we have a healthy mix of changes in this week's Bluesheet, with advances outgunning declines three-to-one. And we like to see the advances where they fell! Morgan Dollars and Peace Dollars (to a slightly lesser degree), have been looking very strong in recent weeks, as we have noted previously. This strength actually started before Gold's mini-rally, and is outlasting it as well! This strength is most vividly demonstrated on the MS60-MS64 grades, at — or just beneath — current levels. Accordingly, it produces no plus signs, but it does prevent discounting, so at least that is very positive! Bidding on the MS65 and higher grades had been thinner, with occasional discounting driving down Bid levels. Well, this week the MS65 Morgans enjoyed some very specific demand, and it produced many plus signs; in fact, indications are that the demand has even more room to run if not met through transactions. One dealer with one serious Want List can be very visible in a steady market; just think of the 'damage' that could be done to our plus-sign inventory if a dozen dealers began bidding so actively!

We are pleasantly surprised to see a major surge in Bidding on Silver Commemoratives, for all of the reasons enumerated over recent months. The news on Silver Commems has mainly been somewhere between unhappy and dismal; the minus signs were too frequent, and too severe, to really call their market "steady." Yes, for far too long, the only good news in Silver Commems were that collectors were still buying - just at reduced prices. Then along comes a week like this where the Bid levels are still 955 steady, but nearly all the changes are advances. Keep them coming! And while the numbers weren't as dramatic, Gold Commems advanced nicely too.

Buffalo Nickels and Mercury Dimes both turned in a solid week, with Walkers almost entirely unchanged. Mint State Type was steady with balanced changes, while Proof Type and Proof Gold Type virtually unchanged. The only negative in this week's market came with Mint State Gold Type, our "star" over the last month! All those minus signs are downright depressing - just imagine if Gold had advanced to match the market leaders! Wow, wouldn't that have been a sight! Maybe next week...

The PCGS Population Report lists the grades for all coins that have been graded by PCGS. Since PCGS has graded 4,222,980 coins in the past 10 years, the PCGS Population Report is, statistically, the most relevant research guide in the numismatic world. The PCGS Population Report helps you determine a coin's rarity, one of the major components of a coin's value. That's why professional coin dealers constantly refer to the PCGS Population Report. It is one of the professional coin traders' most important tools.

Valuable Information For All Coin Buyers

Morgan Dollars - The Most Popular United States Coin

When we decided to give away a free coin as part of this experimental PCGS Population Report offer, we felt we should use the most significant coin possible. Our choice was easy. It's been estimated that more people collect Morgan dollars than any other United States coin series. It's an important coin and a PCGS graded MS64 Morgan dollar is a very high quality example. In addition, the price is right (about $40 retail, down from a 1986 wholesale high bid of $400). We thought the PCGS graded MS64 Morgan dollar was the best coin we could offer.

To Sweeten The Deal...

How about a 100% MONEY-BACK GUARANTEE? As always, PCGS is never happy until you're happy.

Therefore, we are going to offer you a 100% MONEY-BACK GUARANTEE on your subscription to the PCGS Population Report. If, at any time, you're unhappy with the PCGS Population Report, simply send back the MS64 Morgan dollar and we'll issue an immediate refund for the unused portion of your subscription.

Market Holding At Current Levels Upcoming Auctions Offer Treats

The mini-rally of early-1996 has pretty much sputtered to a stop. As Gold Spot retreated, so did all the momentum from U.S. Gold that was pulling along other series. What looked to be developing into a broadly-based market rally has now returned to our more typical pattern of selected demand on individual charts, or even on segments of individual charts. We are also seeing some signs of sight-unseen Bidding in the Bluesheet lagging behind increasing Bid activity on the sight-seen Bids in the Greysheet.

One notable area where sight-seen Bids are strengthening is on the Silver Commemoratives. The Greysheet chart has contained plus signs for a few weeks, while the Silver Commems in the Bluesheet are turning in a much more balanced performance. Ultimate buyers want to inspect their coins before purchase, which means that the most successful dealers do likewise; after all, the point of a customer's Want list is not to add coins to your inventory!

While the market may not be showing all the 'pizzazz' that it was, there is still plenty of demand for quality coins at current levels. The Early Spring 96 ANA sale, being hosted by Heritage Numismatic Auctions in Tucson next week, has an abundance of quality coins sure to excite dealers and collectors. The sale is especially rich in high-grade Type coins and Gold; we could fill this front page with the Gold highlights, but let's look at some pleasant smaller denomination Type coins for a change of pace: (see inset at left)

The following week, Auctions by Bowers & Merena will be presenting their Collections of Thomas H. Sebring & Gunther P. Garbe Sale in conjunction with the Suburban Washington/Baltimore Convention. While high-grade certified coins can be found throughout the catalogue, the offering of Half Dollars is especially significant:

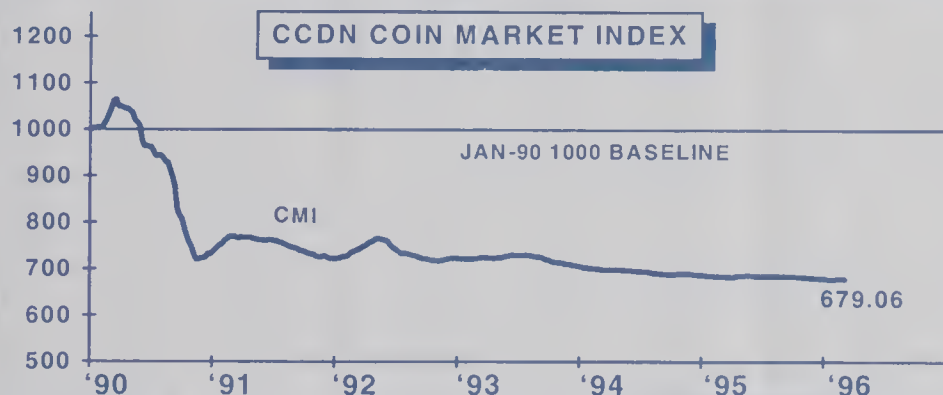

The sale includes dozens more certified Mint State Bust Halves - a most impressive offering! Collectors of later halves will be excited by the 1839 Liberty Seated Half, No Drapery in PCGS55, the 1844-O in PCGS63, and the 1860 in Proof65. Barber Collectors will be avidly chasing the 1892 in PCGS Proof65, the 1893 in PCGS Proof66, the 1895 in PCGS Proof65, the 1902 in PCGS Proof66, and the 1912-S in PCGS MS65 - among other high-grade lots! Walker specialists will be enticed by the 1917 in PCGS MS66 and the 1919-D in NGC64.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDN may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDN uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

Certification does not guarantee protection against the normal risks associated with potentially volatile markets. Client or sight-seen sales may command a substantial premium above Bluesheet Dealer-to-Dealer Bids.

Some bids within represent very conservative sight-unseen buy prices on the part of the highest visible bidder. In these cases, a more accurate reflection of a coin's true value may be found in the CDN, albeit, on a sight basis.

P/L Dollars may be semi-reflective (on one or both sides), with less reflectivity than the deep-mirror Proothikes. Bids for P/L's are usually much lower than for DMPL's, but command some premium over non-P/L strikes.

The gold coins in this chart trade very infrequently. These are the last known Bids.

Bids for Lincoln Cents are for full red specimens in MS64 and higher.

Matte Proof Cent Bids for grades of PR64 and better are for full red cents. PR63 and lower Bids are for Red and Brown cents. See Proof Type Coins page for Type Bids in all colors.

MARKET STRENGTH CONTINUES BUYERS FOCUS ON AUCTIONS & "BIG-TICKETS"

ACTIVITY

... across the market

by Kevin Polley

The collectible paper money market continues to be a bright spot in an otherwise lackluster numismatic marketplace. The November National and World Paper Money Convention in Chicago was a sell-out. The house for Krause Publications' February 24-25 Chicago Paper Money Exposition sold out in early December, and has a waiting list of 15 dealers wanting space. One market barometer seldom commented upon is the relative ease for individuals (convention sponsors have in filling their booth areas. While coin shows have tended to shrink in size over the past five years (some quite considerably), this has not been the case in the paper money area. Not only are established dealers continuing to return, but new entrants are also supporting the paper money specialty events.

Buyers continue to display strong interest in auctions. As mentioned here in the past, it is not unusual for an individual to be reluctant to make a purchase from a dealer in a private transaction. Actually, they pay more for a comparable item at auction because of the inherent subjectivity of grading, and the fact that grading, opinion and values vary widely even among recognized price guides. Many buyers seem to need the assurance of value provided by the auction process. This is the auction assurance of knowing that someone else (the party they are bidding against) shares their opinion of an item's value. That the winning bid of $2,000 reflected a note from someone else who felt it was new enough to be worth $1,000. In a private transaction, without the other buyers present in the auction arena, this additional confirmation of value is lacking. The fear then is that the $2,000 item may only be worth perhaps $1,000 to the next buyer.

This general attitude of buyers who behave quite aggressively at auction and just as timidly in private transactions, has resulted in a "two-tiered" market. The same material, more often than not, will sell for a higher price at auction than in a private transaction. In addition, material offered at auction is far more liquid and typically sells rather than languishing in a display case for an extended period. As a principal in Currency Auctions of America, this is a process I constantly note.

LARGE SIZE TYPE NOTES

This is one of the stronger areas in numismatics and shows every sign of remaining that way. Prices are moving up for all conditions of material, from VG to Gem. In addition, buyers are seeking notes in all price ranges. The most expensive notes, those rare pieces typically selling above $10,000, are especially strong. A whole new group of buyers for this kind of material has become active in the past two to three years. The market here had previously been quite thin, and dealers were often frustrated that an item which ought to be worth more based on its rarity, would sell for a disappointingly low number simply because there were so few bidders for such rarities. That initial barrier has been completely removed today as a growing number of buyers with resources to match their interests have entered the field. They buyers realize that if they find a note, it's one of their competitors such an item may not become as available to them again for years, if ever.

SMALL SIZE TYPE NOTES

Interest here remains in the specialty areas (i.e., serial star notes, rare blocks, master sets). Buyers are attracted by the fact that a lot of study and knowledge can be quite handsomely rewarded. The differences between a rare and common piece can be as simple as a prefix letter on the serial number or a single digit in a block plate number. Students of Small Type will often have greater knowledge of these matters than a selling dealer and may often "cherry pick" a bargain as a result. Prices of type material remain quite stable and can be expected to do so for a long time in large quantities as sold.

FRACTIONAL CURRENCY

The Martin Geringer Collection, the only complete regular issue fractional collection yet formed, is being offered for sale in January's 7th Orlando, Florida, by Currency Auctions of America. The collection contains numerous premium condition and ultra scarce to outright rare pieces. Its sale will redefine current values of fractional currency.

NATIONAL BANK NOTES

I take the large Type market National as attesting a growing body of collectors are not afraid to spend "serious" money to acquire items needed for their collections. The attraction offered by National Bank Notes is the considerable challenge presented by the task of forming a distinguished collection. The surviving population of notes from many banks constitutes only a tiny handful of pieces with some banks still awaiting the appearance of a discovery piece. Despite the rarity, notes on banks that exist in tiny quantities can be typically acquired for no more than a few thousand dollars at most, and in many instances for less than $1,000! These dual factors the challenge of acquisition and relatively low prices in relation to rarity can be expected to continue to stimulate interest in National Bank Notes.

MISCELLANEOUS

Stocks and Bonds, Obsolete Notes and Confederate material continue to enjoy the same strong demand as in the recent past.

AUCTIONS

Buyers will have much to choose from in the coming months. Currency Auctions of America will hold a 2,500+ lot sale in Orlando in January. R.M. Smythe and Company will hold a significant Stock and Bond sale in conjunction with its Lancaster, Pennsylvania, stock and bond convention later that month. Lyn Knight will hold a major sale featuring 25,26 in conjunction with the inaugural 18th Anniversary Paper Money Exposition.

As Gold Goes, So Goes the Market

Sight-Unseen Mini-Rally Slows, for Time Being

Even while it was happening, dealers could be heard saying that it was "too good to last"; and every last one of them was hoping they were wrong. This wasn't pessimism — only a hard case of realism hoping against hope that it could be persuaded into optimism. The coin market finished 1995 in decent shape, and started the New Year off with a solid FUN Show. It only needed a 'shot in the arm' to generate some excitement, and Spot Gold did just that. We've previously explored the reasons for Spot's rise; we only need to repeat that these were events totally outside of the rare coin market, which never-the-less had a major impact on our lives. While dealers knew that those external factors could disappear almost as quickly as they appeared (which they did!), the fact that Spot increases translated into sight-unseen price increases on better-quality Gold gave dealers hope that a Rally was truly being ignited.

Let's take a look at the CMI for the Mint Gold Type chart during 1996. First, let me note that this mini-rally hardly shows on the usual charts printed below; the 'blip' of rising prices becomes nearly invisible against the background of our normal 6-year time frame and 700 point axis. But make the time line just ten weeks and the volatility of the CMI becomes readily apparent. The good news is that at 554.26, the Mint Gold Type CMI is still above the 538.98 found in the first Bluesheet of the year! We may have lost much of the momentum, but we haven't lost all of the gains!

We have noted previously the difficulty of describing the overall coin market, when each chart seems to go its own way on its own time-frame, and even that different grades on each chart behave differently. Dealers know this from experience in this market, but the CMI figures give us the opportunity to investigate in a more detailed fashion. This week's Mint Gold Type CMI, which stands at 554.26 is itself composed of individual CMIs of the different grades and grading services. The average (of PCGS & NGC) CMI by grades follow: MS61-753.56; MS62-705.38; MS63-508.95; MS64-431.10; MS65-468.32; MS66-495.27; MS67-517.46. Clearly, the MS61 & MS62 Mint Gold Type coins have shown the strongest resilience since we began the indices in 1990. Incidentally, this is true not just for Mint Gold Type, but for the entire market (as seen in the specialty charts we print in the first Bluesheet of the month, breaking out the CMI charts by grade).

The greatest declines have been suffered by the MS64 graded Mint Gold Types. Herein lies some real opportunity for salesmanship. A quality piece of MS64 gold is a Gem coin; oh, this may not be a formal definition, but your customers should always be encouraged to use their eyes. Look at a quality MS64 (and by that I am not restricting myself to just 'MS64.9' coins), and you are looking at a Gem coin. These are attractive coins at a fraction of the MS65 prices, at the lowest fraction of the 1990 prices, which themselves were a fraction of the all-time highs. Quality MS64 Gold coins are a bargain compared to the rest of Mint Gold Type, and you are getting quality to boot! According to many dealers, these are coins that should be selling like mad.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDN may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDN uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

MORGAN DOLLARS

PCGS DMPL and NGC DPL Bids are for fully Deep Mirror Prooflike coins. Bids for PCGS PL and NGC PL dollars (semi-prooflike or one-sided PL) will be listed monthly in a supplemental insert. CDN (Greysheet) Bids have always represented fully, deep mirror prooflike specimens.

Early-Spring ANA: Quiet & Steady Time for Inventory Management

The Early Spring ANA Convention, held in Tucson, provided a perfect reflection of this market: not much excitement, to be sure, but a quiet strength underlying the buying and selling of coins. Coins are trading hands at current levels, which confirms that buyers and sellers share agreement on current values. This is a good sign — a necessary sign — for any further strengthening of the market. Collectors are adding to their holdings, and auctions are bringing plenty of fresh material to market.

While the overall market remains steady, dealers continue to be perplexed over Silver Commemoratives. Under the steady grind of years of intermittent discounted selling, the Silver Commems were sliding lower, ever so slowly, but ever so surely. Since the beginning of this year, the Silver Commems have 'come to life' several times; one week they show a lot of demand, the following week discounted sells again. This week, they are up again, with more than four-dozen advances spread across the chart. With this much volatility, dealers are leery of investing heavily in inventory, which means an even greater floating supply hanging over the market. Collectors of these neat coins are finding some exciting purchasing opportunities.

Overall, the market remains steady. Between last week's ANA in Tucson and this week's Washington-Baltimore Show in Baltimore, dealers are transacting much of their business on the bourse. The changes on the Morgan and Peace Dollar charts hardly require more than two hands to count; likewise on the Mint State Type and Proof Type charts. Put another way: these four charts show fewer than three-dozen changes this week. Now that's steady! Mint State Gold, whose volatility has been much discussed in the Greysheet and Bluesheet lately, turned in a balanced performance this week. Steady as she goes. Among the specialty series, Buffalo Nickels and Mercury Dimes were up slightly, while all was quiet with the Walkers. Maybe with Spring in the air and the sap rising, the coin market will get exciting. Maybe.

Heritage Numismatic Auctions hosted two auction sales in Tucson. Their Bullet sale, held March 13, provided Bidders with a broad range of certified material. With an average lot value below $1,000, these auctions truly contain something of interest for every numismatist. The shorter lead time between catalogue preparation and the Sale date means buyers need to be prepared to act quickly, but this is the kind of market that rewards Want Lists backed by a 'willing & able' checkbook.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDn may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDn uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDn does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

MARKET LISTINGS

MARKET columns reflect the latest dealer-to-dealer selling prices seen in the market, based on monitoring Low Asks or Last Trades from wholesale trading networks, sell lists, coin shows and other sources of wholesale transactions. Auction prices realized or retail trading information are used to adjust prices for infrequently traded issues. The Publisher warrants that it has exercised due diligence; presently, there is no practicable method of following all wholesale postings or transactions. Readers should be aware that there is no implied guaranty or belief that the prices listed are actually representative of the current market value of any coin; listing does not guarantee that such a coin is now available for purchase, or that it was actually available at the time the Market price was posted. Due to the volatile nature of the market, current values may be greater or less than the market price listed. A higher grade coin might display a lower Market level than a lower grade specimen, due to limited sell information. Listing Policy: During the thirty days prior to publication, we track the lowest sales-related price in the marketplace. Last Trade information normally takes precedence over Low Asks, except when a lower Ask is posted during the last week before publication. We delete stagnant Market prices which are lower than current Bid. Since the timeliness of the information is important, we use the following timing symbols: "w" - Lowest asking price during the week prior to publication (week old); "m" - Lowest asking price during the previous three weeks (month old); "t" - Trade during the most recent month; "lm" - Lowest asking price appearing last month; "lt" Trade appearing last month; "ot" Trade older than 2 months; " " a blank, for all Market prices older than two months; "a" for auction transactions; "oa" - auction older than 1 month.

There's only one...

There's only one Steve...

There's only one Steve Ivy, and as one of America's most respected numismatists, he is easy to find - on the bourse or at Heritage. But when you need to mail to him as well as the more than 5,000 other numismatists in America, you will quickly discover that

There's only one source...

There's only one source for the most complete, most accurate, and most up-to-date listing of dealers in America, and that's the 1996 Numismatic Dealer Directory. Our current NDD list is available for rental, and at only $325, is well below the price normally charged for specialized lists. When you want to mail to every dealer in the NDD (or just the dealers in California, or the Mid-Atlantic states), you will soon discover that

There's only one practical way to mail...

There's only one practical way to mail to every dealer in the NDD, and that's to buy labels from the source. Why? We know how long it takes to type 5,000+ labels, but even more important, our labels will be up-to-date. We know how many changes occur after the NDD is printed, because we update our database every day! You want your mailing to be delivered, because returned mail generates no profits. And you can choose between First-Class and Third-Class mailing rates. Contact us for details.

YES, I want to order mailing labels averaging 5,000+ names from the 1996 Numismatic Dealer Directory. I understand that my $325 fee entitles me to only one usage of these names. _____ signature
My check for $325 payable to CDN, is enclosed.

Selective Demand Rears Lovely Head

Many Series Enjoy Advances

Quiet strength is OK, really; we know how important it is to provide a solid foundation for current trading and future growth. But, like all dealers, we like to see quiet strength make a little 'noise' now and then. That's good noise, of course; the kind of noise that comes from plus signs hitting the charts. Happy noise, like gold clanking or children laughing. The kind of noise in the market this week: coins trading, collections growing, and profits earning. The positive attitude of dealers was apparent at the Suburban Washington/ Baltimore Convention; lots of activity, with many buyers around current levels, made for a "great show."

When Gold Spot made "a lot of noise" earlier in the year, it certainly got public attention — people beyond the community of coin collectors and dealers. (Speaking of Spot, dealers remain unsure what to think of its return to the $400+ levels; few seem anxious to lock-in additional inventory at 'lower' levels). Because Gold Spot affects more people than the Bid level of a generic MS64, you find Gold's movements in the headlines; quiet strength in the coin market is never going to make such headlines. Still, coins do have interesting stories to tell — surely the history and romance of coins is chock full of stories that the public would find interesting, and that would attract new collectors.

Silver Commemoratives seem determined to give specialist dealers whip-lash, as they surged again this week; advances out-numbered declines more than seven-to-one. Dealers are chasing specific issues on behalf of their customers, but some are also buying for their own accounts at these low levels. Gold Commemoratives also enjoyed a nice sprinkling of plus signs. Mint State Gold is showing a little life, with advances dominating the chart; goodness, even the perennially quiet Proof Gold Type is showing advances!

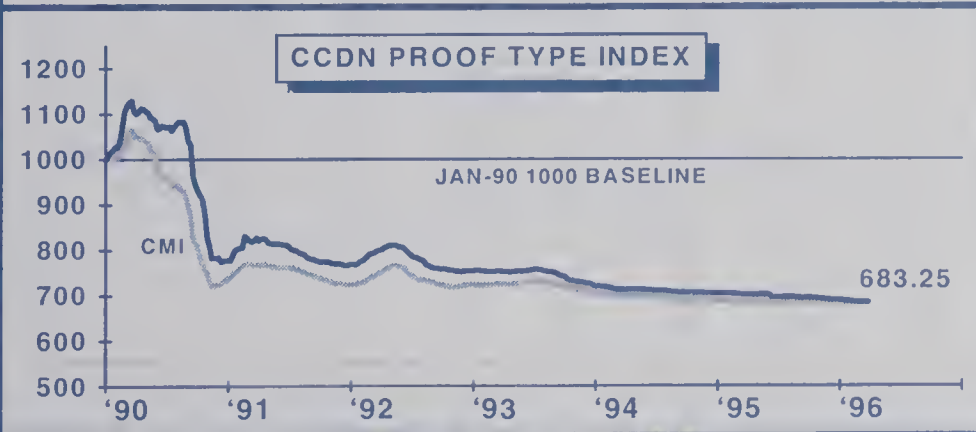

The specialty series have turned in a week of mixed performances. Buffalo Nickels are showing a fair number of changes, but these are balanced between plus and minus signs. Mercury Dimes showed more advances on a chart that has been quiet for a long time. Walking Liberty Halves showed few changes of any kind; this is a key area for judging collector sentiment, and dealers would like to see more positive results here.

Among the charts that are still quiet about their strength would have to be listed Morgan and Peace Dollars. More advances than declines, but so few changes as to define a steady series. On the slightly-unhappy side of quiet this week were the Mint State Type and Proof Type charts. Dealers keep thinking that these coins should be showing solid advances instead of quiet strength; instead, they find discounted sells quietly chipping away at current levels. All together, the market is stronger than it looks, and coins are trading at current levels, and there has even been a little excitement; life is good. About the only area of weakness noted is for spotted or low-end coins; these bring less on a sight-unseen basis, creating the appearance of a weaker market through a lower CMI.

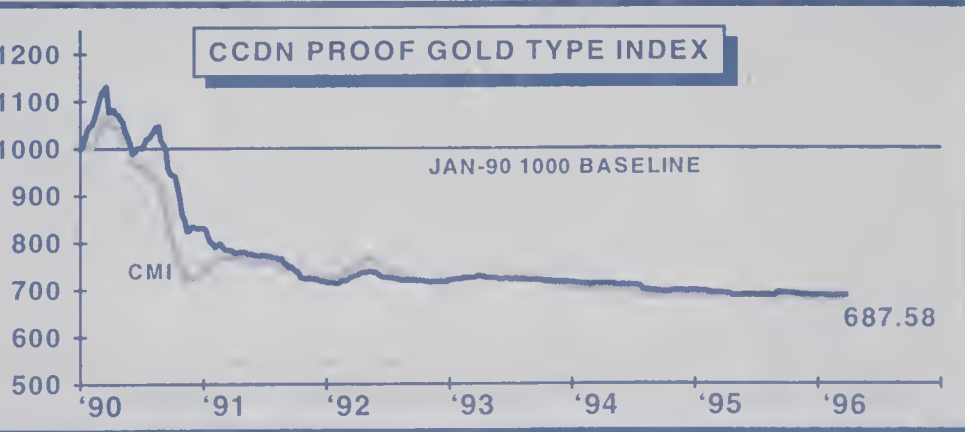

In conjunction with the Suburban Washington/ Baltimore Convention, Auctions by Bowers & Merena recently hosted their Sebring & Garbe sale, with Prices Realized approaching $2.5 million. The sessions, like the Convention itself, were well attended by enthusiastic buyers. Patterns were much in demand, with an 1877 50¢ J-1523 in Pr65 R&B realizing $10,450, an 1868 $10 J-663 in Pr65 bringing $9,075, and an 1859 $20 J-257 in Pr64 Brown hitting $9,075.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDn may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDn uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDn does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

you can be sure of...

A KING OF CASH BANK WIRE!

If you need money for taxes, there's one place to get it and get it fast. There's one rare coin firm that is so desperate to buy the coins it needs for its clients that it is willing to send you a bank wire the day you sell your coins.

What firm is willing to help out during tax time? Spectrum Numismatics...buyers of the 1913 Liberty nickel, King of Siam Proof set and countless other numismatic rarities.

Last year, Spectrum spent $42,347,978 purchasing rare coins. That's $168,717 every working day! Because Spectrum has such a huge appetite for rare coins, they are offering a special APRIL EMERGENCY TAX RELIEF PLAN. Simply put, any non-coin dealer who sells Spectrum any coins during the month of April can, at their request, receive a bank wire the day they sell their coins to Spectrum.

IT'S EASY TO SELL COINS TO SPECTRUM

Spectrum paid $962,500 for the 1913 Liberty nickel. And they paid $1,815,000 for the King of Siam Proof Set. But the facts are that 91% of Spectrum's 1995 purchases were for coins less than $5,000. And 18% ($7.6 million in 1995) of Spectrum's purchases were for coins less than $200.

While Spectrum is the nation's top dollar buyer of ultra-rare United States coins, Spectrum is also the major buyer for all United States numismatic coins. Here's a short list of some of the items that the King of Cash is currently interested in buying: ALL gold coins, original BU bags of Morgan and Peace Dollars, BU rolls of Walking Liberty Halves and Mercury Dimes, pre-1916 type coins in all grades, pre-1943 Proof coins and sets, and especially COMPLETE COLLECTIONS!

If you've decided that you want to trade all or some of your coins for cash, you should know that it's really easy to do business with Spectrum. If you have rare coins for sale and you want to sell them for as much money as possible, then all you have to do is pick up the phone any weekday between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. California time and call the Spectrum cash line 714-955-1250 collect. Ask for Greg, Thad or Kerry and tell them you have coins for sale. Or, if you prefer, you can fill in the coupon below and they'll call you.

Coins Moving, Prices Steady Central States Coming

The market continues to look healthy, with most charts and most levels steady; what changes can be found are a balanced mix of advances and declines. Buffalo Nickels and Mercury Dimes remained the most active series, sharing nearly 100 advances; enthusiasm for these collector-series is shared with the Walking Liberty Halves, which are active at current levels but showing few changes. For the time being, selective demand remains the key concept to making money in this market. At least until Gold Spot goes ballistic again.

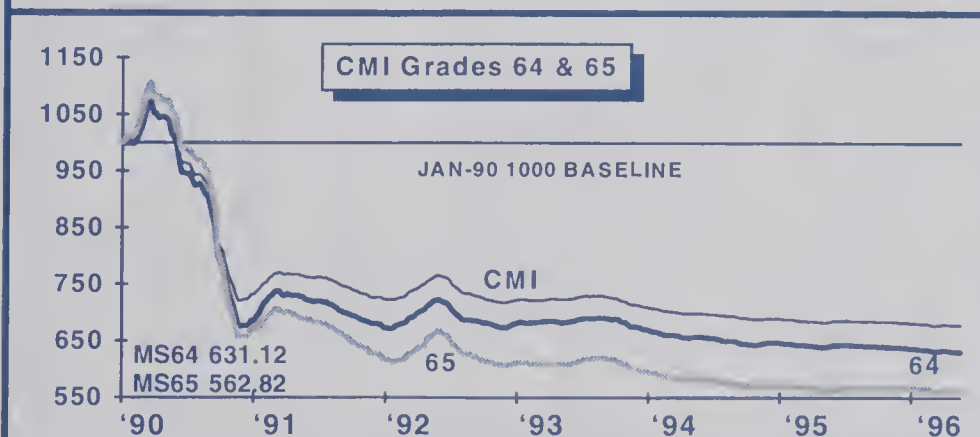

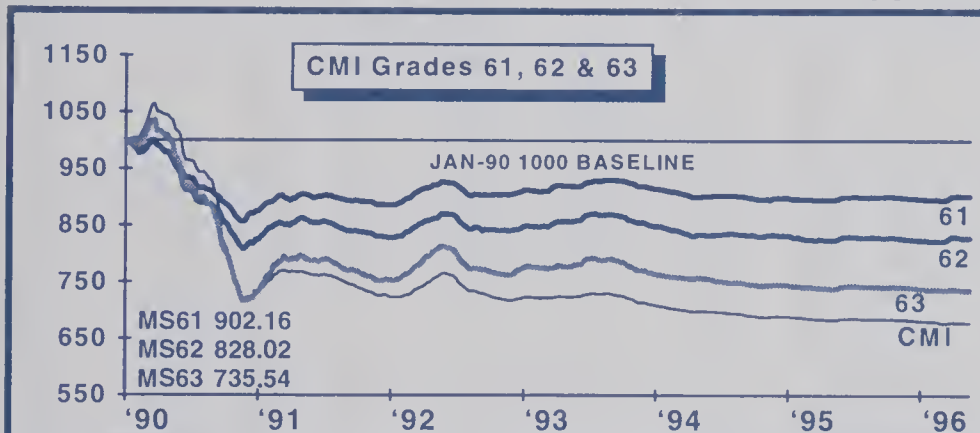

In talking with a dealer friend, I was reminded that "selective demand" is not some hard-to-understand nebulous concept, but a real concrete, down-to-earth approach to buying rare coins. In the case of this dealer, "selective demand" is a direct consequence of the Want Lists that he takes to the Show. Sure, he buys for his own account, but he is busy working the bourse looking for the coins that his retail customers want to buy. When he finds the right coin at the right price, he buys it and moves on to the next item. Since time is short, and bourses large, this dealer is not often at his table. On the rare occasions when he is spotted there, he is trying to sell his own inventory; he is not particularly interested in looking through boxes and boxes of offered coins, especially at deals that have to be purchased in their entirety. While every dealer has their own approach for a successful Show, apparently there are many dealers who just don't seem to have the time to work with the wholesalers. This seems to be a problem that is growing worse.

While this steady market inspires few dealers to flights of enthusiasm, it is also true that the wholesaling dealers are the most vocal about their complaints against the 'new order.' In the good old days, a wholesaler could earn a decent living by buying entire collections and turning them at the next Show. Sure, sometimes a large purchase would be split up, with appropriate selections going to the right buyers. And sometimes individual coins would be 'cherry-picked' out of the collections. Still, the best of the wholesalers moved large numbers of coins in just a few transactions. With selective demand running the marketplace, the wholesaler has to think about placing individual coins. This means a very different style of selling on the bourse, and that in turn means that buying levels have to be adjusted as well. When you sell by "the deal", you only have to profit on "the deal"; when you sell "by the coin", you have to look that much more carefully at every coin going into the deal.

The Central States Coin Show is coming April 25th, and retail-oriented dealers with the heaviest Want Lists are planning on a buying trip. Central States has long been a favorite of dealers, which is important when dealers are planning their travel/bourse schedules. While we see the leading numismatic firms at nearly all of the major conventions, we are increasingly seeing dealers who have decided to concentrate on regional Shows. We assume that dealers know their customers, and any dealer who can earn his living closer to home is welcome to avoid the hassles and expenses of life on the road.

For many years, we have been listening to dealers voice their concerns about the 'graying' of the hobby; simply stated, dealers were watching their customer base grow older. The ANA was likewise concerned, and started several programs aimed at developing young numismatists. Without an influx of young collectors, there was serious concern about where the next generation of serious collectors would come from. We applaud the efforts of PCGS in establishing a $5,000 college scholarship as the top prize in a nationwide essay contest. The top-five finishers will also get to visit ANA headquarters in Colorado Springs. Students will be exposed to coins and coin collecting, and hopefully more than a few will be bitten by the collecting 'bug.' We hope that all dealers will encourage their young customers - as well as potential customers - to participate.

❑ PCI accepts direct submittals from the general public, collectors and dealers. There are no minimum or maximum submittal requirements.

❑ PCI recognizes that all coins are not "generic." We grade, authenticate, verify and list attributes for errors and varieties such as 5, 5+, & 6 steps for Jefferson nickels, DM (deep mirror), DMPL (deep mirror proof like) for Morgan dollars, and we apply our exclusive attribute PQ (premium quality) to those coins that qualify.

❑ PCI provides our original "Red Label" capsule for "problem" coins, and assigns the grade right on the label (exceptions are: altered, counterfeits, etc.)

❑ PCI offers the most affordable rates of any "third party grading service" — and we provide the fastest turnaround time of any grading service . . . for the applicable fee of $750 per coin, plus postage and insurance.

❑ PCI excels at providing the highest quality customer service. We will go the extra mile to meet the needs of our customers, and our service is backed by our guarantees!

❑ As a special bonus — PCI provides a FREE storage box when twenty (20) coins are submitted. ($5 charge for storage box on orders containing less than 20.)

After our 6th year of new and innovative ideas and technology in setting the pace for 3rd party grading, we at PCI have come to rely upon business practices that you can consistently count on. Your coins will be accepted, authenticated, and graded at the lowest rate and the fastest turnaround time of any service . . . guaranteed!!

Market Continues to Improve Making a Healthier Market

In talking with coin dealers across the country, the conversation very nearly always turns on the question: "What's your view on the market?" There are as many ways of looking at "the market" as there are coin dealers; the dealer specializing in Proof Gold is obviously going to have a very different perspective than a wholesaler of American silver coins. Many times in our market discussions we have dwelt on the fact that the current market is really made up of many smaller markets — how Morgans are doing may have very little to do with how Buffaloes are faring. That individual charts march to their own drums of demand is patently obvious from looking at their individual CMI figures each week.

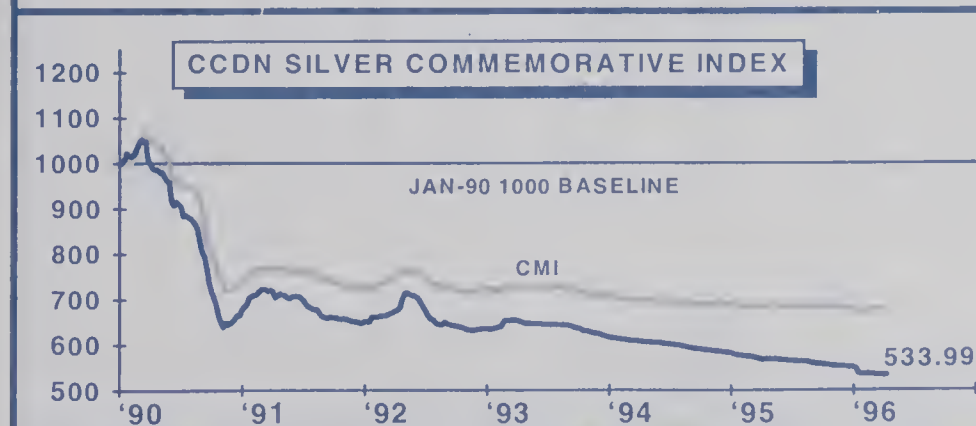

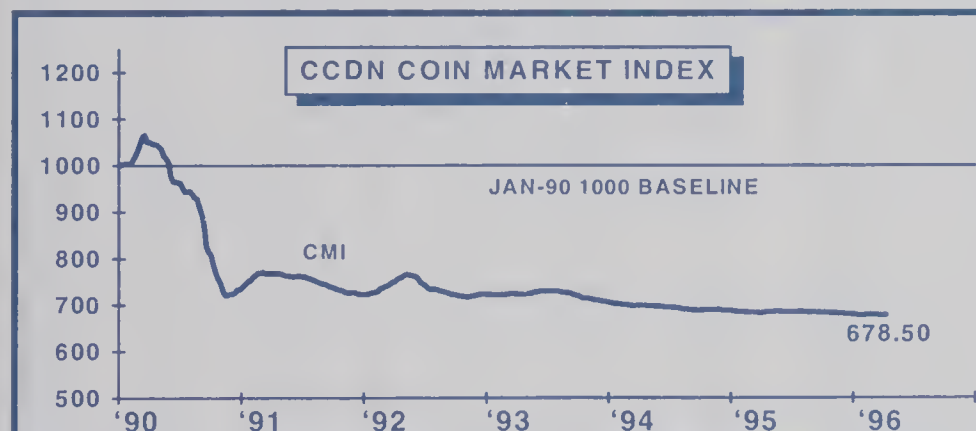

That brings us to a larger point, and one that is very important to "the coin market". The Bluesheet reports on the national sight-unseen marketplace. When we say "the market is slightly South of Steady," what we are really saying is that "the sight-unseen market is slightly South of Steady." (For those readers who might be new to the Bluesheet, "South of Steady" is our unfortunately overworked phrase describing a market that is basically healthy, but suffering numerous small declines due to discounted selling). The continuing slight weakness of the sight-unseen certified market has been well documented through our cumulative CMI: during 1993, the CMI dropped 16.63 points; during 1994, the CMI dropped 17.91 points; during 1995, the CMI dropped 7.81 points. All very minor changes, and all reflecting a basically healthy market with just a few too many discounted sells. The pattern has continued through the first Quarter of 1996, with the CMI declining from 680.46 to 678.50, yet over these 16 weeks the CMI has advanced one third of the time. It won't take much to make this a healthier market.

Another way to look at the sight-unseen Bluesheet market is through the rough-count of plus versus minus signs. The CMI takes into account the size of changes, while the +/- count simply notes a change without scale. Since January, the Bluesheet has shown about 12% more cumulative declines than advances, but most of the declines came early in the year, and the gap has been notably shrinking. The last four weeks have been very positive; a few more good weeks and the cumulative plus signs will be outnumbering the declines. It won't take much to make this a healthier market.

Finally, to look at the larger picture, the overall sight-seen market has been much healthier than the sight-unseen market. Money is tighter, which means demand is more specific than general, and there is an adequate supply of rare coins in the marketplace. Taken together, that means that all buyers are being extremely selective in their buying, but the areas in which trading is taking place are doing just fine. There is no question that the sight-seen market (reported in the Greysheet) is healthier than the sight-unseen market reported in the Bluesheet. Looking at the levels for Mint State Type since January, we find an average decline in the Bluesheet of 1%, yet in the Greysheet the levels are steady into the hundreds of a percent. A little more demand will keep the sight-seen market "North of Steady", and over time that could bring along the sight-unseen market. It won't take much to make this a healthier market.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices. The CCDN may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are new or below current Bid. CCDN uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

Certification does not guarantee protection against the normal risks associated with potentially volatile markets.
Client or sight-seen sales may command a substantial premium above Bluesheet Dealer-to-Dealer Bids.

PROOFLIKE MORGAN DOLLARS

P/L Dollars may be semi-reflective (on one or both sides), with less reflectivity than the deep-mirror Prooflikes. Bids for P/L's are usually much lower than for DMPL's, but command some premium over non-P/L strikes.

MARKET STRENGTH CONTINUES BUYERS FOCUS ON AUCTIONS & "BIG-TICKETS"

ACTIVITY

by Kevin Foley

The collectible paper money market continues to be a bright spot in an otherwise lackluster numismatic marketplace. The November National and World Paper Money Convention bourse was a success. The bourse for Krause Publications' February 24-26 Chicago Paper Money Exposition sold out in early December, and has a waiting list of 15 dealers waiting space. One market bourse after another commented upon in the relative ease (or difficulty) convention sponsors have in filling their bourse areas. While even shows have tended to shrink in size over the past five years (some quite considerably), this has not been the case in the paper money area. Not only are established dealers continuing to return, but new entrants are also supporting the paper money specialty events.

Buyers continue to display strong interest in auctions. As commented here in the past, it is not unusual to see individuals reluctant to make a purchase from a dealer in a private transaction, actually pay more than for a comparable item at auction. Because of the inherent subjectivity of grading, and the fact that grading opinions and abilities vary widely even among recognized professionals, many buyers seem to need the assurance of prices provided by the auction process. This is the auction assurance of knowing that someone else, the party they are bidding against, shares their opinion of an item's value. That the winning bid of $2,000 awarded a note from someone else who felt it was more than enough to be worth $1,950. In a private transaction, without the other buyers present in the auction arena, this additional confirmation of value is lacking, the fear then is that the $2,000 item may only be worth perhaps $1,900 to the next buyer.

This general attitude of buyers who behave quite aggressively at auction and just as timidly in private transactions, has resulted in a two-tiered market. The same material must often be sold for a higher price at auction than in a private transaction. In addition, material offered at auction is far more liquid and typically sells, rather than languishing in a display case for an extended period. As a principal in Currency Auctions of America, this is a process I constantly note.

LARGE SIZE TYPE NOTES
This is one of the strongest areas in numismatics and shows every sign of remaining that way. Prices are moving up for all conditions of material, from VF to Gem. In addition, buyers are seeking notes in all price ranges. The most expensive notes, those rare pieces typically selling above $10,000, are especially strong. A whole new group of buyers for this kind of material has become active in the past few to three years. The market here had previously been quite thin, and dealers were often frustrated that an item which ought to be worth much, based on its rarity, would sell for a disappointingly low number — simply because there were so few buyers for such rarities. That situation has been completely reversed today, as a growing number of buyers, with resources to match their interests, have entered the field. These buyers realize that if they miss a note to one of their competitors, such an item may not become available to them again for years, if ever.

SMALL SIZE TYPE NOTES

Interest here remains in the specialty areas, i.e., Star Notes, rarer blocks, notes, etc. Buyers are attracted by the fact that a bit of study and knowledge can be quite handsomely rewarded. The differences between a rare and common piece can be as simple as a prefix letter in the serial number or a single digit in a back plate number. Students of Small Type will often have greater knowledge of these nuances than a willing dealer and may often "berry-pick" a bargain as a result. Prices of type material remain quite stable and can be expected to do so because of large quantities available.

FRACTIONAL CURRENCY

The Martin Langbein Collection, the only complete regular issue fractional collection yet formed, is being offered for sale on January 17 in Orlando, Florida, by Currency Auctions of America. The collection contains numerous premium condition and ultra scarce 10-cent and 5-cent pieces. Its sale will underline current values for fractional.

NATIONAL BANK NOTES

Like the Large Type market, National Bank Notes are attracting a growing body of collectors not afraid to spend serious money to acquire items needed for their collections. The attraction offered by Nationals is the considerable challenge presented by the task of forming a distinguished collection. The surviving population of notes in many banks constitutes only a tiny handful of pieces, with some banks still awaiting the appearance of a discovery piece (despite the fact that notes on banks that exist in tiny quantities can be typically acquired for less than $1,000). These dual factors the challenge of acquisition and relatively low prices in relation to rarity — can be expected to continue to stimulate interest in Nationals.

MISCELLANEOUS

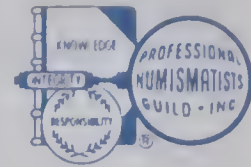

Stocks and Bonds: Obsolete Notes and Confederate material continue to enjoy the same strong demand as in the recent past.

AUCTIONS

Buyers will have much to choose from in the coming months. Currency Auctions of America will hold a 2-3 day sale in Orlando in January. R.M. Smythe and Company will hold a significant Stock and Bond sale in conjunction with its Lancaster, Pennsylvania stock and bond convention later this month. Lyn Knight will hold a major sale, February 26-28, in conjunction with the inaugural Chicago Paper Money Exposition.

The GreenSheet reports the national currency market on a monthly basis.

URGENT ★ CALIFORNIA TAX UPDATE ★ URGENT

- ICTA, the Long Beach Expo., PNG, and others have established a coalition to resolve California sales/use/franchise tax problems. California's tax enforcement policies directly or indirectly affect everyone in the industry.
- ICTA has learned that the California legislature and relevant regulatory agencies are now examining these issues, specifically with regard to trade shows. Indeed, a bill pertaining to the franchise tax already exists, proposed by another industry. This bill contains provisions unacceptable to our industry; for example, a maximum of 5 days plus a link to dollar volume.
- We will seek fair apportionment of the franchise tax for dealers attending trade shows. We would also seek a minimum safe harbor of 15 days for attending trade shows before California sales tax nexus is established.
- Once the California legislature and tax boards investigate these issues and develop definitions, they will feel the issues are resolved. In other words, if we don't act now, we likely won't have another chance.
- The project requires a lobbyist whose fees and other expenses are estimated to be $45,000 to get the job done. We have received 42% of the needed funds and, on that basis, have contracted with a lobbyist. We will review the project's financial status monthly to see if we can continue. The funds are kept in a separate, designated account.
- To go forward, the balance of the funding required will have to be raised from the industry at large. If only 101 dealers contribute $250 each, we will have raised the balance needed—cheap compared to accounting fees and California taxes!

Dealers Eye Central States Coin Show 'Steady' Risers May Fire Market

The Central States Coin Show will be taking place April 25-28, in Kansas City, Missouri. For many years, no, make that many decades (this is their 57th Annual Spring Convention!), this Show has been a well-attended favorite of both Dealers and Collectors, and that means plenty of coins will be on hand. This year promises more of the same enthusiasm, and maybe even a little extra; dealers are reporting increased activity in their Want Lists. The market has been wonderfully steady since Spot Gold 'did its thing', and we are seeing increased Bidding activity on several of the charts. It seems that many numismatists are convinced that this is an excellent time for some serious buying. In fact, plus signs outnumber declines on every weekly chart except Mint State Gold.

There is plenty of good news to be found on the charts in this week's Bluesheet, and it may even give us a chance to give our hard-working phrase "steady" a bit of a rest. We have some welcome advances on several charts, including Silver Commemoratives, Dollars, Mercs and Mint Type. The changes in Mint State Type are especially welcome; it is an axiom that no market rally can take place without increases here. In this Bluesheet, the advances are mainly found in the MS65 & MS66 columns; Gems continuing to rise would really make Central States hop! Morgan and Peace Dollars are showing some nice increases on selected dates and grades. The plus signs on the Morgans can mainly be found below MS64, while the advances in the Peace Dollars are in the MS64 & MS65 columns.

Silver Commemoratives were really HOT this week, with over 100 advances — and most of them in the Gem grades! Recently, Comms have been a disappointment to many dealers. Dealers like them, collectors like them, but demand has not been sufficient to keep up with the supply in the marketplace; additionally, dealers have been attributing some of the declining sight-unseen levels to the presence of some "ugly" slabs on the market that no-one wants to get 'stuck with' at full Bid. Whatever the reason for the declines, dealers naturally don't want to 'over-inventory' an item that has been in the doldrums, and over the last twelve months the Silver Commem CMI has slid from 569.09 to 534.01. Curiously enough, Silver Comms were also doing well in April of 1995 — well enough to warrant headline mention. Despite the discounted sells, there have been several issues which have increased nicely over the last year:

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDN may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDN uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

Certification does not guarantee protection against the normal risks associated with potentially volatile markets.
Client or sight-seen sales may command a substantial premium above Bluesheet Dealer-to-Dealer Bids.

Some bids within represent very conservative sight-unseen buy prices on the part of the highest visible bidder. In these cases, a more accurate reflection of a coin's true value may be found in the CDN, albeit, on a sight basis.

When we decided to give away a free coin as part of this experimental PCGS Population Report offer, we felt we should use the most significant coin possible. Our choice was easy. It's been estimated that more people collect Morgan dollars than any other United States coin series. It's an important coin and a PCGS graded MS64 Morgan dollar is a very high quality example. In addition, the price is right (about $40 retail, down from a 1986 wholesale high bid of $400). We thought the PCGS graded MS64 Morgan dollar was the best coin we could offer.

Bidding Remains Positive In Certified Market Dealers Voice Optimism As Plus Signs Increase

As we prepare for the annual Central States Show, in Kansas City, dealers report a marked increase in the size of their want lists. More customers, wanting to buy more coins has to be a positive sign for dealers everywhere. A casual look through the pages of the Bluesheet indicates that more plus signs are creeping into most of the charts. As this active market takes hold, the increase in dealer Bidding activity will have a direct impact on the number of Bids rising. If they cannot fill their want lists at current levels, they will have to increase their Bids in order to buy the specific coins needed.

In a majority of cases, by looking through the charts, it may not be obvious that most issues are in demand at current levels. You cannot see this Bidding because there are no plus signs to indicate this activity; but it's there. We see it on teletypes, dealer buy lists, dealer fax lists, and at coin shows. The increase in business is measured individually by every dealer. As a whole, it is very difficult to measure total volume because the coin market does not attempt to report volume as the stock market does. Volume is increasing; business is getting better and over the next few weeks, we shall see if we are headed in the "right" direction.

Over the years, many dealers have learned to use the sight-unseen market (Bluesheet) for its intended purpose: That is, as a basis to begin negotiations for coins they wish to buy. For generic coins, the sight-unseen Bid may represent a price for the low-end of the spectrum. If you are buying these particular coins in quantity, you will probably get a good mix of high-end to low-end coins. If you are trying to buy high-end coins only, you will inadvertently have to pay a higher (sight-seen) price.

For better-date, higher grade, or low-pop coins (or, any combination of the aforementioned), the sight-unseen Bid for the Type is usually a wishful Bid—a starting point. For these types of coins will usually command a higher sight-seen price when buyer and seller finally get together. Without the availability of this sight-unseen Bid, beginning negotiations would be a difficult process.

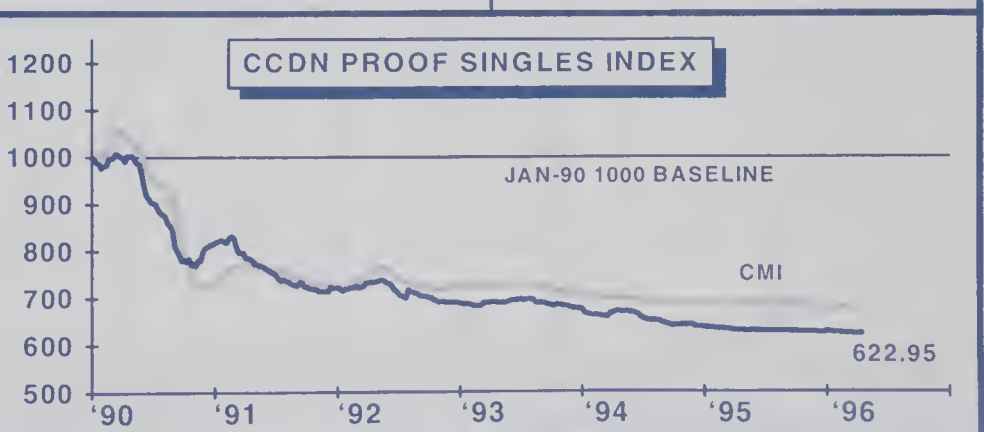

As for this week's market, the number of plus signs outnumber minuses over two to one. This, despite the fact that minus signs are more predominant than plus signs in the Mercury Dime, Walking Liberty Half, and Proof Singles charts. Ninety-six percent of all issues, in this week's charts are unchanged, indicating a steadiness that has been lacking for quite some time.

Buffalo Nickels and Morgan Dollars reveal the most increases as Bidders try to fill specific needs for their customers. Since most dealers choose not to add more coins to their already heavy inventories, it makes sense that the coins they are trying to buy are for customer want lists. Other series appearing on long want lists are Silver Commemoratives, which are making a spirited move of late, and Type coins.

Possibly the most positive indication of this week's market is the Gold Type chart. Plus signs may not be plentiful, but they do outnumber minuses. What is more interesting is the fact that the majority of issues are steady at current Bids. There are real buyers for quantities of coins and there is not an over-abundance of supplies available.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDN may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDN uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers; are strictly the responsibility of the dealers; and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

Certification does not guarantee protection against the normal risks associated with potentially volatile markets.
Client or sight-seen sales may command a substantial premium above Bluesheet Dealer-to-Dealer Bids.

MARKET LISTINGS

MARKET columns reflect the latest dealer-to-dealer selling prices seen in the market, based on monitoring Low Asks or Last Trades from wholesale trading networks, sell lists, coin shows and other sources of wholesale transactions. Auction prices realized or retail trading information are used to adjust prices for infrequently traded issues. The Publisher warrants that it has exercised due diligence; presently, there is no practicable method of following all wholesale postings or transactions. Readers should be aware that there is no implied guaranty or belief that the prices listed are actually representative of the current market value of any coin; listing does not guarantee that such a coin is now available for purchase, or that it was actually available at the time the Market price was posted. Due to the volatile nature of the market, current values may be greater or less than the market price listed. A higher grade coin might display a lower Market level than a lower grade specimen, due to limited sell information. Listing Policy: During the thirty days prior to publication, we track the lowest sales-related price in the marketplace. Last Trade information normally takes precedence over Low Asks, except when a lower Ask is posted during the last week before publication. We delete stagnant Market prices which are lower than current Bid. Since the timeliness of the information is important, we use the following timing symbols: "w" - Lowest asking price during the week prior to publication (week old); "m" - Lowest asking price during the previous three weeks (month old); "t" - Trade during the most recent month; "lm" - Lowest asking price appearing last month, "lt" Trade appearing last month; "ot" Trade older than 2 months; " " a blank, for all Market prices older than two months; "a" for auction transactions; "oa" - auction older than 1 month

Some bids within represent very conservative sight-unseen buy prices on the part of the highest visible bidder
In these cases, a more accurate reflection of a coin's true value may be found in the CDN, albeit, on a sight basis.

Central States Deemed a Success Dealers See Market as Half-Full

On the basis of the fact that most of the dealer community sports negative viewpoints concerning the wholesale coin market, it was a pleasure to evoke more positive replies from those dealers who attended the Central States Convention in Kansas City. Usually the typical response to "How is the market?" is, "What market?" This negative response depicts the imagery of a dealer's glass being half-empty, not half-full. After visiting with a multitude of dealers, we came away with the feeling that the glass is not just half-full, but may be getting ready to add a little liquid to the stale contents of the glass.

More and more dealers are doing less and less discounting of their inventories. Unless the coin is just plain ugly, potential sellers are holding out for Bid prices or higher. As this seller's market develops, many dealers feel that it is only a matter of time before higher Bids are forthcoming. As for the ugly coins, and everybody has some, it behooves the owners to get these coins off the market (at whatever they are worth) so they don't drag down the rest of the particular series. As long as there is an overhang of these coins in the wholesale market, sight-unseen Bids will have to allow for them. Of course, they could be kept away from the usual inventory, and when someone wants the cheapest coin possible, well, there you go.

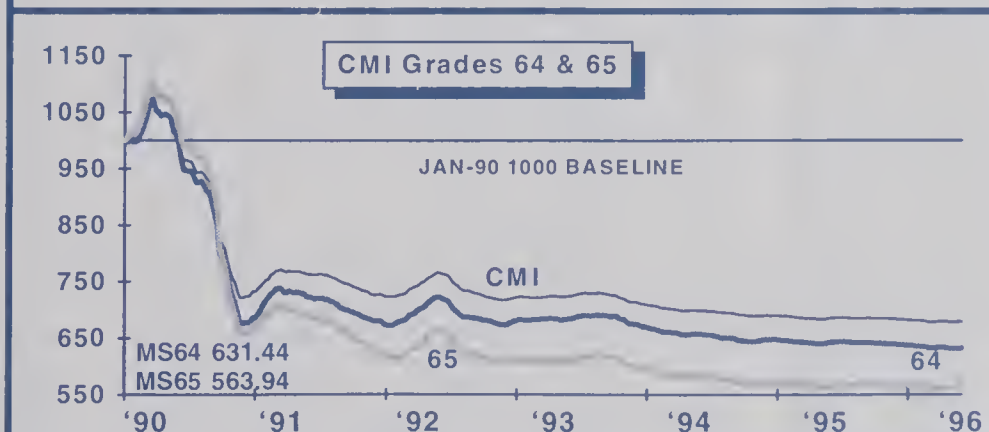

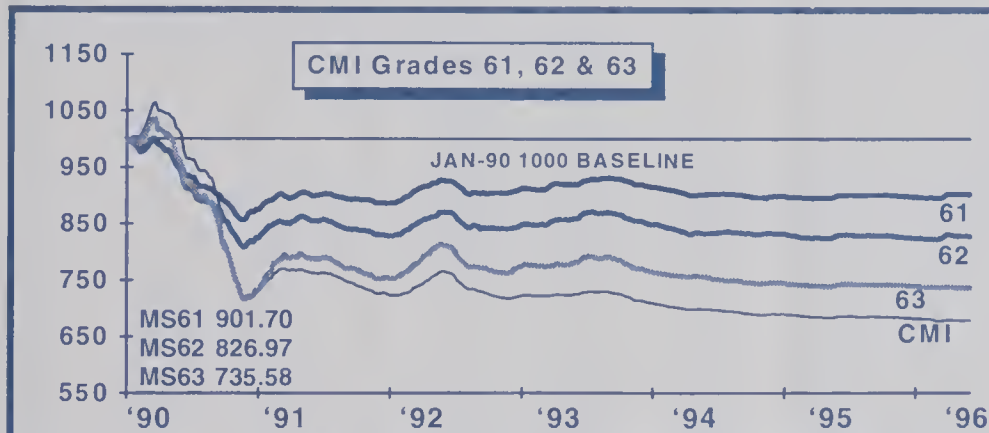

Now, back to are regularly scheduled format. Many dealers report that the market is not yet explosive, but is quite steady. They are buying and selling coins at current levels; they are doing enough business to keep their morale up. There is not a whole lot of fresh material to choose from, but they are finding enough coins to satisfy some portions of want lists. This, in turn, keeps their customers happy, if not deliriously so. When serious customers realize that it will take higher Bids to get the quality coins they desire, the market should rise proportionately.

At Central States, U.S. Gold was on many want lists. There was not an over abundance of discounted material as most sellers sold directly to the marketmakers at their Bids. In some cases, we noticed dealers selling to vest-pocket dealers at levels just over the active Bids; thus making just a little more profit. This may serve to create a shortage for the marketmakers and eventually could lead to higher prices if current demand is maintained.

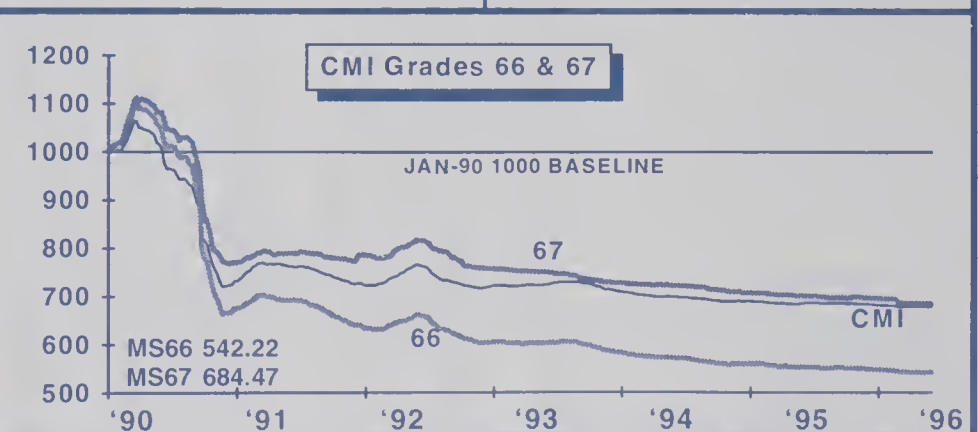

Dealers who brought Dollars to sell at this show, had an easy time of it. There are several dealers trying to fill want lists of their best customers and they could use a variety of dates and grades. It is just a matter of finding the dealer who needs a particular coin. If the asking price was not out of sight, a transaction should have consummated. Of course, it is much easier to sell Dollars to other dealers when they can see them and not have to worry about over-exaggerated verbal descriptions.

The Heritage Bullet Sale, along with the usual dealer following, also enticed some local buyers with its varied mixture of coins. This Bullet Sale, (with the world's most efficient auction format) realized over one-half million dollars; among the highlights were the following selections:

There's only one...

There's only one Steve...

There's only one Steve Ivy, and as one of America's most respected numismatists, he is easy to find - on the bourse or at Heritage. But when you need to mail to him as well as the more than 5,000 other numismatists in America, you will quickly discover that

There's only one source...

There's only one source for the most complete, most accurate, and most up-to-date listing of dealers in America, and that's the 1996 Numismatic Dealer Directory. Our current NDD list is available for rental, and at only $325, is well below the price normally charged for specialized lists. When you want to mail to every dealer in the NDD (or just the dealers in California, or the Mid-Atlantic states), you will soon discover that

There's only one practical way to mail...

There's only one practical way to mail to every dealer in the NDD, and that's to buy labels from the source. Why? We know how long it takes to type 5,000+ labels, but even more important, our labels will be up-to-date. We know how many changes occur after the NDD is printed, because we update our database every day! You want your mailing to be delivered, because returned mail generates no profits. And you can choose between First-Class and Third-Class mailing rates. Contact us for details.

When we decided to give away a free coin as part of this experimental PCGS Population Report offer, we felt we should use the most significant coin possible. Our choice was easy. It's been estimated that more people collect Morgan dollars than any other United States coin series. It's an important coin and a PCGS graded MS64 Morgan dollar is a very high quality example. In addition, the price is right (about $40 retail, down from a 1986 wholesale high bid of $400). We thought the PCGS graded MS64 Morgan dollar was the best coin we could offer.

CERTIFIED COIN DEALER

newsletter

CCDN — a weekly report on the Sight-Unseen certified market published by the Coin Dealer Newsletter (est. 1963)

Vol. XI No. 19

Single copy price $4.00

Sight-Unseen Market Is Wholesale Only Stack's Sale Enjoys Positive Results

While the Bluesheet represents sight-unseen Bidding activity, it is terribly unfair to assume that all the information within these pages comes from this method of trading. When generic coins trade daily, sometimes hourly, such as MS65 Morgan Dollars, one could rightfully assume that the prices paid are truly representative of the wholesale market; whether it be sight-seen or sight-unseen. If Bid is $90 and hundreds of coins trade at $90, give or take a dollar, it sounds like MS65 common Morgan Dollars are worth $90 wholesale.

This does not mean a retail customer can buy a group of MS65 Morgans at $90; they will probably cost in the neighborhood of $100 to $115, depending on the overall quality of the coins. Nicer ones will even cost more of a premium. If the customer wants the cheapest coins, he can expect the lowest quality. If he wants average to better coins, they will cost more. As the old adage states, "You get what you pay for."

When coins are not generic, they do not trade on a daily, weekly, or even a monthly basis. They trade when a buyer and seller get together. This will usually take place when one dealer (the buyer) likes the coin better than the other dealer (the seller); the coin is then added to the buyer's inventory. Or, the buyer has a customer for this particular coin. Of course, the customer (collector) then buys the coin sight-seen from the dealer.

While this sort of activity takes place every day, the same coins (denomination, date, and grade) are not traded that often. Despite the popular belief that sight-unseen Bids may represent value, this is not the case at all. We may see three sight-unseen Bids for a particular Type coin at $1,400, $1,410, and $1,420; yet, the sight-seen Bids may be something in the area of $1,750, $1,800, $1,900, and $2,000.

One ugly coin might trade sight-unseen at $1,420, but this coin will usually not be sold to a retail customer. This is what may be accepted when a seller needs money. At the same time, several coins may wholesale at the $1,750 to $2,000 level and then be sold to retail customers. These would be nice coins that collectors would be proud to own. At the same time, these should be coins that the dealer will want to buy back at a later date.

The point here is that the sight-unseen Bids are a safety-valve price; they do not represent value (except for generics). They represent quick-sale wholesale levels. When one wants to sell nice coins, they will command sight-seen prices to the buyers that appreciate them the most.

There are many instances where non-generic coins are traded at much higher levels than the sight-unseen Bids. Dealers recognize that better-date issues, and or, better quality coins will command levels that are more appropriate than a wish Bid. These coins are usually not readily available; they are not in every other dealer's inventory with several to select from. These prices are reflected in the "Market" column of the Bluesheet on the fourth week of each month.

The just completed Stack's Sale, in New York, was well-attended; there was a nice selection of Washington Medals, Currency, and U.S. coins. Although, the majority of coins were not certified, prices realized were commensurate with the appropriate grades. The following list consists of some of the certified lots:

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDN may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDN uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

Certification does not guarantee protection against the normal risks associated with potentially volatile markets. Client or sight-seen sales may command a substantial premium above Bluesheet Dealer-to-Dealer Bids.

Some bids within represent very conservative sight-unseen buy prices on the part of the highest visible bidder. In these cases, a more accurate reflection of a coin's true value may be found in the CDN, albeit, on a sight basis.

☐ PCI accepts direct submittals from the general public, collectors and dealers. There are no minimum or maximum submittal requirements.

☐ PCI recognizes that all coins are not "generic." We grade, authenticate, verify and list attributes for errors and varieties such as 5, 5+, & 6 steps for Jefferson nickels, DM (deep mirror), DMPL (deep mirror proof like) for Morgan dollars, and we apply our exclusive attribute PQ (premium quality) to those coins that qualify.

☐ PCI provides our original "Red Label" capsule for "problem" coins, and assigns the grade right on the label (exceptions are: altered, counterfeits, etc.)

☐ PCI offers the most affordable rates of any "third party grading service" — and we provide the fastest turnaround time of any grading service . . . for the applicable fee of $7⁵⁰ per coin, plus postage and insurance.

☐ PCI excels at providing the highest quality customer service. We will go the extra mile to meet the needs of our customers, and our service is backed by our guarantees!

☐ As a special bonus — PCI provides a FREE storage box when twenty (20) coins are submitted. ($5 charge for storage box on orders containing less than 20.)

After our 6th year of new and innovative ideas and technology in setting the pace for 3rd party grading, we at PCI have come to rely upon business practices that you can consistently count on. Your coins will be accepted, authenticated, and graded at the lowest rate and the fastest turnaround time of any service . . . guaranteed!!

Overall Certified Market Remains Steady Anxious Dealers Await Eliasberg Sale

Even though the coins in the Eliasberg Sale (to be held in New York, by Bowers and Merena on May 20-22) are not yet certified, most dealers fully expect the majority of coins to hit the grading services within two weeks after the sale concludes. With the pedigree and reputation these coins have going for them, it is probably not necessary to have them graded and put in plastic. However, to diminish the possibility of mishandling these valuable coins and the opportunity to have the pedigree "emblazoned on the plastic" forever, it is a process that must be performed. Old-time numismatists will probably cringe at this thought, but it is truly the finest way to hold history in your hand.

By the way, PCGS and NGC will both list the Eliasberg pedigree on the certified holder if proper documentation is mailed with the coin. You should check with the respective service to see what is required before sending the coin or taking it out of the auction "flip".

The certified market is moving along at a persistent pace. There are scattered plus signs throughout nearly every chart. Plus signs outnumber minus signs by nearly two to one. Nearly half of the minus signs appear in the Morgan Dollar chart (which we will discuss in detail later). Therefore, the balance of the charts indicates a very minute number of declines. In fact, 99% of the listed issues are steady to higher this week.

Even though some of the series indicates a drop in the individual CCDn Index, the amount of this dip is almost non-existent. The decrease in the specific issue may be just a dollar or two based on a slightly lower Bid with a comparably lower Ask price. In the majority of cases, there are active Bids for coins at the reported Bid levels. In many instances, dealers will pay even more money than the listed Bids on a sight-seen basis. Sight-seen does not necessarily mean the buyer is looking for a high-end coin, they may just want a coin that has minimal toning. In addition, the buyer does not want a low-end ugly coin.

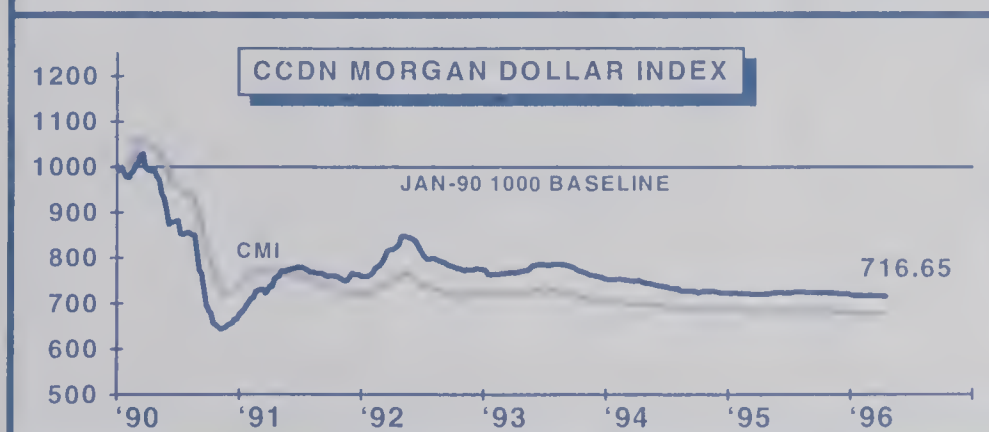

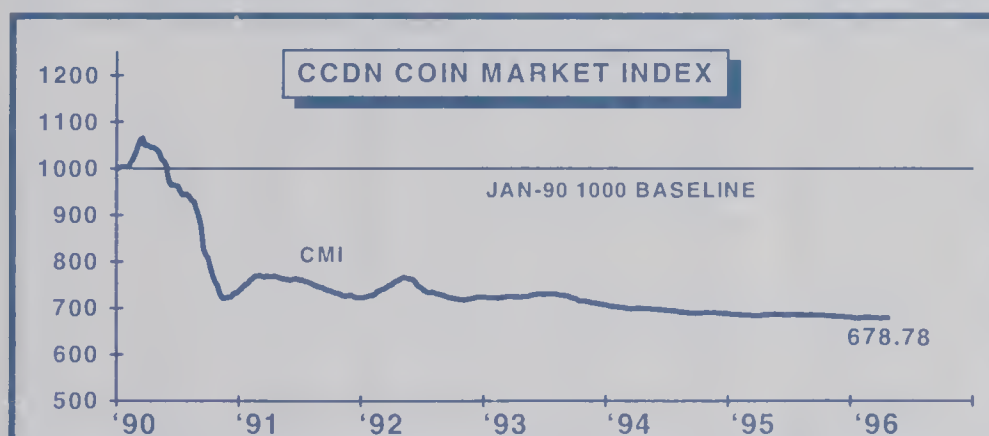

The CCDn Coin Market Index is higher for the second week in a row. It is now reported at 678.78. By looking at the graph below, you can see that, although the CCDn CMI is down from the January 5, 1990, initial 1000 starting point, it has been much more stable since the middle of 1992. The certified market was falling from its 1989 highs when we began our index. The market began to stabilize by the end of 1991, with just a couple of upward blips in 1991 and 1992. Since that time, the volatility that was so characteristic of the certified market from 1986 to 1990, has all but disappeared.

Looking back at the last four years and the prospects of the future, noting the current climate of the Bid levels today, it appears that the market has been systematically preparing for the cycle to move in an upward direction. Many dealers feel that all the elements are in place: Bid levels are apparently low enough to be considered more than appropriate; the strength of the economy is questionable; there is an increase in interest in rare coins as reported by many coin dealers; and gold and silver are generally stable at current prices.

All this market needs now is an increase in the amount of fresh money coming into the coin business and you might see coin dealers singing, "Happy days are here again..." With all the auctions coming up in the next few weeks, we are bound to generate new interest as publicity leaks out in non-traditional channels of the media. In the next few weeks the following auctions will occur: The Eliasberg Sale in New York, on May 20-22 (Bowers & Merena); the Irving Goodman Sale in Beverly Hills, on May 27, 28 (Superior Stamp & Coin); the Long Beach Sale, on May 30-June 1 (Heritage); and the Stack's Sale in New York, on June 10-12.

The Dollar market is a lot more positive than the number of minus signs might indicate. The declines are representative of very minor drops in Bid for mostly the common issues. Almost half of these declines are one dollar lower as dealers feel that supplies are slightly ahead of demand at this time. For the rest of the Dollar market, we found buyers for most of the issues; they will pay at least Bid or higher for the issues they need. A multitude of dealers have want lists to fill; several dealers will pay even higher prices for coins based on sight-seen prices. They may want a better-than-average coin, or, a white (non-toned) coin. But they are willing to pay more for getting the exact coin they want.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices. The CCDn may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDn uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDn does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

Certification does not guarantee protection against the normal risks associated with potentially volatile markets. Client or sight-seen sales may command a substantial premium above Bluesheet Dealer-to-Dealer Bids.

WHO IS THE KING OF CASH AND WHAT CAN THEY DO FOR YOU?

Spectrum Numismatics was formed in 1991, with a unique vision and a unique financial position. Like most other coin companies, Spectrum Numismatics has a small group of employees - 6; but there's one way that Spectrum is unlike any other company in the coin business. The difference is that cash is never a problem for Spectrum. In fact, Spectrum Numismatics may be the best capitalized rare coin company in the history of numismatics. Spectrum is king of cash.

Since 1991, the Spectrum strategy has been very simple. Spectrum felt it could grow its business and increase its market share by taking advantage of its cash resources to always pay the most for rare coin deals that made sense. All it would take to implement this strategy would be world class rare coin knowledge and a ton of cash. Spectrum has both and because of it, Spectrum is becoming the biggest buyer of rare coins in the world.

Who is Spectrum Numismatics? Spectrum Numismatics is world class rare coin experts, unlimited cash resources, and highly efficient staff. The money man behind Spectrum is a name that is known by all in the financial circles of this country, but for purposes of the coin business, it's a name that by choice will remain anonymous.

The president and top rare coin expert behind Spectrum Numismatics is Greg Roberts. Although only 34 years old, Greg has been a major player on the national coin circuit for the past fifteen years. Since that time, Greg has personally purchased $213,285,000 in rare coins. In the process, he has handled virtually every coin in the book. The other world class experts on Spectrum's team combine more than 50 years of experience and over $235,264,000 in purchases of coins.

In just five short years, Spectrum has become the major buyer of ultra rare United States coins. But more than that, Spectrum has become perhaps the largest buyer of all rare coins in all price ranges. Let's talk about major rarities first. Here's a partial list of coins that Spectrum Numismatics has bought at public auction. In other words, this is a list of coins which Spectrum outbid every major United States coin dealer:

Coin	Grade	Date Purchased	Purchase Price
1894-S Barber 10c	Prf-64	Aug. 1992	$165,000
1913 Liberty 5c	Prf-64	Oct. 13, 1993	962,500
King of Siam Proof Set	Gem Proof	Feb. 2, 1993	1,815,000
1848-O $10 Liberty	MS-66	Nov. 1994	154,000
1876-CC 20c	MS-65	Feb. 1995	99,000
1796 $2½ No Stars	MS-65	Nov. 1995	605,000

WHAT'S IN IT FOR YOU?

Not everyone owns a 1913 Liberty Nickel or an 1804 Silver Dollar. In fact, the odds are that you don't own one of those great rarities. But if you're reading this ad, then there is a high probability that you do own some rare coins. You may have some Uncirculated silver dollars, some Uncirculated United States gold coins, some silver commemoratives, some type coins, some rolls of Mercury Dimes or Walking Liberty Halves and maybe even some rarer coins.

If you do, then you should know that Spectrum is the major buyer of that type of material, too. In fact, 91% of all the coins Spectrum purchases, are coins priced under $5,000, and 18% of all the coins that Spectrum purchases, are coins priced under $200 per coin! And you should know that if you have rare coins for sale, Spectrum wants to buy your coins and will probably pay you more than any other coin dealer in the world for your coins.

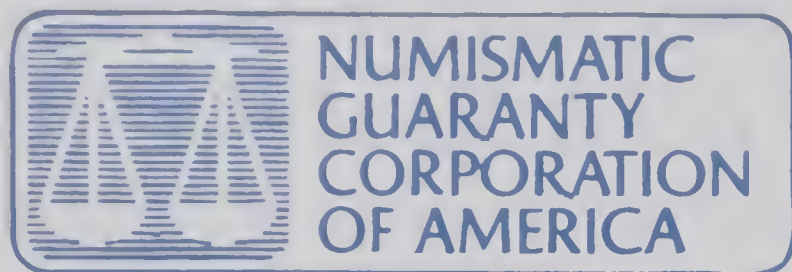

HOW TO CASH IN

If you've decided that you want to trade all or some of your coins for cash, you should know that it's really easy to do business with Spectrum. If you have rare coins for sale, and you want to sell them for as much money as possible, then all you have to do is pick up the phone any weekday between 9:00 am and 5:00 pm California time and call the Spectrum cash line collect (714) 955-1250. Ask for Greg or Thad or Kerry and tell them you have coins for sale. Tell them you want to talk to the king of cash.

CERTIFIED COIN DEALER

CCDN — a weekly report on the Sight-Unseen certified market published by the Coin Dealer Newsletter (est. 1963)

Vol. XI No. 21 May 24, 1996 Single copy price $4.00

Eliasberg 1913 Nickel Establishes Record Price How Many Certified Coins Can You Buy With $1,485,000?

It may not be certified (yct), but the Eliasberg 1913 Liberty Head Nickel realized a new record price at $1,485,000. There were several very active bidders for this exceedingly famous coin. The Bidding opened at $700,000 and quickly snowballed; only hesitating momentarily when $1,000,000 was bid as the audience applauded. It instantaneously moved upward to its final hammer price of $1,350,000; with the 10% buyer's fee, the total price realized was $1,485,000. Wow! A nickel sells for one and a half million dollars! This should create new interest in numismatics.

Auctions by Bowers and Merena, Inc., must be positively ecstatic over the results of this wonderful sale. Richard Eliasberg, the consignor ("custodian") of his father's collection, must be in awe of the reception and excitement that these coins are bringing forth to the numismatic community. It seemed as if the percentage paid above bid for a coin was in direct relationship to the actual cost of the lot. If the coin was Bid at $1,000, the potential buyers might be willing to pay 100% or more above that price. Of course, several higher priced lots also commanded gigantic premiums. Every collector who attended this sale, was competing for a piece of history.

There were many other exciting moments occurring in this sale. The 1855 Kellogg & Co. $50, known as the "King of Territorial Gold", brought $220,000. While the coins in this sale were not yet certified, we will mention their probable grade according to some leading numismatists and, or, the catalog. The Kellogg $50 was graded Pr62. The 1852/1 Humbert $20 Gold (884 THOUS.), is one of the finest known specimens; it graded MS60 Prooflike, and brought $31,900. One well-known numismatist-dealer attempted to purchase the finest known Bechtler $5 in MS63. He was willing to pay "whatever it took" to win this coin. As the bidding rose higher and higher, he had to give up as the coin was finally sold at $41,800.

The 1796 No Pole Half-Cent was graded MS65 or better by several dealers we contacted. It brought just over half-a-million dollars; at $522,500, several dealers felt this was one of the rarity buys of the sale. The 1793 Chain Cent was a very nice MS64-Brown, "it was simply incredible," and realized $132,000. The 1856 Proof65 Flying Eagle Cent was sold to a floor bidder at $15,400. Another actively bid coin was the 1867 W/Rays Shield Nickel. This coin graded Pr65 by several dealers and the final price was $57,200.

All in all, this sale is attracting some very fine comments and from a multitude of buyers. The auction gallery has been full and the bidding has been very prominently dispersed among the attendees. The third session will begin as we go to press; we will report on the 1873CC No/Arrows Seated Dime and the 1894S Barber Dime, among other highlights next week.

What influence does this type of sale and publicity have on the certified market? Apart from the obvious fact that this sale will draw attention to numismatics in general, it should bring additional potential collectors into every coin shop in the country. What you do with these prospects is up to you. If interest is generated and the novice begins to buy coins, he/she will probably start slowly with some common date coins; this will help to solidify the current market. The more common coins that are purchased and taken off the market, the more it will help the rarer issues in the long run.

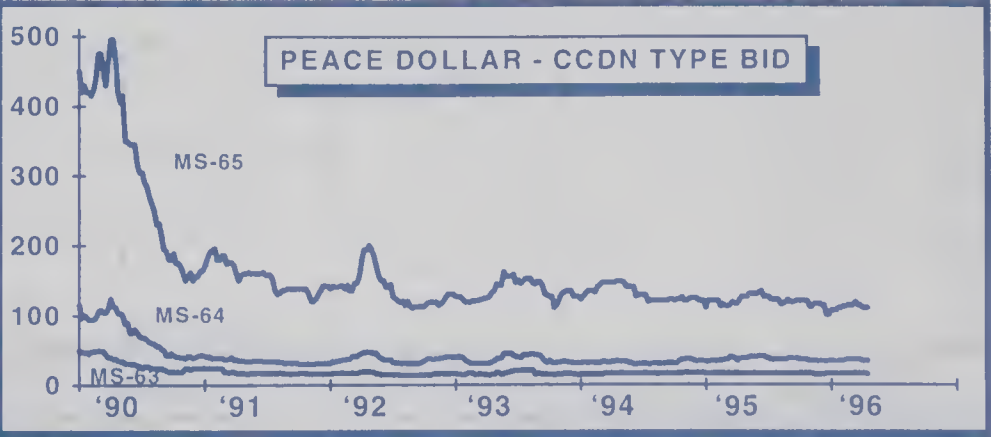

If this sale rekindles interest in former numismatists, they may be willing to jump right in and buy more expensive coins. However you choose to treat these "new" customers, the very nature of increasing the number of potential buyers of numismatic coins should have a positive effect on your overall business.

This week's certified market continues to show much improvement. The number of Bid increases outnumbers the declines four to one. The charts in every series contain more plus signs than minuses. The overall certified market appears to be making strides forward as more dealers are making competitive Bids; more underlying Bids are supportive of the highest Bids.

Now, how many certified Morgan Dollars can a dealer buy with $1,485,000? In MS65, a wholesale dealer can purchase 16,500 coins; in MS64, 47,900 coins. Of course, the market has to remain status quo as you are buying these many coins. Yeah, right!

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services determined through careful study of market activity including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices. The CCDN may not respond to the removal of a high Bid but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDN uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

MARKET LISTINGS

MARKET columns reflect the latest dealer-to-dealer selling prices seen in the market, based on monitoring Low Asks or Last Trades from wholesale trading networks. sell lists coin shows and other sources of wholesale transactions. Auction prices realized or retail trading information are used to adjust prices for infrequently traded issues. The Publisher warrants that it has exercised due diligence; presently, there is no practicable method of following all wholesale postings or transactions. Readers should be aware that there is no implied guaranty or belief that the prices listed are actually representative of the current market value of any coin; listing does not guarantee that such a coin is now available for purchase, or that it was actually available at the time the Market price was posted. Due to the volatile nature of the market, current values may be greater or less than the market price listed. A higher grade coin might display a lower Market level than a lower grade specimen, due to limited sell information. Listing Policy: During the thirty days prior to publication, we track the lowest sales-related price in the marketplace. Last Trade information normally takes precedence over Low Asks, except when a lower Ask is posted during the last week before publication. We delete stagnant Market prices which are lower than current Bid. Since the timeliness of the information is important, we use the following timing symbols: "w" – Lowest asking price during the week prior to publication (week old); "m" – Lowest asking price during the previous three weeks (month old); "t" – Trade during the most recent month; "lm" – Lowest asking price appearing last month; "lt" Trade appearing last month; "ot" Trade older than 2 months; " " a blank, for all Market prices older than two months; "a" for auction transactions; "oa" – auction older than 1 month.

COMMEMORATIVES

Some bids within represent very conservative sight-unseen buy prices on the part of the highest visible bidder. In these cases, a more accurate reflection of a coin's true value may be found in the CDN, albeit, on a sight basis.

Eliasberg Sale Realizes Over $11,500,000 Superior Auction Breaks Lincoln Cent Record

As kids, we were all taught that records were made to be broken. Records are usually established over a period of time and new records are usually infrequent enough that when they do occur, the enthusiasm that they bring is momentous. This past week may have seemed like a tennis match, as spectators practically swiveled their heads in an effort to keep up with all the record-breaking auction sales.

The Eliasberg Sale, conducted by Auctions by Bowers and Merena, Inc., ultimately concluded with total prices realized of over $11,500,000. As we stated previously, these coins were not yet certified, but, the majority of them probably will be soon enough. Even though the Bluesheet is for certified coins, we would be remiss in not reporting a sale of this magnitude. The 1796 No Pole Half-Cent was sold at $506,000. (In our haste to report this lot last week, we listed it as $522,500.)

Bidding for the unique 1873CC Without/Arrows Dime was very competitive; opening at $300,000, this marvelous coin eventually realized $550,000 from a very happy collector. The always popular (as if they are offered everyday) 1894S Barber Dime was expected to bring in the range of $100,000 to $200,000; well, throw out the old record because this one sold for $451,000, to Harvey Staek for one of his customers. These were not the only records from this sale; there were way too many for us to mention in this article. Please contact Bowers and Merena for a complete list of prices realized.

Speaking of world records, Superior Stamp & Coin, broke one of their own at the Irving Goodman Collection Sale. This must be the month for unique coins as they offered the only 1943D Lincoln Cent (bronze, of course), known to exist. It is graded MS64 Brown, by NGC. It brought the highest price ever paid for a Lincoln Cent—$82,500. There was a lot of floor action as it opened at $19,000 and eventually sold to a new coin collector via a telephone bid. This should have everybody in the country looking through their change for some time to come.

The Superior Auction exhibited a lot of action in several other areas. Total prices realized was over $2,170,000. The currency portion of the sale showed why this area is so strong; overall, the currency lots realized about a third more than expected. Type coins were very strong, bringing over current levels for fresh coins; the Bust Halves did quite well as dealers and collectors competed for their favorite dates. Please contact Superior Stamp & Coin for a complete list of prices realized. The following is a partial list of highlights: (see inset)

Now back to the sight-unseen certified coin market. As you might expect, trading was light this past week as most of the active dealers were concentrating on the numerous auctions; past and upcoming. Throw in the numerous shows, including this week's Long Beach Expo and it's a wonder there was time for any Bidding at all. Nevertheless, there are several areas of strength as dealers try to fill specific needs.

Bidding in the Peace Dollar series is vigorous, especially for MS65s. Several dates are higher as some issues prove to be somewhat elusive. In many cases, coins are available, however, the potential seller wants well in excess of the current Bids.

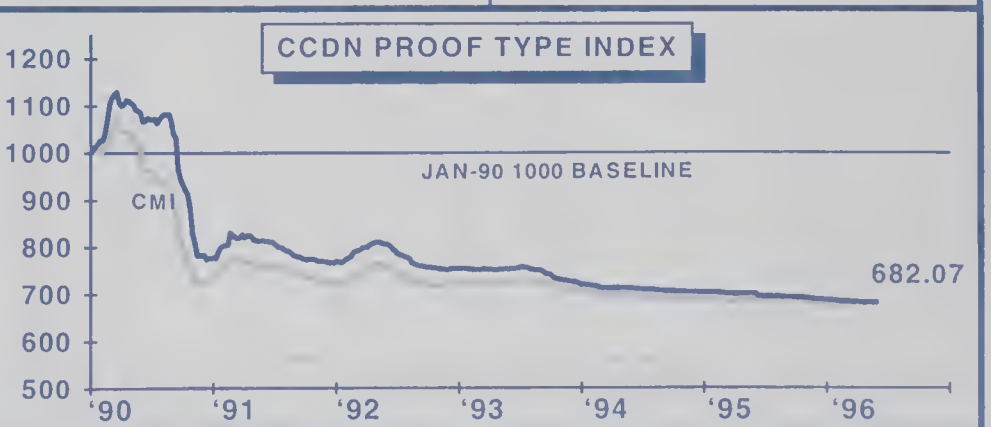

Mereury Dimes have been very consistent for quite a long time. This past week has seen a sharp upturn in the Bidding activity for MS65FB specimens. This may be a good time to take advantage of a willing buyer who needs coins for customers. Buffalo Nickels and Proof Singles also showed some increases as buyers raise various issues.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDN may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDN uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

Certification does not guarantee protection against the normal risks associated with potentially volatile markets. Client or sight-seen sales may command a substantial premium above Bluesheet Dealer-to-Dealer Bids.

$100,000 EVERY 4 HOURS & 45 MINUTES!

THAT'S HOW MUCH MONEY THE KING OF CASH SPENT IN 1995! DID YOU GET YOUR SHARE?

Spectrum Numismatics International, the buyers of the 1913 Liberty Nickel and the King of Siam Proof Set, spent $42,347,978 purchasing rare coins in 1995.

As you can see, Spectrum has a huge appetite for rare coins. There were 251 working days in 1995. If you figure a work day at 8 hours, that means, Spectrum spent $100,000 every 4 hours and 45 minutes! Spectrum needs to buy your coins and is willing to pay absolute top dollar.

IF YOU WANT TO GET THE MOST MONEY FOR YOUR COINS... GO DIRECTLY TO THE SOURCE.

The amazing thing about the $42,347,978 worth of rare coins that Spectrum purchased in 1995, is that only $1,693,919 were purchased directly from the public. If you want to sell coins to the ultimate buyer, if you want to get as much money as possible for your coins, then shouldn't you go directly to the source? Shouldn't you go directly to the King of Cash?

WHAT KIND OF COINS CAN YOU SELL TO THE KING OF CASH?

Spectrum paid $962,500 for the 1913 Liberty Nickel. And they paid $1,815,000 for the King of Siam Proof Set. But the facts are that 91% of Spectrum's purchases are for coins less than $5,000. And 18% of Spectrum's purchases are for coins less than $200.

While Spectrum is the nation's top dollar buyer of ultra rare United States coins, Spectrum is also the major buyer for moderately priced United States numismatic coins. Here's a short list of some of the items that King of Cash is currently interested in buying: Original BU bags of Morgan/Peace dollars, BU rolls of Walking Liberty 50C and Mercury dimes, ALL BU gold coins, pre-1916 Type coins in all grades, pre-1943 Proof coins and sets, and especially COMPLETE COLLECTIONS!

HOW TO CASH IN

If you've decided that you want to trade all or some of your coins for cash, you should know that it's really easy to do business with Spectrum. If you have rare coins for sale and you want to sell them for as much money as possible, then all you have to do is pick up the phone any weekday between 9:00 am and 5:00 pm California time and call the Spectrum cash line 714-955-1250 collect. Ask for Greg or Thad and tell them you have coins for sale. TELL THEM YOU WANT TO TALK TO THE KING OF CASH.

Dealers Enjoy Long Beach Activity

Heritage Long Beach Sales Total over $3.5 Million

The future of the Long Beach Expo appears to be bright again as dealers report more than satisfactory results from the thrice yearly show. Every dealer we spoke with felt that the show atmosphere was much improved. Business was steadier than normal for this time of the year. Also, Long Beach Expo officials report progress with the State Board of Equalization; if this continues, we should see more dealers from the East Coast returning to the popular West Coast Show.

You might think those auction sales of over $15 million in the last month would tend to hurt a major sale at the end of this run; especially when one of them is the $11,500,000, Eliasberg Sale (one of the most important auctions in a very long time). However, Heritage was not to be outdone in terms of quantity and quality as they finished a very busy month of May with a Long Beach Bullet Sale ($500,000+) and a Signature Sale (nearly $3,000,000). This brought the month's auction total to over $17,000,000; and this is just from the important sales we reported. The following highlights were taken from the Bullet Sale.

The P C I Capsule . . .

✓ $7⁵⁰ PER COIN

✓ 6-DAY SERVICE

*Tells why more people
are turning to P C I*

☐ PCI accepts direct submittals from the general public, collectors and dealers. There are no minimum or maximum submittal requirements.

☐ PCI recognizes that all coins are not "generic." We grade, authenticate, verify and list attributes for errors and varieties such as 5, 5+, & 6 steps for Jefferson nickels, DM (deep mirror), DMPL (deep mirror proof like) for Morgan dollars, and we apply our exclusive attribute PQ (premium quality) to those coins that qualify.

☐ PCI provides our original "Red Label" capsule for "problem" coins, and assigns the grade right on the label (exceptions are: altered, counterfeits, etc.)

☐ PCI offers the most affordable rates of any "third party grading service" — and we provide the fastest turnaround time of any grading service . . . for the applicable fee of $7⁵⁰ per coin, plus postage and insurance.

☐ PCI excels at providing the highest quality customer service. We will go the extra mile to meet the needs of our customers, and our service is backed by our guarantees!

☐ As a special bonus — PCI provides a FREE storage box when twenty (20) coins are submitted. ($5 charge for storage box on orders containing less than 20.)

After our 6th year of new and innovative ideas and technology in setting the pace for 3rd party grading, we at PCI have come to rely upon business practices that you can consistently count on. Your coins will be accepted, authenticated, and graded at the lowest rate and the fastest turnaround time of any service . . . guaranteed!!

"Firm" Certified Market is the Summer Watchword Sight-Unseen Coins Nearly Steady Last Three Years

Now that the multitude of major auctions is nearly over for the time being (the exception being the Stack's Sale currently taking place as we write—results will be forthcoming next week), the market can take a breather and get back to "business as usual." As dealers accomplish the difficult task of distributing their new auction purchases to their customers, it is made just a little more arduous when two customers want the same coin. In trying to satisfy everyone, dealers must make trade-offs; a little here and a little there. If you can't make everyone happy, scratching one coin off a want list is much better than nothing.

This week finds the overall market reasonably busy at current Bid levels. As dealers balance their upcoming show schedules with office and store hours, they will culminate the very busy past few weeks. Many dealers are again actively Bidding (when there is so much show and auction activity, teletype bidding usually slows considerably) for coins they need. They have delivered recent purchases to their customers and received freshly updated want lists. Most dealers report that they continue to need many of the same coins; want lists are usually half-filled with coins that are difficult to locate, let alone at reasonable prices.

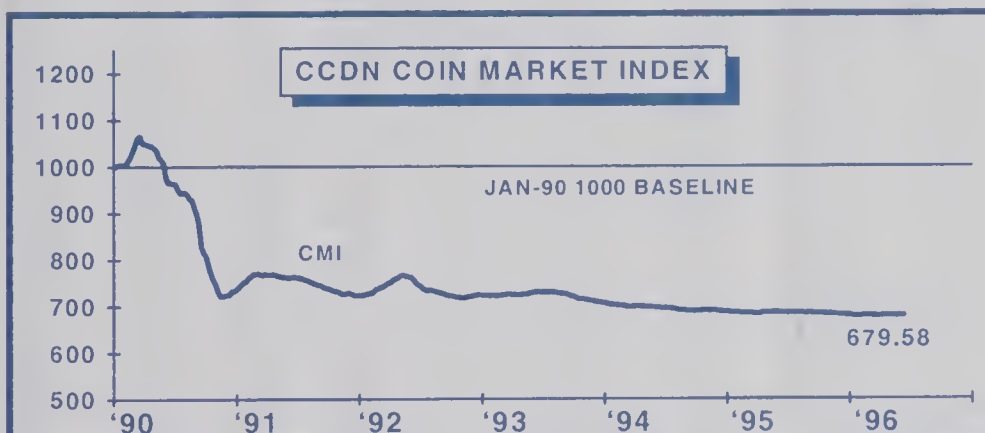

The most important aspect of the recent events is that the market remains stable. The active Bids remain virtually unchanged, thus, supporting a previously nervous market. It appears that 1996 has seen a substantial amount of coins trade into "well-heeled" hands; millions of dollars in rare coins are going off the market. Granted, some specific issues still show occasional declines. There are ups and downs in any active market; these cycles make for a healthy market. Every series cannot be hot all the time; well, usually not.

If you compare the "CCDN Coin Market Index" graph below (1990 to 1996) to the same index graphed from January 1993 to June 1996 (to the right), you will notice that the latter period has been one of leveling off. After the rises and falls of 1987 through 1992, the market has virtually solidified. When we began our CCDN Coin Market Index in January 1990, the initial baseline equaled 1000. It rose above that point for a while in 1990, but then fell dramatically, inching toward the 700 level in late 1991.

From late 1991 until the end of 1993, there had been market fluctuations, both upward and downward, resulting in high and low points between the 700 and 800 CMI. At the beginning of 1993, the CMI stood at 722.81; as of this week, it is down only about 6% during a period when numismatics has virtually been ignored by non-traditional buyers. This is equivalent to a slightly receding hairline—not nearly as bad as the alternative. Considering that market support came almost exclusively from within the industry, we can be thankful that the 1991-1993 trend has been relegated to historical data.

If you view the CMI as of January 1994, you find that it stood at 706.18; and January 1995, was 680.46. Nearly half way through 1996, we find the market less nervous; we are seeing direction for the first time in a long while. By reviewing the events of the past three years, we can see that these have actually been building years. The first five months of this year supports this logic. Dealers think it is time to get involved. Jump on board!

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDN may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDN uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

MARKET STRENGTH CONTINUES BUYERS FOCUS ON AUCTIONS & "BIG-TICKETS"

ACTIVITY across the market

By Kevin Foley
The collectible paper money market continues to be a bright spot in an otherwise lackluster numismatic marketplace. The November National and World Paper Money Convention house was a sell-out. The house for Krause Publications' February 18-19 Chicago Paper Money Exposition sold out in early December and has a waiting list of 15 dealers waiting space. One market barometer seldom commented upon is the relative ease for difficulty of currency specimens have in filling these source areas. While connoisseurs have tended to shrink in size over the past three years (some quite considerably), this has not been the case in the paper money area. Not only are established dealers continuing to return, but new entrants are also supporting the paper money specialty sector.

Buyers continue to display strong interest in auctions. As mentioned here in the past, it is not unusual for new individuals to attempt to make a purchase from a dealer in a private transaction actually pay even more for a comparable item at auction. Because of the inherent subjectivity in grading, and the fact that grading opinions and abilities vary widely even among recognized professionals, many buyers seem to need the assurance of a sale provided by the auction process. This is the auction advantage of knowing that someone else (the party they are bidding against) shares their opinion of an item's value. That the winning bid of $5,000 awarded a note from someone else who felt it was nice enough to be worth $1,000 in a private transaction, without the other buyers present in the auction arena, the additional confirmation of value is lacking. The fear then is that the $2,000 item may only be worth perhaps $1,000 to the next buyer.

This general attitude of buyers who behave quite aggressively at auction and just as timidly in private transactions has resulted in a two-tiered market. The same material, identical but not well sold for a higher price at auction than in a private transaction. In addition, material offered at auction is far more liquid and especially so, rather than languishing in a display case for an extended period. As a principal in Currency Auctions of America, this is a process I constantly note.

LARGE SIZE TYPE NOTES

This is one of the strongest areas in numismatics and shows every sign of remaining that way. Prices are moving up for all conditions of material, from VG to Gem. In addition, buyers are seeking notes in all price ranges. The most expensive notes, those rare pieces typically selling above $10,000, are especially sought. A whole new group of buyers for this kind of material has become active in the past two to three years. The market here had previously been quite thin, and dealers were often frustrated that an item which "ought to be a winner" based on its rarity and value would be a disappointingly low number simply because there were so few buyers for such rarities. That situation has been completely reversed today, as a growing number of buyers with resources to match their interests have entered the field. These buyers realize that if they miss a note in one of their competitions, such an item may not become available to them again for years, if ever.

SMALL SIZE TYPE NOTES

Interest here remains in the specialty areas, i.e., Series 500 Notes, rare black ink notes, etc. Buyers are attracted by the fact that a lot of study and knowledge can be quite handsomely rewarded. The differences between a rare and common piece can be as simple as a prefix letter in the serial number or a single digit in a back plate number. Students of small type notes will often have greater knowledge of these nuances than a selling dealer and may often "cherry-pick" a bargain as a result. Prices of 10pc material remain quite stable and can be expected to do so because of large quantities available for fractional.

FRACTIONAL CURRENCY

The Martin Gengerle Collection is the only complete regular issue fractional collection yet formed, as being offered for sale on January 8-9 in Orlando, Florida, by Currency Auctions of America. The collection contains numerous premium condition and ultra scarce straight rare pieces. Its sale will redefine current values for fractional.

NATIONAL BANK NOTES

Like the Large Type market, National Bank notes are attracting a growing body of collectors not afraid to spend serious money to acquire items needed for their collections. One attraction offered by National Bank is the considerable challenge presented by the task of forming a distinguished collection. The surviving population of notes from many banks is minuscule, only a tiny handful of pieces, with some banks still awaiting the appearance of a discovery piece. Except for the rarest, notes on banks that exist in tiny quantities can be typically acquired below $1,000 for a few thousand dollars at most, and in many instances for less than $1,000. These dual factors the challenge of acquisition and relatively low prices in relation to rarity can be expected to continue to stimulate interest in National Bank.

MISCELLANEOUS

Stocks and Bonds, Unissued Notes and Confederate material continue to enjoy the same strong demand as in the recent past.

AUCTIONS

Buyers will have much to choose from in the coming months. Currency Auctions of America will hold a 2 1/2-day lot sale in Orlando in January. R.M. Smythe and Company will hold a significant Stock and Bond sale in conjunction with its Jan. auction. Pennsylvania stock and bond convention later that month. Lyn Knight will hold a major sale February 25-26 in conjunction with the inaugural Chicago Paper Money Exposition.

Summer Begins More Positive Than Usual Dealers Maintain Active Want Lists For Clients

As the summer months approach, many dealers are wondering what course sight-unseen trading will take. Because the summer usually reflects sporadic activity, at best, the market has a tendency to drift slightly lower. However, as we head toward July, we find that most series are receiving the same amount of Bidding activity that they have enjoyed over the last several months. There are many dealers across America trying to fill orders for their customers and they are willing to pay the current Bids, or higher. Even the issues that are currently out of favor, are still finding participation by dealers who may be bargain-hunting; but their buys are generally at levels just under reported Bids. This has a tendency to preserve current Bid levels unless there are discounted trades taking place.

Some dealers find it difficult to get very excited about a steady market. If the market isn't advancing head-over-heels, then we must be in a down market. Nothing could be further from the truth. The most important aspect of a steady market is the fact that the majority of retail dealers can sell coins to their customers and not have them return in a few weeks complaining that the market has "fallen again." As long as the customer feels that the market doesn't move against him, he is usually willing to purchase more coins on a regular basis.

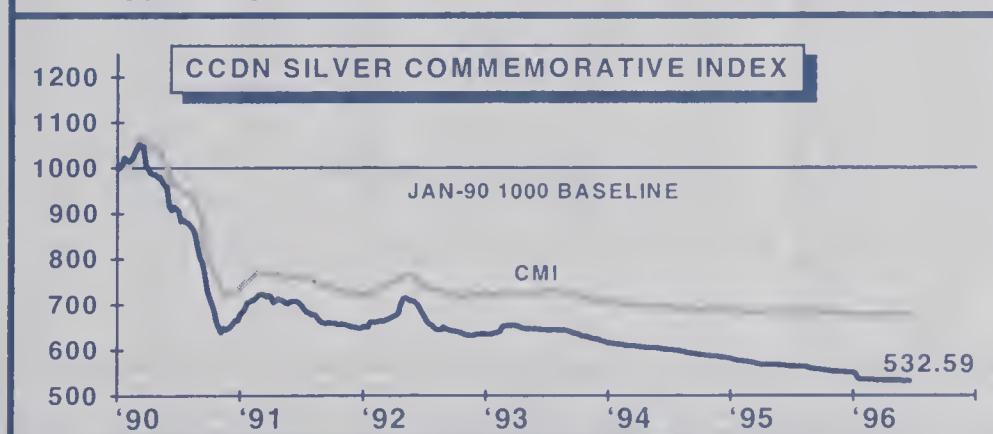

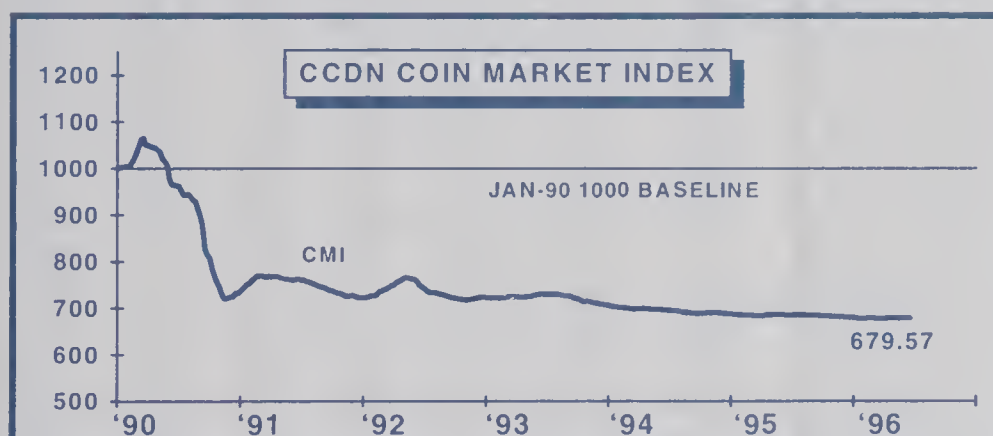

Of course, nothing short of a raging bull market is going to satisfy some dealers, but until we reach that point, many dealers are satisfied with "steady." Speaking of steady, that is exactly what this week's sight-unseen market is. Ninety-seven percent of all the Bids listed are unchanged. There are just over 110 advances and nearly the same number of declines. Sounds like a fairly balanced market. Silver and Gold Commems are very active with many more plus signs than minuses.

Morgan and Peace Dollars are mostly even as are most of the other series.

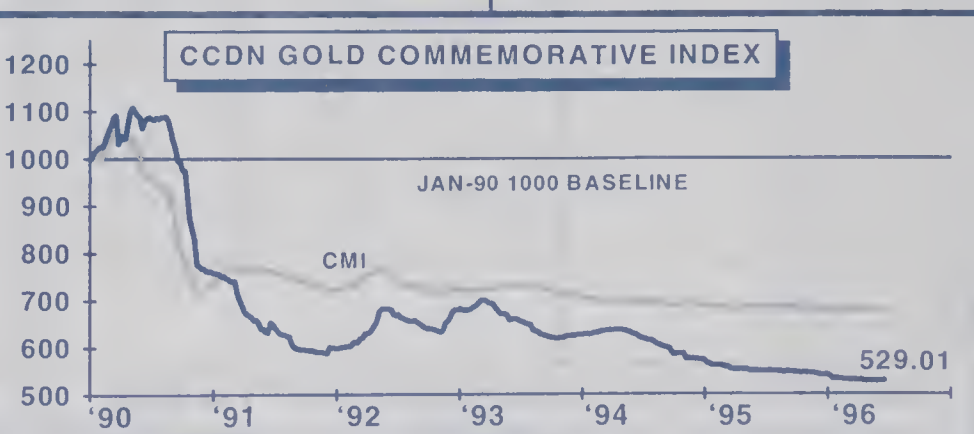

Two areas that were hit somewhat hard this past week, were the Buffalo Nickel and Mercury Dime charts. The declines were a result of recent auctions that saw some of the better date issues sell at levels well below the previous Bids. When this occurs, we take into account the current active buy prices and adjust our Bids to be more reflective of the current market.

Just when you thought it was safe to put your auction paddle away in storage, you find use for it again. Auctions by Bowers and Merena, Inc., is conducting a sale in New York, on June 24-25. This is named the Herbert D. Spencer Collection and it contains some very lovely rarities. There is something for everybody in this sale; from Copper Cents to Type, Dollars, Commems (Gold and Silver), and Gold (from one dollar to Twenties). There may not be the depth of quality of the Eliasberg Sale, but there is plenty of quality coins and some especially rare ones to attract buyers from all over the country. Just a few of the specimens to watch for follow:

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDn may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDn uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDn does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

Certification does not guarantee protection against the normal risks associated with potentially volatile markets. Client or sight-seen sales may command a substantial premium above Bluesheet Dealer-to-Dealer Bids.

CERTIFIED COIN DEALER NEWSLETTER

Dear Dealer/Subscriber:

As a result of suggestions made by many of you dealers, we are considering a major change in the way we distribute the Certified Coin Dealer Newsletter (Bluesheet). Due to the fact that the wholesale Bids listed in the Bluesheet represent sight-unseen prices, and in no way represent what customers or dealers can buy coins for on a regular basis, you feel that it is detrimental to your business for the public to obtain subscriptions of the Bluesheet. Dealers have said that the public doesn't know how to interpret the prices in the Bluesheet; they don't know how to use them and they can't buy coins at these prices on a sight-seen basis. Therefore, we are willing to limit subscriptions to DEALERS ONLY. This information is and has been for DEALERS ONLY all along. The wholesale prices listed should be for dealers who are willing and able to buy and sell coins as their primary business; not as a hobbyist, only buying selected coins according to their taste. This is done by means of sight-seen purchases.

It has been suggested that we change the heading to read as follows:

CERTIFIED COIN DEALER CCDN — a weekly report on the Sight-Unseen certified market for DEALERS ONLY; published by CDN (est. 1963) newsletter

In order to subscribe to the Bluesheet, it will be more difficult than in the past. This is where you get involved. If you are not willing to follow these steps in order to receive the Bluesheet on a proprietary basis, then we will not be able to make this change to benefit you.

When ordering, you must submit a coin company check, business card or letterhead, or be well-known in the industry as a coin dealer. If you cannot qualify as mentioned, please don't try to subscribe. This information is for legitimate DEALERS ONLY.

Many dealers have suggested that they would be willing to pay more for the Bluesheet if we take it out of the hands of the non-dealer. By limiting the Bluesheet to DEALERS ONLY, it will cut into our bottom-line. We will be doing the same amount of work that offers you the most accurate, up-to-date prices; therefore, we will have to increase the price of the subscription in the near future.

It's time for you to tell us what you think.

Should we make the Bluesheet for DEALERS ONLY? ☐ YES ☐ NO

Would you be willing to go through the proper information channels to verify that you are a full-time dealer? ☐ YES ☐ NO

Would you be willing to pay more for the Bluesheet if we make it DEALERS ONLY? ☐ YES ☐ NO

What would you be willing to pay for a one year proprietary subscription to the Bluesheet for DEALERS ONLY? ☐ $15 More ☐ $25 More ☐ $50 More ☐ Double!

If you subscribe to the DEALERS ONLY Bluesheet, will you still let your customers see it? ☐ YES ☐ NO

Let them have an old copy? ☐ YES ☐ NO

Other remarks / suggestions: _____

Whether we make this change or not depends on you!

Morgan Dollars - The Most Popular United States Coin

When we decided to give away a free coin as part of this experimental PCGS Population Report offer, we felt we should use the most significant coin possible. Our choice was easy. It's been estimated that more people collect Morgan dollars than any other United States coin series. It's an important coin and a PCGS graded MS64 Morgan dollar is a very high quality example. In addition, the price is right (about $40 retail, down from a 1986 wholesale high bid of $400). We thought the PCGS graded MS64 Morgan dollar was the best coin we could offer.

To Sweeten The Deal...

How about a 100% MONEY-BACK GUARANTEE? As always, PCGS is never happy until you're happy.

Therefore, we are going to offer you a 100% MONEY-BACK GUARANTEE on your subscription to the PCGS Population Report. Balanced Market Appears Ready For Summer Dealers Report Satisfaction With Retail Sales

When is boring a good thing? Not when you are at a party. Not when you are at a hockey or baseball game. Boring is especially not good when you are on vacation; boring is, well—depressing. Boring can be good when the sight-unseen coin market is, you guessed it, steady. In our type of business, the summer months are supposed to be kind of quiet, easy-going. Money people take their families and go on vacations and get away from the everyday hubbub of life.

People who can afford to take the time off and enjoy their families are the very same people who prompt our continued existence in the coin business. Without these prosperous people, the coin industry would be relegated to a market not unlike that of the 60s and early 70s. These are the people that put "industry" into the coin hobby. If they want to take a vacation, the market might slow down for a little while, but when they return, the market should be hunky-dory again.

The previous dissertation is our way of introducing you to this summer's sneak preview: "The Summer of Our Content." Now showing at a coin shop or coin show near you. When the market is in a cycle of equilibrium, there is not much excitement in which to look forward. The positive aspect of this cycle is that there is a decent amount of business taking place and prices are stable. Dealers do not foresee prices jumping higher in the near term; but they are hopeful that the end of summer will bring an increase in activity and higher Bidding levels.

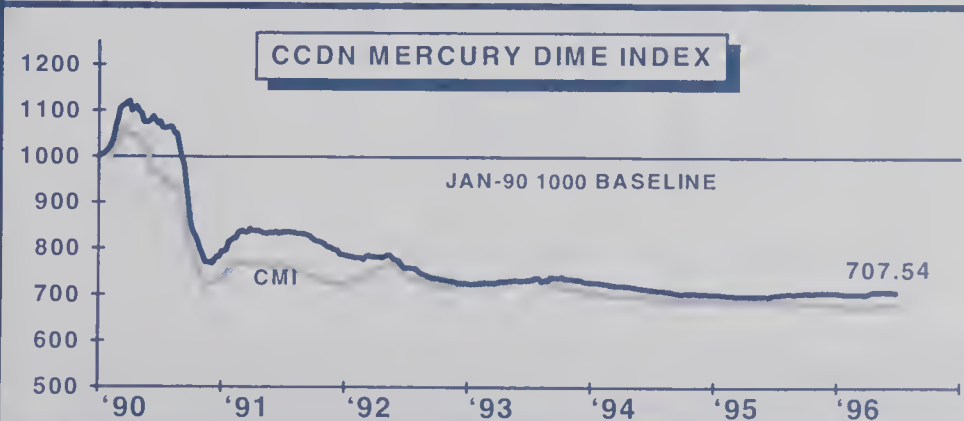

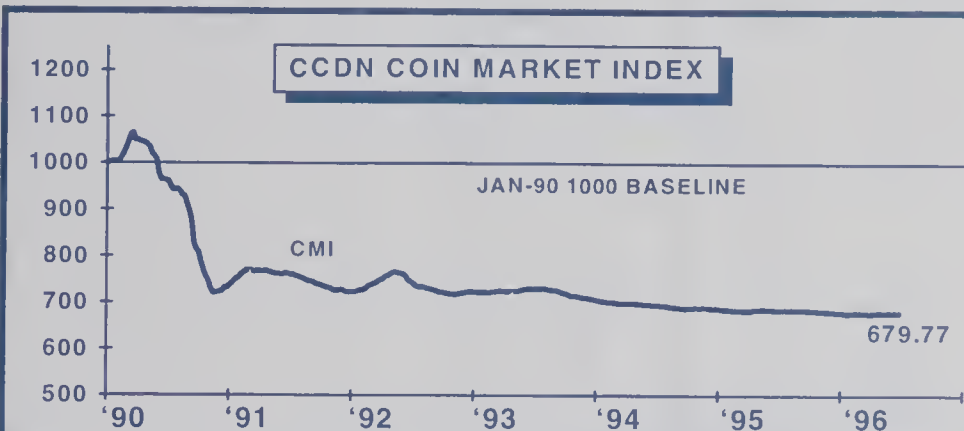

The depth of the current market upholds the Bids listed in the Bluesheet. Over the last couple of months, we have monitored an increase in the number of legitimate buyers for most issues in most series. This is measured against past activity when there was only one buyer for many issues in each series. The seriousness of the current Bids is much more positive because we see as many as ten potential buyers for a particular issue (in grade) within 10% of the high buyer. This depth could lead to higher Bids; as soon as one dealer tops another one's Bids, we could be off and running.

Sotheby's, of New York, has joined the ranks of serious numismatic auction houses. While Sotheby's has been one of the best known auction houses in the world for many decades, its coin auctions have been but a small segment of their overall business. It looks as if that may change as they just completed a $1.6 million sale. The James Haldan Collection attracted collectors, as well as dealers from all over the country.

Not all of the coins in this sale were certified; however, there were many important rarities that were. An 1851C $1 Gold, in NGC65 brought $28,050; an 1888 $20 Liberty, in PCGS Pr64, realized $45,100; and a 1909 $20 Saint (Roman Finish), in PCGS Pr64, topped $24,200. For a complete list of prices realized, please contact Sotheby's. Other highlights include:

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices. The CCDN may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDN uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

Certification does not guarantee protection against the normal risks associated with potentially volatile markets.

Client or sight-seen sales may command a substantial premium above Bluesheet Dealer-to-Dealer Bids.

Some bids within represent very conservative sight-unseen buy prices on the part of the highest visible bidder. In these cases, a more accurate reflection of a coin's true value may be found in the CDN, albeit, on a sight basis.

MARKET LISTINGS

MARKET columns reflect the latest dealer-to-dealer selling prices seen in the market, based on monitoring Low Asks or Last Trades from wholesale trading networks. Sell lists coin shows and other sources of wholesale transactions. Auction prices realized or retail trading information are used to adjust prices for infrequently traded issues. The Publisher warrants that it has exercised due diligence; presently, there is no practicable method of following all wholesale postings or transactions. Readers should be aware that there is no implied guaranty or belief that the prices listed are actually representative of the current market value of any coin; listing does not guarantee that such a coin is now available for purchase or that it was actually available at the time the Market price was posted. Due to the volatile nature of the market, current values may be greater or less than the market price listed. A higher grade coin might display a lower Market level than a lower grade specimen, due to limited sell information. Listing Policy: During the thirty days prior to publication, we track the lowest sales-related price in the marketplace. Last Trade information normally takes precedence over Low Asks, except when a lower Ask is posted during the last week before publication. We delete stagnant Market prices which are lower than current Bid. Since the timeliness of the information is important, we use the following timing symbols: "w" – Lowest asking price during the week prior to publication (week old); "m" – Lowest asking price during the previous three weeks (month old); "t" – Trade during the most recent month; "lm" – Lowest asking price appearing last month, "lt" Trade appearing last month; "ot" Trade older than 2 months; " " a blank, for all Market prices older than two months; "a" for auction transactions; "oa" – auction older than 1 month

COMMEMORATIVES

Some bids within represent very conservative sight-unseen buy prices on the part of the highest visible bidder. In these cases, a more accurate reflection of a coin's true value may be found in the CDN, albeit, on a sight basis.

Coin Market Index Moves Higher Last Three Months Consistent Business Spurs Dealers' Active Bids

Since the April 5th issue of the Certified Coin Dealer Newsletter, we have seen the CMI rise in twelve of the fifteen issues to date. This immediately tells us that the sight-unseen market has had a tendency to higher levels over this time period. Not only that, but, the market must be solid enough to warrant these higher Bids. Taking it one step further, dealers have to be doing business with their retail clients, or they would not be willing to pay these higher levels. Considering the fact that over $20 million has been spent on auction material over the last two months alone, rare coins must be going off the market into assiduous collector hands.

Even though we have written that the market has been relatively stable for the last three years (June 14th CCDn issue—see chart), the weekly CMI has had a tendency toward lower levels, even if it has been slightly lower. In some quarters of the year, within 1993 to the end of 1995, it was difficult to find even one week where the CMI moved up.

However, 1996 is a much different story. Through the first half of the year (January 5 through June 28), we have had fourteen weeks down and thirteen weeks up; and ten of the "down" weeks occurred in the first twelve weeks of the year. It can be concluded that the "tip" of the cycle is now pointing above the ninety day average—since April 5th. If the retail business can sustain itself over the next couple of months and dealers continue to make their sight-unseen Bids visible, the last half of the year just might be enjoyable for those who are participating.

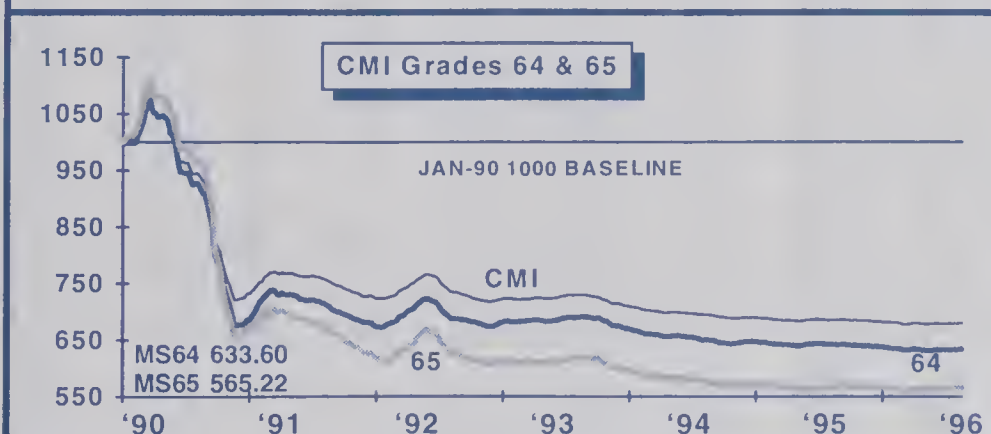

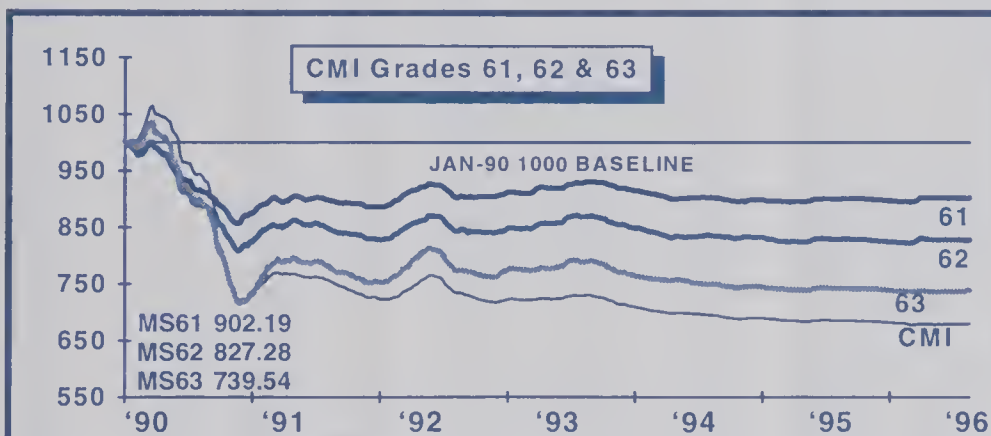

Speaking of active participation, one of the major certified dealers has become frustrated in his quest for Copper Type coins. He has raised a considerable number of Bids anticipating that some of these coins will come to him. This is normally an area that is not heavily Bid because the supply is not too extensive. Many dealers buy Copper because they like the coin at the price offered, not because they expect the market to rise.

One further thought: Copper is one of the areas with a very heavy collector base. Dealers in Copper may not be as visibly active, for sight-unseen coins, as in other areas, but you will not find more intense collectors if they like the coin they are offered. Also, because of the color variations in copper coins, the majority of buyers want to visibly see the coins before they commit their funds.

Auctions by Bowers and Merena, Inc. just completed the Herbert D. Spencer Collection sale, on June 24th and 25th. This very active sale realized over $1,560,000. Something for everyone could be found in this auction; from Early Copper to $20 Gold, and almost everything in-between. For a complete list of prices realized, please contact Bowers and Merena. ☐ PCI accepts direct submittals from the general public, collectors and dealers. There are no minimum or maximum submittal requirements.

☐ PCI recognizes that all coins are not "generic." We grade, authenticate, verify and list attributes for errors and varieties such as 5, 5+, & 6 steps for Jefferson nickels, DM (deep mirror), DMPL (deep mirror proof like) for Morgan dollars, and we apply our exclusive attribute PQ (premium quality) to those coins that qualify.

☐ PCI provides our original "Red Label" capsule for "problem" coins, and assigns the grade right on the label (exceptions are: altered, counterfeits, etc.)

☐ PCI offers the most affordable rates of any "third party grading service" — and we provide the fastest turnaround time of any grading service . . . for the applicable fee of $750 per coin, plus postage and insurance.

☐ PCI excels at providing the highest quality customer service. We will go the extra mile to meet the needs of our customers, and our service is backed by our guarantees!

☐ As a special bonus — PCI provides a FREE storage box when twenty (20) coins are submitted. ($5 charge for storage box on orders containing less than 20.)

After our 6th year of new and innovative ideas and technology in setting the pace for 3rd party grading, we at PCI have come to rely upon business practices that you can consistently count on. Your coins will be accepted, authenticated, and graded at the lowest rate and the fastest turnaround time of any service . . . guaranteed!!

Certified Market May Be Stronger Than it Appears Limited Knowledge Might Be Detrimental To Overall Picture

While researching some recent price history for a subscriber lately, we rediscovered several areas of the market that have benefited since the beginning of the year. While the overall CMI has just recently climbed above the level it began the year with (January 5 = 680.46 — July 12 = 682.35), there are several series where the individual CMI is still lower than when the year started. However, you must keep in mind that the year began with a negative CMI nearly every week through March.

In reviewing various series, it became apparent that the biggest losses came from issues that were not trading on a regular basis. In many cases, these coins were high grade rarities, but common dates. For example, the 1938 Walker, in PCGS67, was Bid at $4,000 in the January 5th issue. It had been stagnant at this level since May 15, 1992; we saw no activity with the 4 coin population over this period of time. Then in early January, of this year, an example sold at auction for $2,300; thus, the current Bid is reported at $2,400.

If you use the CMI as the only indication of whether the certified market is higher or lower, you may arrive at false conclusions. When a coin price remains stagnant for a long period of time, and then trades at 40% less than its listed Bid, thus causing the more appropriate price to be reported, it has an alarming effect on the CMI for that particular series. However, this appears to be more of a market adjustment for a specific issue rather than a meaningful downward trend for the whole series.

You must view the whole series to get an accurate picture of what has really taken place. The Walker series, for example, has been very steady with a multitude of buyers since the beginning of the year.

It is very active with many collectors seeking specific dates in very particular grades. If you ask knowledgeable dealers how the Walker series is doing, they would report

Walkers	Grade	Jan 5, Bid	July 12, Bid	% Increase
1935S	NGC64	$245	$360	+46.9%
1919D	NGC64	$6,500	$9,000	+38.5%
1941	PCGS63	$25	$29	+16.0%
1934	PCGS65	$216	$250	+15.7%
1939S	PCGS65	$145	$165	+13.8%
1935S	PCGS64	$370	$420	+13.5%
1919D	PCGS64	$8,000	$9,000	+12.5%
1919	NGC67	$8,000	$9,000	+12.5%
1916S	NGC65	$2,700	$3,000	+11.1%

that, "It is fine." Nonetheless, since the beginning of the year, the Walker CMI has fallen a little over seven points (from 762.61 to 754.98).

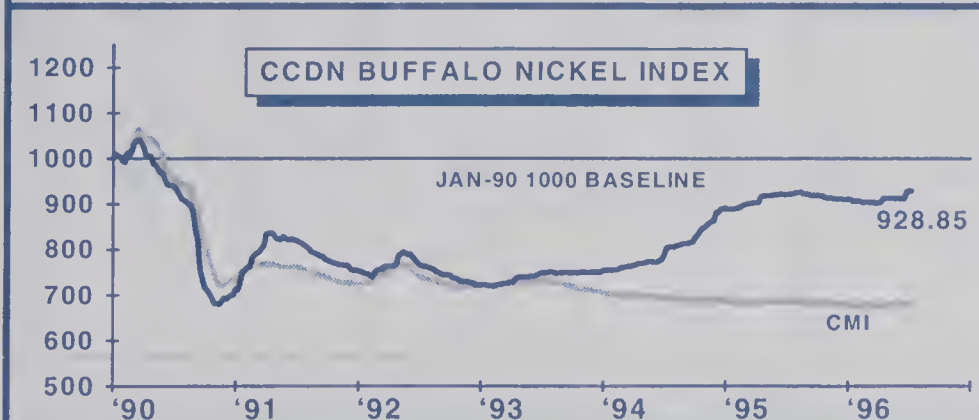

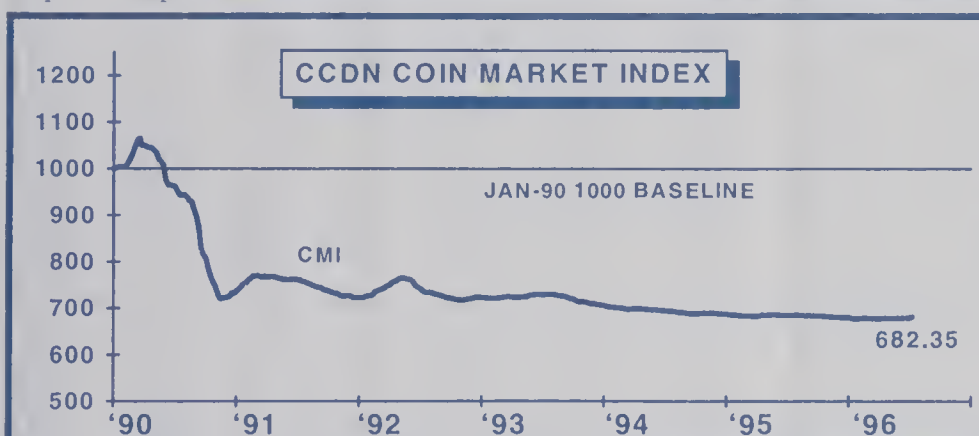

The CMI, like the Dow Jones Average, has limited value. If you owned stocks the past several years that were out of favor, all the while the Dow has jumped to record highs, you wouldn't be that impressed. Since the beginning of the year, there are well over fifty issues in the Walker series that have increased in value. Listed in the chart are the best performers to date.

While Walkers have been very consistent this year, Silver Commemoratives began the year seriously weak, and continued that way until about five weeks ago. On January 5th, their CMI was 550.90, and is now at 530.39. Most dealers would agree that this series is generally down since the first of the year. However, how do you explain that there are over one hundred and fifty Silver Commem issues that have advanced since the first of the year? At the beginning of the year, there were numerous MS67 issues at very high levels. Since then, they have traded at prices as low as 35% to 55% of those levels. Included in this group is the PCGS67 Monroe, which was listed at $13,000, and is now Bid at $4,900. In this article, we are more interested in the issues that have advanced since the beginning of the year.

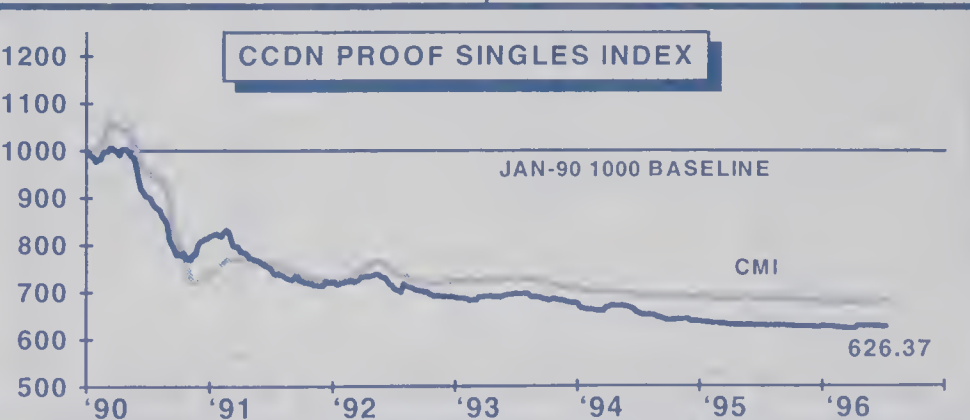

What these charts exhibit, is the fact that there are plenty of opportunities to make money with certified coins. Also, you must look at all segments of a series, not just the CMI that measures the whole series altogether. As with Walkers, there are seven grades, there is the 1941 to 1947 set, the 1934 to 1940 series, and the early dates—1916-1933; all segments that make up the whole picture.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDN may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDN uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

Certification does not guarantee protection against the normal risks associated with potentially volatile markets. Client or sight-seen sales may command a substantial premium above Bluesheet Dealer-to-Dealer Bids.

MARKET STRENGTH CONTINUES BUYERS FOCUS ON AUCTIONS & "BIG-TICKETS"

ACTIVITY

by Kevin Haley

The collectable paper money market continues to be a bright spot in an otherwise lackluster numismatic marketplace. The November National and World Paper Money Convention became a sell-out. The bourse for Krause Publications' February 24-26 Chicago Paper Money Exposition sold out in early December, and here a waiting list of 13 dealers waiting space. One market banner seldom commented upon is the relative ease (or difficulty) convention sponsors have in filling their bourse areas. While coin shows have tended to shrink in size over the past five years (some quite considerably), this has not been the case in the paper money area. Not only are established dealers continuing to return, but new entrants are also supporting the paper money specialty events.

Buyers continue to display strong interest in auctions. As commented here in the past, it is not unusual to see individuals reluctant to make a purchase from a dealer in a private transaction actually pay even more for a comparable item at auction. Because of the inherent subjectivity of grading, and the fact that grading opinions and abilities vary widely even among recognized professionals, many buyers seem to need the assurance of what is provided by the auction process. This is the auction assurance of knowing that someone else—the party they are bidding against—shares their opinion of an item's value. That winning bid of $2,183 awarded a note from someone else who felt it was nice enough to be worth $1,000. In a private transaction, without the other buyers present in the auction arena, this additional confirmation of value is lacking. The fear then is that the $2,000 item may only be worth perhaps $1,000 to the next buyer.

This general attitude of buyers who behave quite aggressively at auction and just as timidly in private transactions has resulted in a two-tiered market. The same material, more often than not, will sell for a higher price at auction than in a private transaction. In addition, material offered at auction is far more liquid and typically sells, rather than languishing in a display case for an extended period. As a principal in Currency Auctions of America, this is a process I constantly note.

LARGE SIZE TYPE NOTES

This is one of the strongest areas in numismatics and shows every sign of remaining that way. Prices are moving up for all conditions of material from VG to Gem. In addition, buyers are seeking notes in all price ranges. The most expensive notes (those rare pieces typically selling above $10,000) are especially strong. A whole new group of buyers for this kind of material has become active in the past two to three years. The market here had previously been quite thin, and dealers were often frustrated that an item which "ought to be worth more" based on its rarity, would sell for a disappointingly low number—simply because there were so few buyers for such rarities. This situation has been completely reversed today as a growing number of buyers, with resources to match their interests, have entered the field. These buyers realize that if they miss a note in one of these competitions, such an item may not become available to them again for years, if ever.

SMALL SIZE TYPE NOTES

Interest here remains in the specialty areas (e.g., Star Notes, error blocks, misprints). Buyers are attracted by the fact that a bit of study and knowledge can be quite handsomely rewarded. The differences between a rare and common piece can be as simple as a prefix letter in the serial number or a single digit in a back plate number. Students of small type will often have greater knowledge of these nuances than a willing dealer and may often "hurry pick" a bargain as a result. Prices of type material remain quite stable and can be expected to do so because of large quantities available.

FRACTIONAL CURRENCY

The Martin Gengerik Collection, the only complete regular issue fractional collection yet formed, is being offered for sale on January 17 in Orlando, Florida by Currency Auctions of America. The collection contains numerous premium condition and ultra-wear to outright rare pieces. Its sale will redefine current values for fractional.

NATIONAL BANK NOTES

Like the Large Type market, Nationals are attracting a growing body of collectors not afraid to spend serious money to acquire items needed for their collections. The attraction started by Nationals is the considerable challenge presented by the task of forming a distinguished collection. The surviving population of notes from many banks constitutes only a tiny handful of pieces, with some banks still awaiting the appearance of a discovery piece. Despite this rarity, notes in banks that cost in tiny quantities can be typically acquired (after hours) for a few thousand dollars at most, and in many instances for less than $1,000. These dual factors—the challenge of acquisition and relatively low prices in relation to rarity—can be expected to continue to stimulate interest in Nationals.

MISCELLANEOUS

Stocks and Bonds, Obsolete Notes and Confederate material continue to enjoy the same strong demand as in the recent past.

AUCTIONS

Buyers will have much to choose from in the coming months. Currency Auctions of America will hold a 2-3 day lot sale in Orlando in January. R.M. Smythe and Company will hold a significant Stock and Bond sale in conjunction with its Lancaster, Pennsylvania, stock and bond investment sale that month. Lyn Knight will hold a major sale February 25-26 in conjunction with the inaugural Chicago Paper Money Exposition.

Type Remains Active; Dealers Prepare For ANA

Dollars Maintain Leadership Role

Type coins are easy to sell at present levels. This generalization may be somewhat exaggerated because of the overgraded or ugly toned coins in the wholesale marketplace; however, if you eliminate the worst examples, the rest of the coins will normally trade. The biggest problem dealers encounter today, is that potential sellers are not as willing to trade their nice Type coins at today's levels. Most sellers want tomorrow's prices. Otherwise, they are willing to wait for higher levels in the future. The future for some coins is now. As we have seen the past couple of weeks, Bid levels for Copper Type (NGC) have increased in MS61-65. This week, the main Bidder has taken a brief respite from advancing his Bids to ascertain his position; notwithstanding, the previous Bids are still active. He has reported that he is not receiving a lot of material and what he buys, he sells very quickly to other dealers who retail coins.

As dealers anticipate the coming ANA in Denver (August 11-18), the ability to sell coins sight-unseen at current levels helps the overall nature of the coin business. If the CMI maintains a stable pace, then sales remain active and coins are trading; coins that are trading make for a very cheerful group of numismatists. Cheerful numismatists spend ever-increasing amounts of money. This in turn could create higher prices as sellers Ask more for their coins; as long as buyers and sellers can interchange, we should have a very exhilarating ANA. Add to this formula the retail public with money to spend and the script just might be perfect.

As we pointed out last week, using the CMI by itself is not a true indication of how the market is faring. Because sight-unseen Bids are the determinant of the CMI, and one of the variables in determining these Bids may be a coin that is the worst possible example, you have to view the whole picture, not just the CMI. We would love to show an "up" market, but we strive to report what is "right", always. We use plus signs where a market is rising and minus signs when a market falls.

Some dealers have suggested we should change the way we report the CMI; the main thing they want changed is the Proof and MS67 issues. You know, the ones that are rare only because of population. Many of these issues were originally rare as the grading services began to grade. They received high Bids from dealers because they knew there were none available. However, as every day goes by, more coins are graded and the likelihood of additional coins coming onto the marketplace makes these previous rarities less attractive. Bids fall and the CMI takes the brunt of the massacre. As these previous rarities reveal their true Bid values, the lower CMI reflected does not provide an accurate picture of the current market. If we were to eliminate the higher previous Bids of these "not-so-rare" rarities, the overall CMI picture would be a lot more positive than it now portrays. We didn't make those Bids, we just reported them. Nevertheless, there are still several areas that have shown progress since the beginning of the year. Silver Dollars are one of the most popular areas of numismatics. The following chart shows how much some of the Dollars have increased since the first of the year.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDn may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDn uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDn does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

The Louis Eliasberg Estate Met The King of Cash...

That's When The King Of Cash Spent $2,448,630 At The Eliasberg Sale

How Much Has The King Of Cash Spent With You This Year?

Talk is cheap, but the facts are at the May Eliasberg sale the King of Cash, Spectrum Numismatics, was the number one buyer. The sale grossed a total of $11,598,089. Spectrum purchases of $2,448,630 represented 21.1% of the entire sale!

And remember, the King of Cash buys everything! At the Eliasberg sale, Spectrum's purchases ranged from an 1887-S Liberty Seated dime for $1,210 to the 1796 No Pole Half Cent for $506,000 (a new record price for a U.S. copper coin.) The King of Cash is interested in all of your coins. And the facts show that the King of Cash is the rare coin market's number one buyer. So far this year the King of Cash has spent $21,660,864. That's $180,507.20 every single day or $100,000 every 4 hours & 25 minutes!

And even though the King of Cash is the number one buyer at nearly every major auction, 85.2% of the King of Cash purchases are coins valued at $500 or less. The King of Cash wants and needs your coins... all of them! Here's a small list of the coins Spectrum Numismatics desperately needs:

- BU Morgan Dollars in roll and bag quantities
- BU Peace Dollars in roll and bag quantities
- Uncirculated Walking Liberty Halves – all dates and all grades
- Uncirculated Mercury Dimes – all dates and all grades
- All pre-1956 Proof Sets
- All pre-1950 U.S. Proof coins
- Silver and Gold Commemoratives – all issues and all grades
- U.S. Gold coins – all dates and all grades
- All Proof Gold coins
- All rare U.S. coins, especially $4 Stella, 1907 High Reliefs, $50 Pan-Pac Octagonal and Rounds, 1907 Wire Edge and Rolled Edge $10 Indians, 1933 $10 Indians

IT'S EASY TO DO BUSINESS WITH THE KING OF CASH

If you've decided that you want to trade all or some of your coins for cash, you should know that it's really easy to do business with Spectrum. If you have rare coins for sale and you want to sell them for as much money as possible, then all you have to do is pick up the phone any weekday between 9:00am and 5:00pm California time and call the Spectrum Cash Line 714-955-1250 collect. Ask for Greg or Thad and tell them you have coins for sale. TELL THEM YOU WANT TO TALK TO THE KING OF CASH.

Sight-Unseen Bidding Moderately Adjusts Market Chicago '96 Sale Features $10 Indians

For the first time in several weeks, competitive sight-unseen Bidding has slowed noticeably. Not that the market has fallen drastically, but the potential buyers are not as eager to pay current Bid levels (or higher) for the coins for which they are Bidding. It just seems as if activity has subsided as vacations take preference to coin trading. This is not unusual, but most dealers were hoping the market would continue to advance, even if it was a slow rise.

As far as coins selling at a discount, do not misinterpret this statement. We are seeing some discounting taking place, but it is not a dramatic increase in the number that we normally see each and every week. The difference this week is that we do not have a lot of plus signs to report in most series. It's as if the market is taking a hiatus. If we saw massive amounts of declines when the usual Bidding activity was withdrawn, then it would be time to worry. Most of the dealers we talk with are readying for ANA in Denver and are taking advantage of this lull in the market.

There was some pretty exciting news from the Greater Chicago Coin Expo last week. Rarcoa and David Akers conducted the Chicago '96 Auction and they reported strong prices realized. The highlights of the sale were the $10 Indians. This was a complete set consignment, although they were sold individually. The 1933, in PCGS64, brought $121,000; the 1920S, in NGC65, realized a hefty $143,000; the 1907 Wire Edge, in PCGS66, was purchased at $74,250; and the 1907 Rolled Edge, in PCGS65, was reported at $71,500. Other highlights include the following:

Denomination	Grade	Price Realized
1857 Flying Eagle	NGC66	$4,675
1921S Buffalo 5c	PCGS65	$3,850
1925S Buffalo 5c	PCGS64	$6,875
1795 Flowing Hair ½ Dime	NGC64	$7,150
1805 Draped Bust Dime	NGC64	$8,470
1824/2 Capped Bust Dime	NGC Pr65	$24,200
1855 L.S. Quarter W/Arr	PCGS66	$11,550
1839O Bust Half	NGC62	$3,300

Denomination	Grade	Price Realized
1861 L.S. Half No/Motto	NGC Pr65	$3,740
1899O Barber Half	PCGS65	$4,125
1933S Walker	PCGS67	$4,950
1864 $1 Gold	PCGS67	$14,850
1831 $2 ½ Gold	PCGS63	$11,550
1864 $2 ½ Gold	PCGS Pr66	$27,500
1805 $5 Gold	NGC61	$8,250
1841D $5 Gold No/Motto	NGC63	$18,700
1866 $20 Gold W/Motto	PCGS61	$6,600

The one positive pocket of Bidding activity occurs in the Type market. The charts are generally unchanged as buyers are focusing on coins that can be purchased at listed Bid levels. However, there is one specific area that is doing very nicely: NGC Mint State Copper Type. There are numerous plus signs covering the MS61 to 65 columns. The main buyer in this area is not getting as many coins as you might think.

This brings up an interesting point. If a dealer wanted to buy one of every coin in the Bluesheet, at the Bid levels listed, how many coins would he be able to buy? The answer is simple: not very many. Market psychology is such that when a potentially powerful buyer appears, all the possible sellers re-adjust their sell prices upward to reflect a more active market. Thus, buyers and sellers will still have to narrow the gap between the spreads. The better, or rare coins will always command more than the Bid prices; and the generic coins will sell almost immediately to the high buyer.

The moral here is that common coins bring common prices and anything better will command higher levels. This is why some retail buyers think they can buy coins at wholesale levels. They are not buying coins at wholesale; the dealer is selling them at wholesale because they want to move them quickly and other dealers do not need them. If other dealers needed these coins at current levels, they certainly would not sell them to retail customers and jeopardize the potential wholesale-dealer/retail-customer relationship.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDN may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDN uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

Certification does not guarantee protection against the normal risks associated with potentially volatile markets.
Client or sight-seen sales may command a substantial premium above Bluesheet Dealer-to-Dealer Bids.

MARKET LISTINGS

MARKET columns reflect the latest dealer-to-dealer selling prices seen in the market, based on monitoring Low Asks or Last Trades from wholesale trading networks, sell here - coin show and other sources of wholesale transactions. Auction prices realized or retail trading information are used to adjust prices for infrequently traded issues. The Publisher warrants that it has exercised due diligence; presently, there is no practicable method of following all wholesale postings or transactions. Readers should be aware that there is no implied guaranty or belief that the prices listed are actually representative of the current market value of any coin; listing does not guarantee that such a coin is now available for purchase, or that it was actually available at the time the Market price was posted. Due to the volatile nature of the market, current values may be greater or less than the market price listed. A higher grade coin might display a lower Market level than a lower grade specimen, due to limited sell information. Listing Policy: During the thirty days prior to publication, we track the lowest sales-related price in the marketplace. Last Trade information normally takes precedence over Low Asks, except when a lower Ask is posted during the last week before publication. We delete stagnant Market prices which are lower than current Bid. Since the timeliness of the information is important, we use the following timing symbols: "w" - Lowest asking price during the week prior to publication (week old); "m" - Lowest asking price during the previous three weeks (month old); "t" - Trade during the most recent month; "lm" - Lowest asking price appearing last month; "lt" Trade appearing last month; "ot" Trade older than 2 months; " " a blank, for all Market prices older than two months; "a" for auction transactions; "oa" - auction older than 1 month.

ATTENTION ALL A.N.A. MEMBERS!

Now You Can Submit Your Coins Directly To The Coin Industry's Number One Coin Grading Service

Nearly all coins sold today are certified by a third party grading service. For the past decade, buyers have insisted on independent verification of a coin's grade before making a purchasing decision. Just a visit to any major coin show will verify that 80% of rare coins sold today are graded by a third party grading service.

If you want...

- an independent opinion of the grade of your coins,
- your coins to have the highest degree of liquidity,
- your coins to be as attractive as possible to potential buyers, then choose third party grading.

Among third party grading services, one stands out from all the rest as the grading service of choice for the rare coin industry. Since 1986, the Professional Coin Grading Service (PCGS) has graded 4,448,724 coins with a declared value of $6,066,133,330. That's more coins than all the other grading services combined. More dealers use PCGS for grading than any other grading service. These professionals know that PCGS coins are worth more than coins graded by other grading services, so PCGS coins are easier to sell. If the professionals choose PCGS for their coin grading, shouldn't you?

Today, submitting coins to PCGS is even easier than ever. All A.N.A. Members now can submit coins directly to PCGS for grading. That's right...directly to PCGS. It's easy, it's affordable, and it takes less than 30 days. To submit your coins to PCGS, call 800-447-8848 and ask for an ANA Submission Kit or return this coupon today.

Do you want professional assistance in determining which coins should be submitted to a third party grading service? You can depend on the PCGS Authorized Dealer network. Bidding Activity Increases as ANA Approaches

Mint State Gold On the Rise—Higher Sight-Unseen Bids

As the calendar turns the page to August, it must be time for the ANA. Just as Atlanta has dressed-up for the Olympics, so is Denver readying for the ANA. Maybe not quite as impressive, but to the world of numismatics, the ANA is just as important. Billed as the hobby's biggest show, the ANA begins its convention with the PNG Day on August 13th; ANA runs through the 17th. The hobby's biggest show is much more important to most dealers than the term "hobby" would indicate. Numismatics has been big business ever since the boom in the mid '60s to the early '80s. Most dealers look forward to this event as the high point of the year.

The amount of Bidding activity has increased this past week as befits the nature of the ANA. Mint State Gold is on the rise, as several dealers raised their Bids. In a few cases, certain issues gained 5% to 10%. One of the nation's major market leaders is pursuing many individual issues and will take quantities of most of them. This institution is the leading Bidder for several categories. There are a few other companies also in the market at this time. When this type of activity occurs, it is sometimes difficult to determine who is actually leading the market. Where are these coins going? Who is retailing them?

In all honesty, it does not matter who retails coins, just as long as they are removed from the wholesale marketplace. Many dealers are reporting that they are having more and more success with retail sales. This is what they feel must happen in order for the coin business to become more successful. More dealers are attempting to develop a longer-lasting relationship with their customers in order to secure both of their futures.

There are two major auctions being held in conjunction with the ANA. The first one will be conducted by Auctions by Bowers and Merena, Inc. on August 12th. This one-session sale is filled with many rarities; in fact, there are too many to mention in these paragraphs. However, we will list a few: (see chart at left).

The second sale will be conducted by Heritage Numismatic Auctions, Inc., the official ANA auction. This will take place August 14th to the 17th, and includes over 4000 lots. This sale is a virtual "Christmas wish book" of great numismatic treasures. You will find numerous high grade collector coins that would fit into any set.

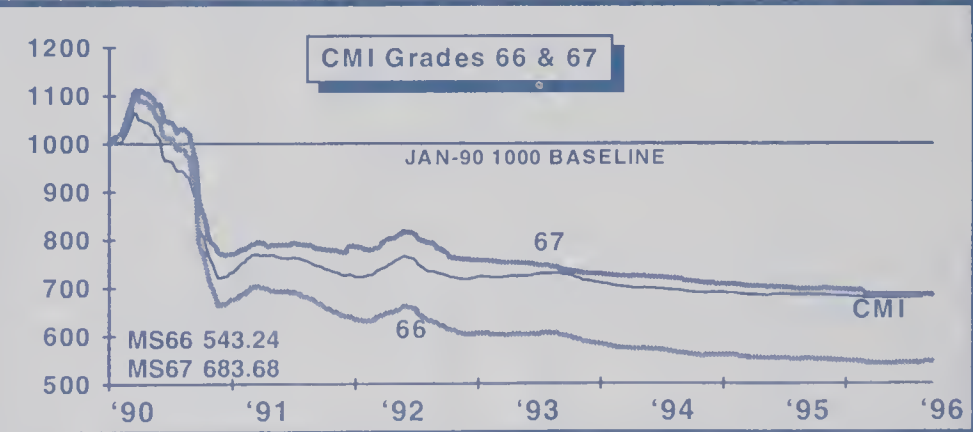

This brief list does not do this sale justice. It's like going to the Olympics and just hanging around Centennial Park; you have to attend some of the events. You must view these coins for yourself or you will not be able to comprehend the magnitude of this "special event".

Some bids within represent very conservative sight-unseen buy prices on the part of the highest visible bidder. In these cases, a more accurate reflection of a coin's true value may be found in the CDN, albeit, on a sight basis.

The P C I Capsule . . .

✓ $750 PER COIN

✓ 6-DAY SERVICE

*Tells why more people
are turning to P C I*

☐ PCI accepts direct submittals from the general public, collectors and dealers. There are no minimum or maximum submittal requirements.

☐ PCI recognizes that all coins are not "generic." We grade, authenticate, verify and list attributes for errors and varieties such as 5, 5+, & 6 steps for Jefferson nickels, DM (deep mirror), DMPL (deep mirror proof like) for Morgan dollars, and we apply our exclusive attribute PQ (premium quality) to those coins that qualify.

☐ PCI provides our original "Red Label" capsule for "problem" coins, and assigns the grade right on the label (exceptions are: altered, counterfeits, etc.)

☐ PCI offers the most affordable rates of any "third party grading service" — and we provide the fastest turnaround time of any grading service . . . for the applicable fee of $750 per coin, plus postage and insurance.

☐ PCI excels at providing the highest quality customer service. We will go the extra mile to meet the needs of our customers, and our service is backed by our guarantees!

☐ As a special bonus — PCI provides a FREE storage box when twenty (20) coins are submitted. ($5 charge for storage box on orders containing less than 20.)

After our 6th year of new and innovative ideas and technology in setting the pace for 3rd party grading, we at PCI have come to rely upon business practices that you can consistently count on. Your coins will be accepted, authenticated, and graded at the lowest rate and the fastest turnaround time of any service . . . guaranteed!!

Rare Coins Top Most Want Lists Collectors Want Those Hard-To-Find Issues

The majority of the nation's marketmakers will be attending the two coin shows in Denver for the next ten days. This will probably cause Bidding activity on the teletype systems to drop off considerably, since this is what usually transpires. However, most dealers we have spoke with over the last two weeks are armed with extended want lists and expect to do a fair amount of business at the shows and the auctions. These same dealers feel that if they can buy want list coins at today's levels, they will have had a successful trip into the Rocky Mountain region.

The key here is that it is very difficult to buy quality coins, or better-date coins, at today's levels, on a consistent basis. Sure, you can find MS65 or MS66 common Morgan Dollars, take your pick from many specimens, and probably pay Bid to 15% over depending on the seller. However, what if your want list contains an 1894O Morgan, in MS64; between PCGS and NGC, there have been 119 graded MS64. If you deduct the ones that have been graded over and over again, trying to get a higher grade, you might have a total population of 70-80 coins to choose from. NOT!!! How many of these coins are even available to choose from? Not very many. So your chance of locating one that is reasonable would not rate very high on the "gonna happen" chart.

If you take this scenario one step farther, you will find that the CCDN sight-unseen Bid is $3,020 (PCGS64); a sight-seen buyer will pay $3,700 if it meets his grading criteria. What do you think your chances are of buying one at anything close to $3,800-$4,000? Relative to other issues that meet these rarity guidelines, a potential seller will probably want $4,500-$5,000. That is, if you can find a seller.

There are hundreds, if not thousands of instances, just like this one. Something like 90% of the coins listed in the Bluesheet are non-generic. That leaves 10% of the ones listed that can trade on a regular basis. These 10% will wholesale at anywhere from 5% under Bids to 10% over Bids depending on the needs of the individual buyer. The balance of the 90% non-generic issues trade occasionally, some less frequently, and others not at all. These are the issues that appear on want lists, from customers; some are willing to pay what the coins are really worth and others are just wishing they could buy these rarities.

Copper Type coins continue to head the list of one major buyer of NGC coins. This results in a major portion of the plus signs in the Type chart this week. In many cases, this marketmaker is still not able to buy all that much material. Most potential sellers are still willing to wait for higher levels. Since the amount of increase in most of these Bids is minimal, it may take quite awhile longer before he fills his needs. The problem oft time arises, that if these needs cannot be filled in a timely manner, the potential customers shift their desires in other directions.

Further, in several categories, the populations are limited, so the number of available coins may be rather minute. Seeing how Copper is an area of great collector interest, this could be the start of an upward cycle if other marketmakers decide to jump on the bandwagon and establish some competition for the available supplies. It would not take too much Bidding activity to move this market to much higher levels. The dilemma that often results is that dealers cannot purchase enough material to warrant the time allocation necessary to realize eventual profits.

A perusal of this week's charts indicates that the majority of coins are steady (actually 97% of the issues listed are unchanged) at present Bids. More than half of the plus signs are in the Mint State Type chart. Please see the following chart for this week's Plus/Minus results.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDN may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDN uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

Certification does not guarantee protection against the normal risks associated with potentially volatile markets.
Client or sight-seen sales may command a substantial premium above Bluesheet Dealer-to-Dealer Bids.

Certified Market Goes to ANA in Denver

Bowers and Merena Rarities Sale Realizes Over $2.7 Million

As you might have guessed, Bidding activity is a little sparse this week due to the number of major marketmakers who are attending the shows and auctions in Denver. At the same time, there is very little discounting taking place on the teletype systems to force prices to lower levels. The net result is that the market remains balanced. As of this writing, early reports from the ANA convention reinforce the feeling that most dealers are experiencing status quo. It is difficult to buy upper-end material (either high grade or rare issues), while average coins are bringing average prices. Low-end graded coins are usually priced reasonably; however, these will only sell if they appear on want lists, or the prices are so attractive that a new buyer is willing to take a chance that he can move it rather quickly.

Coins graded on the low-end of the grading spectrum are usually the coins that cause the sight-unseen market to drift to lower levels. If these coins were regraded and placed in the next lower grade holders, then the market would be significantly stronger than it is today. Dealers would feel more comfortable with sight-unseen bidding, knowing that the worst possible example was still the correct grade. Of course, the customers are not that concerned because they don't buy coins sight-unseen. It's the dealer that ultimately gets hurt, not the retail customer or the grading service, by having these low-end coins in inventory. Thus, many dealers are now Bidding only on sight-seen coins.

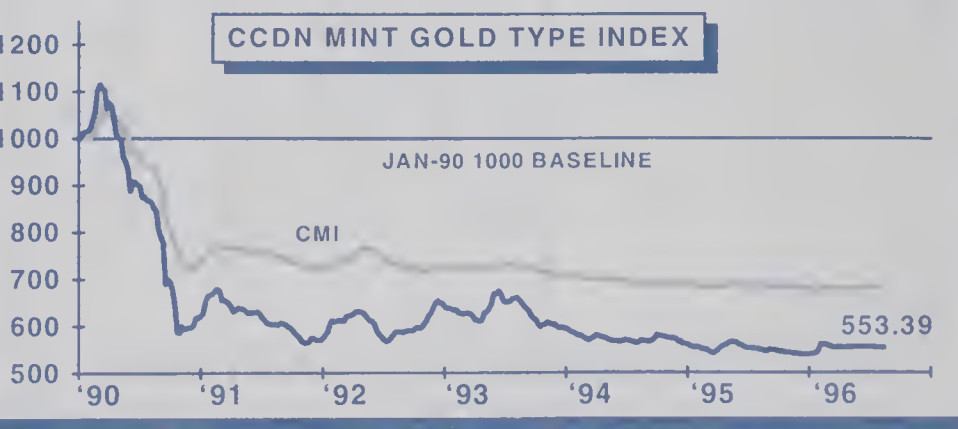

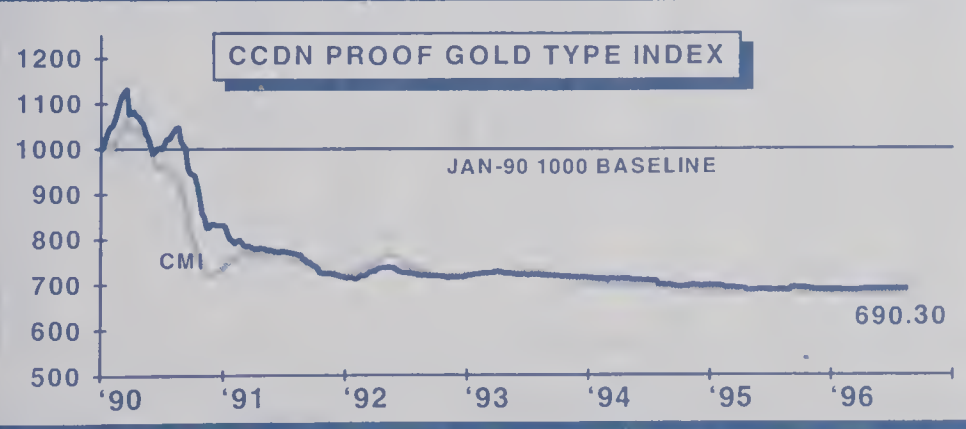

The Bowers and Merena Rarities Sale was only one session, but the 500 lots were very special. Total prices realized approached $2.8 million and there were numerous important rarities that went to new homes. A pair of 1793 Wreath Cents sold back-to-back. One was an MS64 Brown (NGC) that realized $26,950; the other was an MS63 Brown (NGC) and was sold at $25,300. An outstanding 1807 Draped Bust Half (PCGS), in MS64, brought $19,250; an 1830 Bust Half, in Proof64 (NGC), changed hands at $19,250; an 1851 Restrike Seated Dollar, in PCGS Proof64, sold for $27,500; and a Chapman Proof64, 1921 Morgan (PCGS) realized a whooping $31,900. Other highlights appear in the following chart. Be sure to contact Bowers and Merena, Inc., in New Hampshire for a complete listing of Prices Realized.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDn may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDn uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDn does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

Certification does not guarantee protection against the normal risks associated with potentially volatile markets. Client or sight-seen sales may command a substantial premium above Bluesheet Dealer-to-Dealer Bids.

Some bids within represent very conservative sight-unseen buy prices on the part of the highest visible bidder. In these cases, a more accurate reflection of a coin's true value may be found in the CDN, albeit, on a sight basis.

Morgan Dollars - The Most Popular United States Coin

When we decided to give away a free coin as part of this experimental PCGS Population Report offer, we felt we should use the most significant coin possible. Our choice was easy. It's been estimated that more people collect Morgan dollars than any other United States coin series. It's an important coin and a PCGS graded MS64 Morgan dollar is a very high quality example. In addition, the price is right (about $40 retail, down from a 1986 wholesale high bid of $400). We thought the PCGS graded MS64 Morgan dollar was the best coin we could offer.

How about a 100% MONEY-BACK GUARANTEE? As always, PCGS is never happy until you're happy.

ANA Deemed Quite Successful Heritage Sales Realize Over $10.5 Million

At a coin convention the magnitude of the ANA, it is very difficult to determine how the sight-unseen market is performing. However, we can assure you that certified coins were definitely selling at a rapid pace. It is safe to say that the majority of dealers were overwhelmed with the amount of business they were able to conduct. We found more dealers with positive attitudes than at any show in the last three years or more. We had a difficult time locating dealers who would admit to not doing well. In fact, of the hundreds of dealers we spoke with, not one dealer reported having a bad show. I am sure you might think this is highly exaggerated, and there probably were some dealers who did not have a good show, but there sure were a lot of happy dealers.

One area that was extremely active appeared to be the Dollar market. Rare-dates and better-dates (Morgan and Peace) were easy to sell if they were accurately graded and the asking price was within 20%-30% over current Bid levels. Of course, these were considered sight-seen sales, and buyers prefer white or near-white coins; yet, these actions confirm a strengthening market. There are collectors who understand the value of nice coins and they are willing to pay for them as long as they feel that they are receiving good value for their money.

Several dealers informed us that their customers are becoming more sophisticated and educated to quality versus price. This increased understanding has improved many dealers' ability to buy a more varied group of coins for their customers, thus increasing their opportunity to buy and sell coins with other dealers. This, of course, will have the effect of improving the wholesale market even if it does not actually improve sight-unseen Bidding.

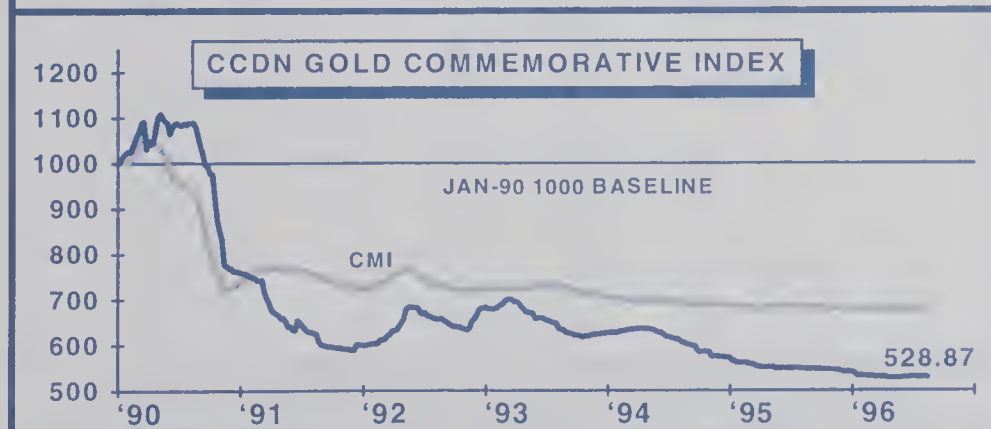

Continuing with our thoughts on Dollars, we found that Peace Dollars with mintmarks, in MS65 and higher, are the current rage. Again, buyers are looking for "whitish" coins with clean (not cleaned) surfaces; they are not looking for upgrades, just properly graded coins. If the coin fits this description, sellers can have a "field day." They can and have charged as much as 30% over current Bids; the buyers are not complaining though, they are smiling as much as the sellers.

Speaking of "field days," Heritage must be ecstatic over the results of their two auctions in Denver. The Bullet Sale realized over $600,000, and the Signature Sale knocked down a colossal $10,000,000. For Prices Realized of both sales, please contact Heritage Numismatic Auctions, Inc., in Dallas. Some of the highlights of the Bullet Sale ensues:

The Heritage Signature Sale was over 4000 lots of quite a variety of numismatic adventure. Happily, we are only concerned with the certified issues for the Bluesheet, otherwise we would be adjusting prices for weeks. Judging by the number of certified coins, we may be working into the wee small hours of the next few nights anyway. The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices. The CCDN may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are new or below current Bid. CCDN uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers; are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

Certification does not guarantee protection against the normal risks associated with potentially volatile markets.

Client or sight-seen sales may command a substantial premium above Bluesheet Dealer-to-Dealer Bids.

MARKET LISTINGS

MARKET columns reflect the latest dealer-to-dealer selling prices seen in the market, based on monitoring Low Asks or Last Trades from wholesale trading networks, sell lists, coin shows, and other sources of wholesale transactions. Auction prices realized or retail trading information are used to adjust prices for infrequently traded issues. The Publisher warrants that it has exercised due diligence; presently, there is no practicable method of following all wholesale postings or transactions. Readers should be aware that there is no implied guaranty or belief that the prices listed are actually representative of the current market value of any coin; listing does not guarantee that such a coin is now available for purchase, or that it was actually available at the time the Market price was posted. Due to the volatile nature of the market, current values may be greater or less than the market price listed. A higher grade coin might display a lower Market level than a lower grade specimen, due to limited sell information. Listing Policy: During the thirty days prior to publication, we track the lowest sales-related price in the marketplace. Last Trade information normally takes precedence over Low Asks, except when a lower Ask is posted during the last week before publication. We delete stagnant Market prices which are lower than current Bid. Since the timeliness of the information is important, we use the following timing symbols: "w" - Lowest asking price during the week prior to publication (week old); "m" - Lowest asking price during the previous three weeks (month old); "t" - Trade during the most recent month; "lm" - Lowest asking price appearing last month; "lt" Trade appearing last month; "ot" Trade older than 2 months; " " a blank, for all Market prices older than two months; "a" for auction transactions; "oa" - auction older than 1 month.

COMMEMORATIVES

Survey of Dealers Reinforces Market Strength Long Beach Show Appears More Positive

Over the last three weeks, we surveyed many dealers across the country and found most of them very positive. They are more confident now than they have been for the last several years; they are beginning to see dividends from the hard work they have put forth toward broadening their scope into the retail sector rather than focusing strictly on wholesale. They are seeing an improvement in overall business and as they gear up for the Long Beach Show and the last stretch of the year, they feel that 1997 will be the year that the coin market shows its many merits to the retail public.

Who is the retail public? It is anyone who buys coins from a legitimate coin dealer and does not have a coin business of their own. Several dealers feel that the term "retail" or "public" has had a less-than-favorable cloud hanging over it the last two decades. Some non-dealer members of the retail public feel that if you are not buying at wholesale levels, then you are probably paying too much. This is not necessarily the case. Dealers have to make a profit or they will not remain in business. The fewer the dealers, the less the competition when it comes time to sell.

There is very little to separate the dealer from the retail public. One important difference being that non-dealers cannot expect to pay the same for coins as a dealer. Members of the retail public, of which we are all included, want to pay as little as possible and get the best product for their money. The dealer wants to maximize his return on his investment in inventory. It's that simple. If these truisms weren't part of the coin business, there wouldn't be any. The point here is that the term "retail public" is not an inferior group of which to be a member. We are all members. As a member, you get what you pay for.

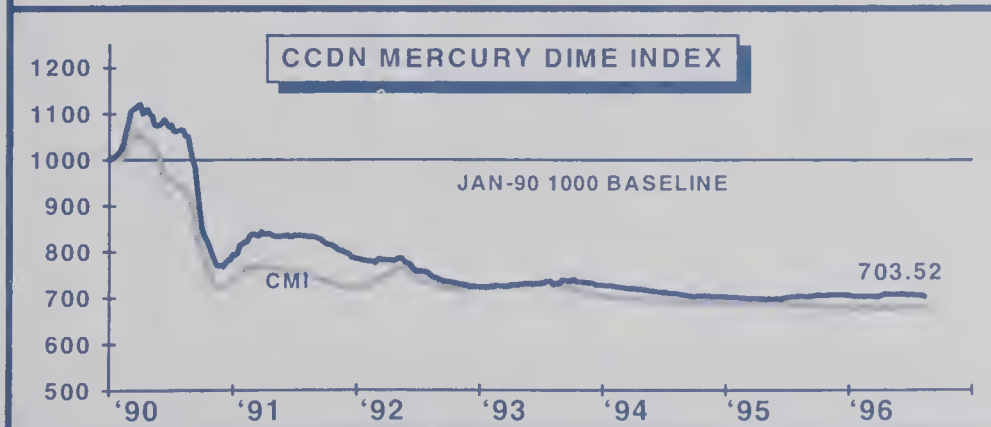

Many dealers feel that the "retail public" and collectors are synonymous; the only difference is the sophistication. Education breeds sophistication. Sophistication produces collectors; collectors spend more money and improve the composition of their individual coin collection. More education and sophistication lead to fewer concerns over how much the dealer is making and places more emphasis on the "value for quality" of the coin being purchased. Sophistication and education are on the rise.

Many dealers have worked toward educating their customers over the last several years because they know that an educated customer will tend to spend more money for better coins and continue to do so than one who thinks he is going to make quick profits. This is why many dealers feel that the coin market is showing signs of improvement and that the year 1997 holds lots of promise.

The upcoming Long Beach Show (September 19-22) is showing signs of encouragement. Not only is the coin market looking much better to most dealers, ICTA/CERT is making progress with the State Board of Equalization. (Please see letter on back cover.) Superior Stamp & Coin is conducting a sale just prior to Long Beach. It takes place September 16th & 17th, in Beverly Hills. The highlights are most interesting, although many of them are not certified. There is a very nice selection of Commemoratives including a PCGS66 California, an NGC66 Maryland, an ANACS65 1939PDS Oregon set, and a 5-piece Pan-Pac set, all graded by PCGS. The Copper section contains a 1793 Chain America Cent, in NGC63B; also, a 1793 Wreath Cent, in PCGS AU58; and an 1833 Large Cent, graded PCGS65RB. To obtain an auction catalogue, please contact Superior Stamp & Coin in Beverly Hills.

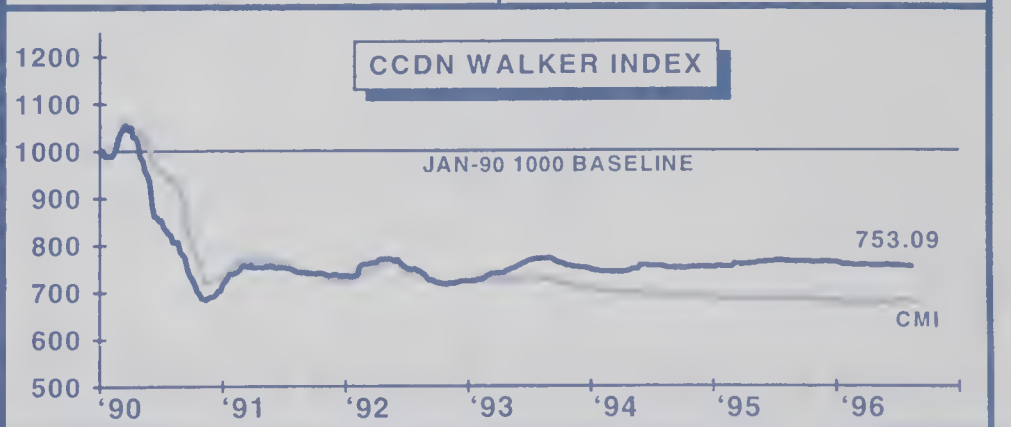

This has been a typical week for sight-unseen Bidding activity. The nearly 10,000 listings in this week's Bluesheet are virtually unchanged. To be more precise, 98% of the issues listed are unchanged (as in steady). Less than 200 issues had a change of Bid this week, although decreases outnumbered increases about three to one. However, the amount of the decline is generally minute as discounted sellers try to move excess inventory without "giving away the farm."

The strength of the market appears to remain in the Dollar and Type charts. Dealers are looking for specific coins for want lists and will pay accordingly. The problem here is that "accordingly" is very subjective. They will not buy low-end coins for their high Bids. Thus, the high Bids, the ones actually higher than the Bluesheet which are reported in the Greysheet, are for sight-seen coins. The low-end coins become self defeating to the marketplace since they are not easy sellers and cause the sight-unseen market to drag lower and lower. The real coin market does not function that way. How much would you pay for a car, any car, without seeing it?

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDn may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDn uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDn does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

Certification does not guarantee protection against the normal risks associated with potentially volatile markets.
Client or sight-seen sales may command a substantial premium above Bluesheet Dealer-to-Dealer Bids.

ICTA

CERT

WHAT IF THERE WERE NO ICTA, COULD YOU GET THIS DONE?

- ICTA, the Long Beach Expo., PNG, and others have established a coalition to resolve California sales/use/franchise tax problems. California's tax enforcement policies directly or indirectly affect everyone in the industry.
- California's Governor recently signed Senator Lewis' bill, SB 1550, which establishes a baseline for franchise tax nexus for attendance at shows for more than 7 days. While this is a tremendous achievement in such a short time, we must continue to press for a longer time frame which Senator Lewis is willing to introduce in the next legislative session.
- The bill which addresses the even more critical issue of creation of sales tax nexus is moving along. Diane Piret, ICTA Industry Affairs Director, Ron Gillio and Andrea Neumann of Long Beach Expo., and Richard Schwary, PNG Vice President, have all met with key legislators. Ron, Diane, and Andrea have testified before the Board of Equalization, the California Senate Revenue & Taxation Committee, and the Senate Appropriations Committee. Each testimony has been critical toward having the bill (AB 3010-Kaloogian) move forward for consideration by the entire California legislature.
- The project has moved at an extremely fast pace, due to the great work of the Coalition's California lobbyist, Ms. Norma Dillon. Funds raised in February, however, are gone; they have all been used to pay for lobbying and expenses directly related to the project. We knew that initial funds raised would be a good start but not enough to finish.
- We have made excellent progress but must be able to pay the bills. Please donate what you can to help complete this important project. All monies raised are used only for this project. Funds are kept in a separate, designated account. We know for a fact that other states (including Florida) are taking a hard look at conventions right now. Remember, California is a key state whose example other states are likely to follow.

Market Undergoing Very Little Discounting P.Q. Coins, Are They A Good Buy?

We have monitored very little discounting this past week for certified coins. Now, you may say that most dealers were taking some time off due to the Labor Day Holiday, and you would be correct. However, what usually takes place when the marketmakers (high buyers) leave town is that the sellers who are in the midst of a cash-crunch are willing to sell to the highest ready buyers. These are the bottom-feeders who offer bargain-hunting prices just to see if they can "rip" something "good" while everyone else is sleeping.

This has not been the case over the last week. Sure, there may be some bargains available, but not enough to cause the market any heartburn. Out of nearly 10,000 issues listed in each week's Bluesheet, there are only 148 declines this week; that's only 1.5% of the issues listed. On the other hand, the sight-unseen market is not indicating a lot of plus signs either. Just 159 increases this week is not enough to get everybody excited. Yet, we are still hearing from many dealers who are moving sizable amounts of quality coins to clients who appreciate the present state of the coin market. That is to say, they feel that the market is poised for some positive action over the next couple of months and hopefully into the new year.

If this is indeed the case, then the whole market psychology may be on the rise and coins could become popular again with the fence-sitters. Even with our subscriptions, we are beginning to see some reaction from subscribers who have been on the sidelines for the last 3-4 years. Most of this week's Bidding activity took place in the Morgan and Peace Dollar charts. Several dealers are eager to obtain nice quality (P.Q.) better date Dollars for their clients. In most cases, the potential buyer will not bid sight-unseen because he does not want a low-end coin for his high-end bid. However, where the populations are very low (usually under 10 coins graded), and the knowledgeable dealer has not heard of any overgraded coins for this particular issue, he will bid sight-unseen. Moreover, the ultimate buyer may be willing to pay even more for a better-than-average coin; a P.Q. coin if you will.

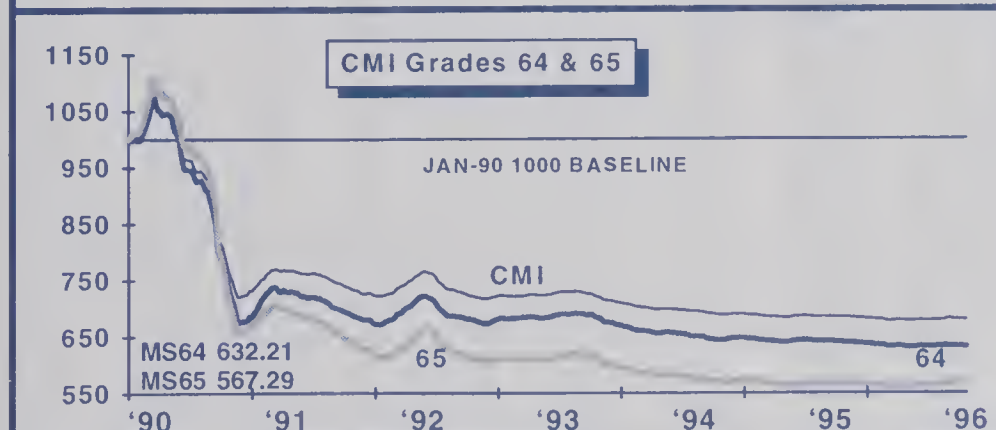

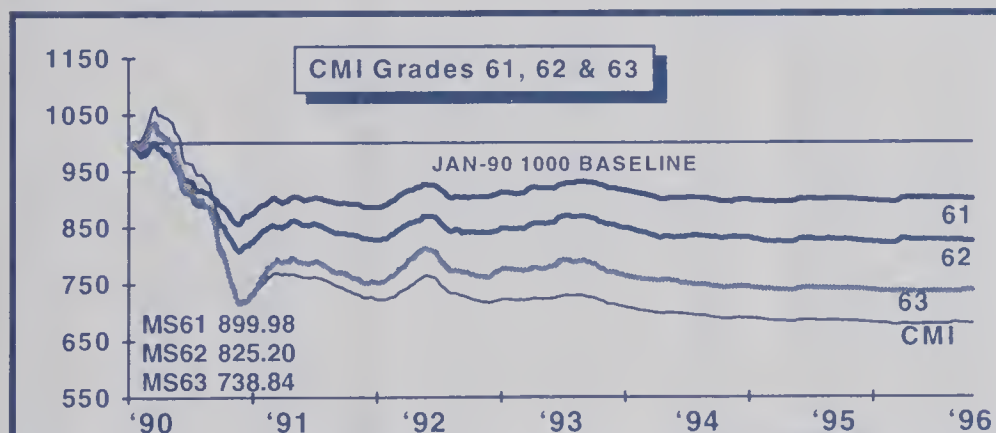

What are P.Q. Coins? P.Q. stands for Premium Quality. To most dealers, it refers to coins that are graded at the upper-end of the grading spectrum. They may have eyeappeal, pizzazz, clean surfaces, strong strike, or all of the above. Ultimately, they are high-end coins that very easily could have been graded at least one point higher. This is the kind of coin that every dealer would like to buy to sell to their customers. There is usually no argument over quality, just a slight difference of opinion over price. Obviously, this kind of coin does not trade to a retail customer sight-unseen.

Do retail customers understand the difference between a high-end and a low-end coin? Sometimes dealers wonder. Yet, the advanced numismatist (sophisticated coin collector) is becoming more attuned to these differences. The psychology behind a high-end versus a low-end coin is like night-and-day. A high-end coin is a positive adventure. Both buyer and seller usually think the coin could have been graded higher; while a low-end coin conveys a negative connotation from the get-go. In the future, dealers want to buy-back Premium Quality coins so they can profit again; low-end coins are usually bought-back at discounts. What would you rather have? A quality coin or an economical one? Fortunately for the coin market, there are both types of buyers. Now it's up to you to determine what kind of buyer you have as a customer and whether he understands that P.Q. coins cost more than the average coin.

Mint State Type and Gold were very active this week at the reported bids. Nearly every issue in the Gold chart, from MS61 to 66, had buyers wanting to purchase coins from potential sellers. The only issues not actively bid were the extremely rare issues that trade very infrequently anyway. It would appear that most competitive dealers feel that the Type market is generally stable because they are willing to bid (or buy) for coins in all grades. Of course, there are some issues that fell slightly this week, but out of 1300+ issues listed, only 5 decreased. Most of the rest of these 1300+ coins have buyers at or very near the posted bid levels.

Judging by the fact that most of the remaining charts are just about as active, we think that the majority of dealers are comfortable with the overall appearance of current prices. This is a most positive sign that dealers and their customers can feed off of over the next few months.

✓ 6-DAY SERVICE

*Tells why more people
are turning to P C I*

☐ PCI accepts direct submittals from the general public, collectors and dealers. There are no minimum or maximum submittal requirements.

☐ PCI recognizes that all coins are not "generic." We grade, authenticate, verify and list attributes for errors and varieties such as 5, 5+, & 6 steps for Jefferson nickels, DM (deep mirror), DMPL (deep mirror proof like) for Morgan dollars, and we apply our exclusive attribute PQ (premium quality) to those coins that qualify.

☐ PCI provides our original "Red Label" capsule for "problem" coins, and assigns the grade right on the label (exceptions are: altered, counterfeits, etc.)

☐ PCI offers the most affordable rates of any "third party grading service" — and we provide the fastest turnaround time of any grading service . . . for the applicable fee of $750 per coin, plus postage and insurance.

☐ PCI excels at providing the highest quality customer service. We will go the extra mile to meet the needs of our customers, and our service is backed by our guarantees!

☐ As a special bonus — PCI provides a FREE storage box when twenty (20) coins are submitted. ($5 charge for storage box on orders containing less than 20.)

After our 6th year of new and innovative ideas and technology in setting the pace for 3rd party grading, we at PCI have come to rely upon business practices that you can consistently count on. Your coins will be accepted, authenticated, and graded at the lowest rate and the fastest turnaround time of any service . . . guaranteed!!

Astute Buyers Take Advantage of Low Sight-Unseen Bids Knowledge is the Key to Buying Coins

Why do some dealers offer low-ball prices for coins that are obviously worth 2-3 times the Bid? Surely, they must recognize that their time would be better spent lagging coins against a wall or some such other activity. In some cases, dealers just throw numbers up on the teletype systems so it appears that they are doing loads of business. Reasoning that the more Bids they post, the more opportunity they have to "pick-off" an unknowledgeable dealer. Dealer, you say? "You must mean a novice collector or retail buyer." No, we mean dealer. Dealers can be measured by their knowledge just like college professors. Some are smarter than others and know right where to go with the "right" coins. That's why there are so many dealers who wholesale coins to other dealers; because they do not have the expertise or resources to retail directly to the public.

Editor's Note: So as not to disparage the dealers who might take offense to these remarks, we should add that not all dealers want to sell coins to the public. They are most content doing a wholesale business and many such dealers are also quite knowledgeable. They just may not deal with the public because it takes a lot of time to educate them properly and many dealers are just too restless to take on this task.

It takes vast amounts of both ingredients (expertise and resources) to enlighten retail customers and expand their knowledge so that they will be capable of purchasing better-date, rare-date, and/or expensive coins and be comfortable with the experience. It takes time and sometimes a very long search to locate most rarities before anyone can really understand how difficult it is to purchase them. Anyone who has unlimited cash reserves can throw money out there and obtain any coin they want; but, in order to be satisfied that they are paying a competitive price and not overpaying is the difference between knowledgeable and insipidly rich.

As we pointed out, not all numismatists have the same abilities. The more well-rounded knowledge a dealer has will enable him/her to locate and place known rarities. However, in most cases, the ultimate buyer may not be aware of how much he will actually pay for one of the rare low-pop coins on his want list. For example, in the Bluesheet, we have the 1896S Morgan Dollar Bid at $21,000 in PCGS66. This is $21,000 for a coin sight-unseen.

According to recent population figures, there are only two coins graded in MS66 by PCGS; NGC has a single coin certified in this illustrious grade. In the Greysheet, due to a lack of any advanced sight-seen Bidding, we also list the MS66 1896S Morgan at $21,000 Bid, with an Ask of $23,500. You would think that a sight-seen coin would be worth more. Yet, it serves no purpose for a real buyer to Bid against himself on the open market just to raise the Bid. When a coin becomes available, the potential seller uses the Bid against the interested buyer anyway.

If the seller wants 50% over Bid, his asking price would be around $30,000. If the potential buyer had been raising his Bid in trying to locate one, the Bid might have been $25,000-$27,500; the potential seller wanting 50% over Bid would then want approximately $40,000 for this rarity. As you can see, Bidding against yourself can be expensive, thus, many dealers just let it be known that they are interested in a particular coin and that they will pay top dollar.

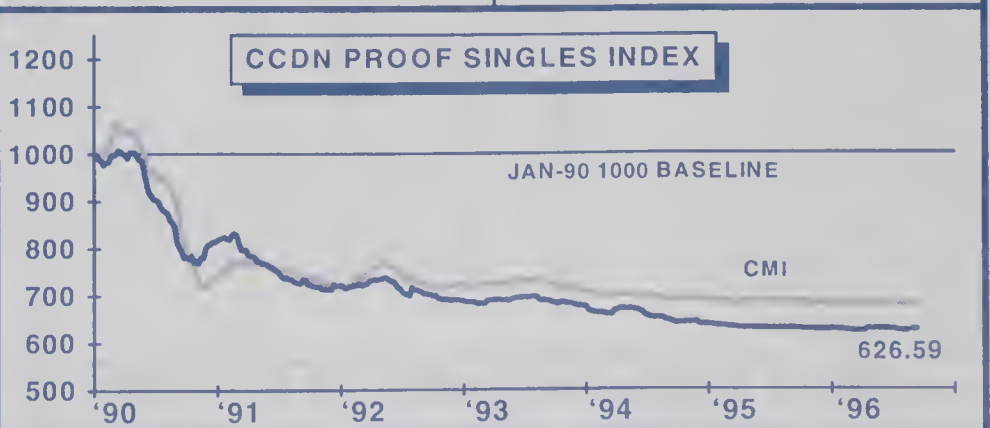

The 1896S Morgan is a perfect example of how a knowledgeable dealer can make the most of his years of experience. Many dealers would have thought this coin to be worth $18,000-$20,000; many, would have Bid less. However, a very knowledgeable dealer just paid $30,000 for this particular coin. Wow! He must be buried now. No, he has already been offered a very sizable profit, from another dealer. This is not an unusual case. This occurs many times a week. Yet, it takes two knowledgeable numismatists to effectuate such a trade; one in which both parties are satisfied.

As you can see from this example, not everybody tries to buy the cheapest coins they can. Astute buyers will pick quality over price every time. You can also see that there may be quite a disparity between sight-unseen and sight-seen. This occurs in most cases because of the difference in price from one grade to the next. The wider the spread between the grades, the more conservative the sight-unseen Bidder may be. If he happens to purchase a low-end specimen for his sight-unseen Bid, the next purchaser may be a sight-seen buyer who does not like the coin for the certified grade. The next grade lower could be as little as 25% of the actual price paid. This helps to explain why some dealers offer what appear to be low-ball Bids for various coins.

He who has the knowledge, holds the key to the biggest profits.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDN may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDN uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

Certification does not guarantee protection against the normal risks associated with potentially volatile markets.
Client or sight-seen sales may command a substantial premium above Bluesheet Dealer-to-Dealer Bids.

Some bids within represent very conservative sight-unseen buy prices on the part of the highest visible bidder. In these cases, a more accurate reflection of a coin's true value may be found in the CDN, albeit, on a sight basis.

PROOFLIKE MORGAN DOLLARS

P/L Dollars may be semi-reflective, with less reflectivity than the deep-mirror Prooflike. Bids for P/L's are usually much lower than for DMPL's, but command some premium over non-P/L strikes.

Dealers Search For Elusive Issues

Market Remains Steady in Moderate Trading

As dealers prepare for coin shows with the magnitude of a Long Beach, there is a tendency to temporarily withdraw Bids from the open marketplace. This tendency has been readily apparent this past week. We have noticed a dramatic drop in the number of buyers posting Bids on the teletype systems; also, the competitiveness of the visible Bids is somewhat indifferent. The point being that the marketmakers have withdrawn their competitive Bids and left town to gather in Long Beach, California, for what is expected to be a pretty decent show.

Bear in mind that these dealers may have temporarily withdrawn their Bids, but they still have very active want lists. Selling dealers are well aware of this as they are not "dumping" coins at heavy discounts. In fact, we have seen very little discounting this past week. Potential sellers are willing to wait till the Bidders return, or, they are also on their way to Long Beach to do their selling.

With the number of dealers expected to attend the Long Beach Expo and the various auctions transpiring around the show, buyers are hopeful that they can fill some specific needs for their customers. As we have stated in the past few weeks, just about anything that has eye-appeal and is not very common should be an easy seller at current levels or higher. In the case of low-pop coins (rare-dates), if these have pizzazz, it makes it that much easier to sell. There seems to be much more competition for rare-date coins at this time as buyers feel the market is not likely to fall like it has over the last several years. The risk has been reduced considerably.

As an example of how better/rare-date coins have been faring the last few months, we have constructed a chart listing the Morgan Dollars that have advanced the most since the beginning of the year. You should not be surprised to find that the list is composed of many rare-dates with low populations. In several cases, the issues with no populations have advanced due to an increase in lower grades. The 1896O in MS65 is an excellent example since we wrote about this coin several weeks ago in the Greysheet.

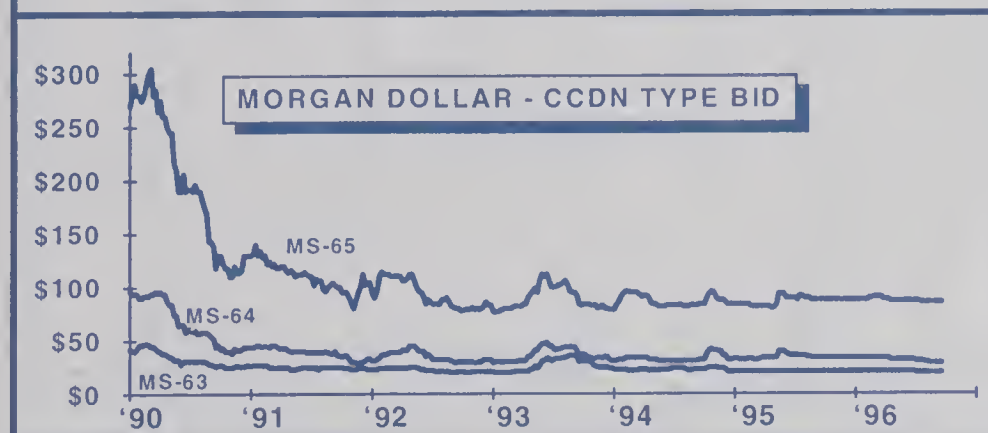

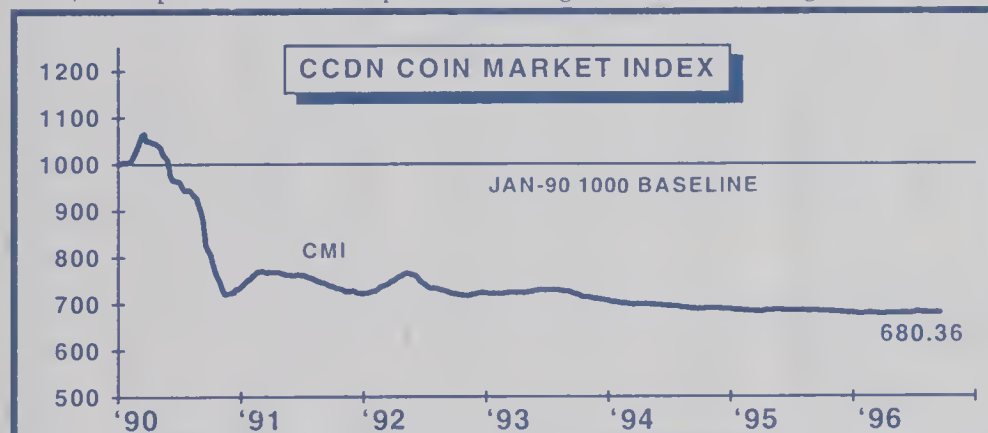

In early August, the 1896O Morgan Dollar was Bid just $46,500, in PCGS65; the MS66 was Bid $90,000 (pop 1). There was very little Bidding information since only one coin had been certified by PCGS (two by NGC). At the Denver ANA, we reported the PCGS specimen selling at $80,000 with higher wholesale offers near $100,000. It was quite obvious that this coin was worth well over our previous Bid. We have since raised the MS65 Bid to $75,000.

It would be rather difficult to raise the MS65 Bid nearly 100% without also increasing the higher grades, even if done conservatively so. The MS66 Bid is now $110,000, while the MS67 rests at $150,000. What would these coins actually bring if they were available? The one thing we can tell you at this time is that the PCGS MS66 traded wholesale in May of 1994 at $135,000. Today, the manner in which buyers are ready and able to purchase the "best" for their collections, it is anybody's guess as to how much the ultimate buyer would be willing to pay for a one-of-a-kind coin, especially one so rare as the 1896O.

Not all of the "Top 15" issues that advanced were low-pop coins; but the majority are definitely rare coins. Of the issues shown, only one has a population of over one hundred; twelve have a population under ten. There are any number of buyers for all of the low-pop issues and many would pay well above the current listed Bids. Competition is fierce for these coins and several dealers feel that the future is favorable for any and all better/rare-date issues.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDN may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDN uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

Certification does not guarantee protection against the normal risks associated with potentially volatile markets.
Client or sight-seen sales may command a substantial premium above Bluesheet Dealer-to-Dealer Bids.

Spectrum Numismatics, the Number One rare coin buyer in the country, desperately needs to buy your coins. The King of Cash's clients have a voracious appetite for rare coins. Spectrum must spend a minimum of $4,000,000 per month to satisfy its coin hungry clients. Spectrum has no choice. They must either buy your coins or lose their clients.

Spectrum is so desperately in need of your coins that they are willing to pay all of your expenses just for the opportunity to look at your coins. Here are the details of the King of Cash's new 'we're-desperate-and-we'll-do-whatever-it-takes-to-buy-your-coins' offer.'

Spectrum will display the King of Siam Set at the Long Beach Expo, Sept. 19-22 at the PCGS Booth.

If you have rare United States coins for sale,...any pre-1955 United States coins...all you have to do is call The King of Cash and tell us what you have for sale. If your coins fit Spectrum's needs, you'll be asked to ship the coins. The King of Cash will look at your coins and make you an outrageously high offer for them. If you agree to accept the King of Cash's offer, you will be sent immediate payment for your coins along with a check for your shipping expenses. Cash-Crunch Hits Long Beach Expo Generic Coins Drift Lower as Buyers Retreat

The certified coin market was dealt an untimely setback this past week. No, it was not the fact that gold and silver bullion fell to lower levels as the Long Beach Expo began; that nearly always occurs. It was an element that could have been predicted if dealers had given any thought to it at all. However, most dealers were still excited by the business that had resulted in the last couple of months. The ANA was tremendous for most dealers and client sales had increased considerably. What dealers did not take into consideration was the fact that prior auction bills were coming due and the Long Beach Expo was about two weeks earlier than normal. Coupled with concurrent auctions surrounding the show, available cash was being drained faster than well, you-know-what.

The Long Beach Show had nearly all the elements for a successful bourse. There were lots of dealers, lots of coins; Spectrum even displayed the King of Siam Set. So what happened? There were more net sellers at the show than there were buyers at today's levels. Of course, the coins that most dealers wanted to sell at current levels were the common issues; you know, the ones all your customers already have in their collections. In order to sell common coins, to entice buyers, discounts were required. And the nice coins, or better-date (rare) coins that dealers had in inventory, those coins were usually way above the current market. Without excess cash available to purchase these coins, many of them went unsold. The potential buyers were not willing to pay that far in advance of today's levels with the cash-crunch taking place.

Most dealers we spoke with feel that this is a normal occurrence and it will smooth out in the next few weeks. In the meantime, generic coins will probably suffer as we have seen the last couple of days on the teletype systems where dealers are forcing sales to sight-unseen Bidders. This hardly seems like enough trading activity to put a dent in the market, but the real problem lies in the fact that buyers are lowering or withdrawing their buy prices. This perception of discounted sales is disruptive to the overall market.

Before you become too negative, let me assure you that the altogether picture is much better than has been painted. There were lots of nice coins changing hands, at appropriate price levels. The better-date and rare coins were not being discounted. In fact, if these coins were on want lists, it almost seemed as if the seller knew it and priced the coin just so the buyer could be enticed to make the trade. Rare date Dollars are still easy sellers at well over sight-unseen Bid levels. All it takes is 3-5 collectors needing the same coins and it develops into a seller's market.

Heritage conducted a Bullet Sale and a Signature Sale at Long Beach. The Bullet Sale contained many highlights which we offer in presentation below.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest national reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDN may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDN uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

Certification does not guarantee protection against the normal risks associated with potentially volatile markets. Client or sight-seen sales may command a substantial premium above Bluesheet Dealer-to-Dealer Bids.

MARKET LISTINGS

MARKET columns reflect the latest dealer-to-dealer selling prices seen in the market, based on monitoring Low Asks or Last Trades from wholesale trading networks, sell lists, coin shows and other sources of wholesale transactions. Auction prices realized or retail trading information are used to adjust prices for infrequently traded issues. The Publisher warrants that it has exercised due diligence; presently, there is no practicable method of following all wholesale postings or transactions. Readers should be aware that there is no implied guaranty or belief that the prices listed are actually representative of the current market value of any coin; listing does not guarantee that such a coin is now available for purchase, or that it was actually available at the time the Market price was posted. Due to the volatile nature of the market, current values may be greater or less than the market price listed. A higher grade coin might display a lower Market level than a lower grade specimen, due to limited sell information. Listing Policy: During the thirty days prior to publication, we track the lowest sales-related price in the marketplace. Last Trade information normally takes precedence over Low Asks, except when a lower Ask is posted during the last week before publication. We delete stagnant Market prices which are lower than current Bid. Since the timeliness of the information is important, we use the following timing symbols: "w" - Lowest asking price during the week prior to publication (week old); "m" - Lowest asking price during the previous three weeks (month old); "t" - Trade during the most recent month; "lm" - Lowest asking price appearing last month; "lt" - Trade appearing last month; "ot" - Trade older than 2 months; " " a blank, for all Market prices older than two months; "a" for auction transactions; "oa" - auction older than 1 month.

COMMEMORATIVES

Some bids within represent very conservative sight-unseen buy prices on the part of the highest visible bidder. In these cases, a more accurate reflection of a coin's true value may be found in the CDN, albeit, on a sight basis.

... across the market

by Kevin Foley

The collectible paper money market continues to be a bright spot in an otherwise lackluster numismatic marketplace. The November National and World Paper Money Convention bonus was a sell-out. The bonus for Krause Publications February 26-28 Chicago Paper Money Exposition sold out in early December, and has a waiting list of 15 dealers waiting space. One market barometer seldom commented upon is the relative ease (or difficulty) convention sponsors have in filling their house areas. While coin shows have tended to shrink in size over the past five years (some quite considerably), this has not been the case in the paper money area. Not only are established dealers continuing to return, but new entrants are also supporting the paper money specialty events.

Buyers continue to display strong interest in auctions. As mentioned here in the past, it is not unusual to see individuals refrain to make a purchase from a dealer in a private transaction actually pay more for a comparable item of auction. Because of the inherent subjectivity of grading, and the fact that grading opinions and abilities vary widely even among recognized professionals, many buyers seem to need the assurance of what is provided by the auction process. This is the auction assurance of knowing that someone else (the party they are bidding against) shares their opinion of an item's value. The winning bid of $2,000 received a note from someone else who felt it was not enough to be worth $1,900 (a private transaction, without the other buyers present in the auction arena, this additional confirmation of value is lacking, the fear that is that the $2,000 item may only be worth perhaps $1,800 in the real world).

This general attitude of buyers who behave quite aggressively at auction and just as timidly in private transactions, has resulted in a two-tiered market. The same material, more often than not, will sell for a higher price at auction than in a private transaction. In addition, material offered at auction is far more liquid and typically sells, rather than languishing in a display case for an extended period. As a principal in Currency Auctions of America, this is a process I constantly note.

LARGE SIZE TYPE NOTES

This is one of the strongest areas in numismatic and shows every sign of remaining that way. Prices are moving up for all conditions of material, from VG to Gem. In addition, buyers are seeking notes in all price ranges. The most expensive notes, those rare pieces typically selling above $10,000, are especially strong. A whole new group of buyers for this kind of material has become active in the past two to three years. The market here had previously been quite thin, and dealers were often frustrated that an item which ought to be worth more based on its rarity would sell for a disappointingly low number — simply because there were so few buyers for such rarities. That situation has been completely reversed today, as a growing number of buyers with resources to match their interests have entered the field. These buyers realize that if they miss a note to one of their competitors, such an item may not become available to them again for years, if ever.

SMALL SIZE TYPE NOTES

Interest here remains in the specialty areas — scarce Star Notes, large blocks, in-laws, etc. Buyers are attracted by the fact that a lot of study and knowledge can be quite handsomely rewarded. The differences between a rare and common piece can be as simple as a prefix letter in the serial number or a single digit in a bank plate number. Students of Small Type will often have a greater knowledge of these nuances than a selling dealer and may often "cherry pick" a bargain as a result. Prices of type material remain quite stable, and can be expected to do so because of larger quantities available.

FRACTIONAL CURRENCY

The Martin Gengerke Collection, the only complete regular issue Fractional collection yet formed, is being offered for sale on January 6-7 in Orlando, Florida, by Currency Auctions of America. The collection contains numerous premium condition and ultra scarce to outright rare pieces. Its sale will redefine current values for Fractional.

NATIONAL BANK NOTES

Like the Large Type market, National Bank notes are attracting a growing body of collectors not afraid to spend serious money to acquire items needed for their collections. The attraction offered by National Bank notes is the considerable challenge presented by the task of forming a distinguished collection. The surviving population of notes from many banks comprises only a tiny handful of pieces, with some banks still awaiting the appearance of a discovery piece (except this rarity, notes on banks that exist in many quantities can be typically acquired before hand for a few thousand dollars at most, and in many instances for less than $1,000). These dual factors — the challenge of acquisition and relatively low prices in relation to rarity — can be expected to continue to stimulate interest in National Bank.

MISCELLANEOUS

Sticks and Bonds, Obsolete Notes and Confederate material continue to enjoy the same strong demand as in the recent past.

AUCTIONS

Buyers will have much to choose from in the coming months. Currency Auctions of America will hold a 2,000+ lot sale in Orlando in January. K.M. Smythe and Company will hold a significant Stock and Bond sale in conjunction with the Lancaster, Pennsylvania stock and bond convention later that month. Lyn Knight will hold a major sale February 25-26 in conjunction with the inaugural Chicago Paper Money Exposition.

The Greensheet reports the national currency market on a monthly basis.

Coin Classes Separate Market Segments Buyers Seek Market Rarities

Like American society, the coin market seems to be made up of three distinct trading classes: upper-class, middle-class, and "less-than-middle". Within the less-than-middle category of coins, there falls a group of common issues that trade on a regular basis. These are generic coins that you may see in every coin shop and every dealers' inventory at coin shows. When the overall coin market is active and there are lots of buyers for all categories of coins, these coins trade at Bid levels quite consistently. However, when buyers are selective as they are in today's market, these coins may sit unsolicited in inventory, or, at the best, may be the target of bargain-hunters. To entice buyers, these issues may have to be discounted. It seems as if there is support at levels very close to Bid, but it is nearly always "under Bid". This is the class of coins that continues to cause the overall sight-unseen market to drift aimlessly.

The middle-class category of coins is the group that contains the largest number of issues. This segment engulfs better-date issues, key-dates for sets, and some of the rare dated coins. Between 75%-80% of all coins fall into this middle group. These coins appear on want lists somewhere and buyers are usually willing to pay the current Bid levels. In a lot of cases, it is just a matter of matching up the buyer and seller, appreciating the fact that the seller might not be willing to offer the coin at the present Bid. This is usually where the problem lies as the seller thinks the coin is worth far more than the buyer. Without this Bid/Ask spread, we would have only one price with which to work. Then, all trades would conjoin around a solitary number.

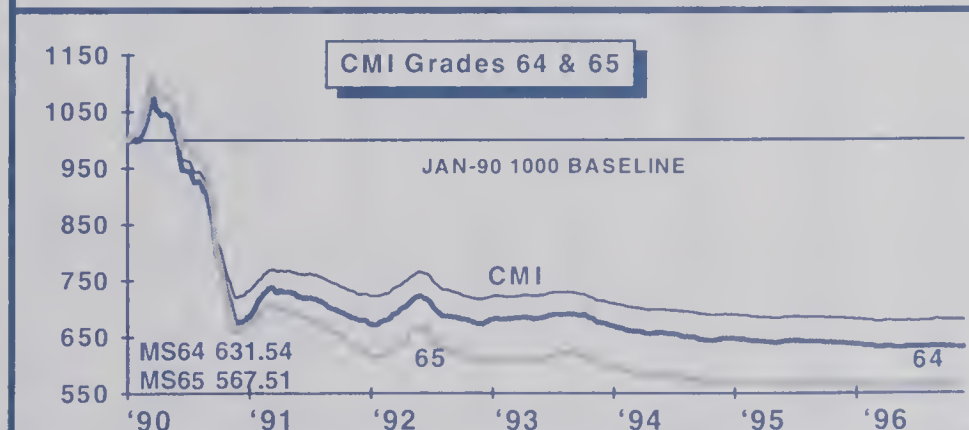

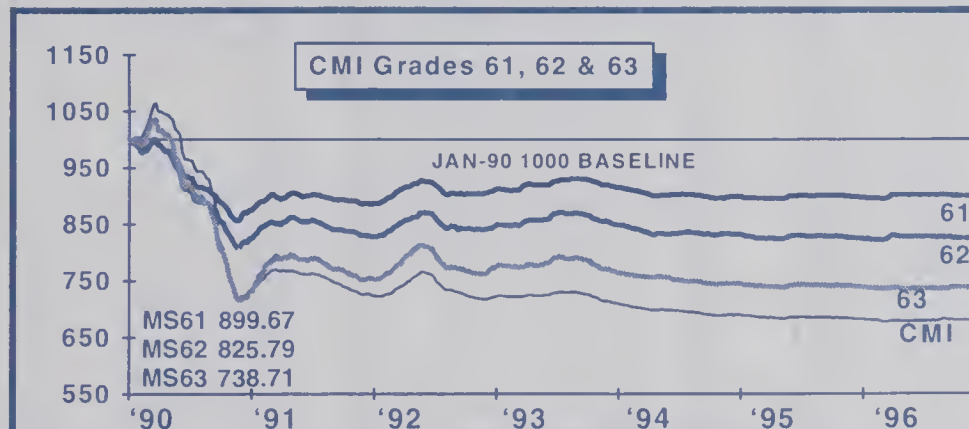

The upper-class of coins are those that fit into a very exclusive category. They are in the top 5% of those rarities that are usually found in major auctions or, in the showcase of one of the top dealers in the country at a major coin show. These are coins that the ultimate buyer does not really get much of a selection. They are low-mintage, rare issues, sometimes very high-grades, and the population is so restricted that only one or two may come along in a given period of time. They are not in every dealers' inventory and price is usually not an obstacle. Competition is normally such that several buyers are willing to pay just about any price; further, they may not know what that price actually is until they have to Bid against another buyer(s).

One such coin will be up for auction in January 1997, by Bowers and Merena. It is an MCMVII Ultra-High Relief $20 Gold piece, which was just graded Proof-67 by PCGS. It has been consigned to Auctions by Bowers and Merena, Inc. from the Norweb Collection. It is the first one to be graded and authenticated by PCGS in its ten year history. This coin may attract the attention of every numismatist in the country. This just could be the world's prettiest coin.

Stack's will be conducting one of their auctions on October 16th & 17th. The majority of the 1700+ lot sale is non-certified coins, yet, there are enough certified coins to arouse what we feel will be very competitive bidding. Some of the highlights follow:

Certified Market Maintains Balance In Most Areas MS65 Peace Dollars Show Expeditious Increase

A look through the charts validates the fact that the certified coin market is particularly steadfast at present levels. At least 98% of the market is stable as Bids have not changed. Now, whether this is due to a lack of sufficient information, it does point out that the market is not being discounted so heavily that dealers are advertising these transactions. We go to great lengths to discover and review all trading information that is pertinent to wholesale prices. If dealers keep discounted information to themselves, it is not public knowledge and prices will remain status quo. If, however, dealers begin to offer particular issues at discounts and make these sales highly visible, then, in combination with a lowering of other dealer Bids, the market will follow a downward trend.

As an indicator of how specific series have progressed this year, we will take a look at Peace Dollars in MS65, using the PCGS chart. Since the beginning of the year, Bid for the MS65 set has increased nearly $10,000; from $39,852 to $49,003. This is an increase of about 23%. Eighteen issues are higher, anywhere from 42% to 5%. Only four issues have fallen and two remain unchanged.

Keep in mind that the increase in Bid does not necessarily mean that you could buy a complete set at these numbers. Since these prices represent sight-unseen Bids, the actual cost of some of the rarer issues that we have monitored over the last several months can be substantially higher. For example, the latest information that we show on the market side of the columns (refer to the September 27th issue) indicates that a 1924S traded at $5,000 compared to a current Bid of $4,400; a 1927S traded at $5,750 versus a Bid of $4,300; and a 1928S with a current Bid of $8,600, sold at auction for $10,725.

The following chart shows the "Top 10" MS65 Peace Dollars thus far this year. We list the Bid from the January 5th issue compared to the October 11th issue; also listed is the percentage increase over this time frame.

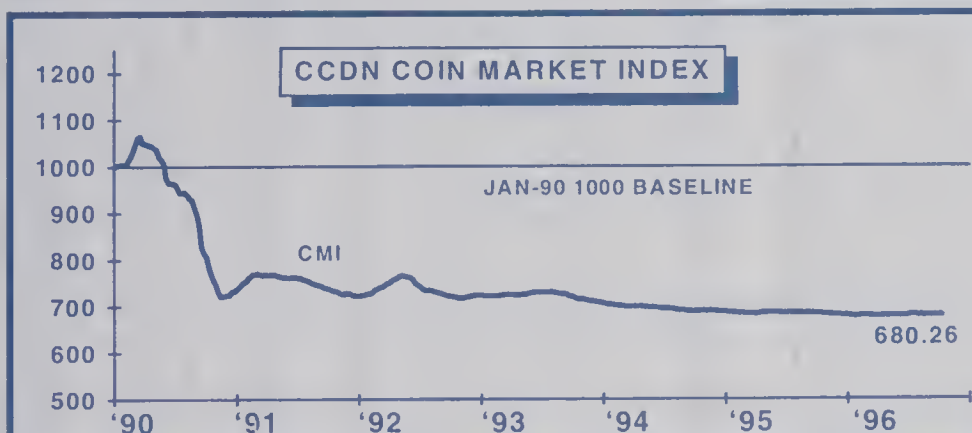

With the help of these examples it enables dealers to understand the many facets of the coin market. In fact, it helps to further explain the difference in the sight-unseen market versus the sight-seen market. Anyone can Bid for a coin sight-unseen; if the value of the particular issue is $10,000 and a buyer offers $5,000, what does he expect to get for his money? Half a coin? Yet, if he Bids $9,000, maybe someone who needs to raise cash will sell a coin to the buyer. Likewise, a serious buyer who needs this particular date, may be willing to pay $11,000, $12,000, or more if the specimen he finds fits into his collection. These are the true numismatists; the ones who really understand how the coin business works.

Auctions by Bowers and Merena, Inc., recently conducted a sale in New York. The Burhop and Davis Sale prompted Bids of almost $2 million. The sale contained numerous certified coins and many were among the highlights of the four extensive sessions. Some of the more notable highlights appear in the chart to the right:

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity, including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices. The CCDN may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDN uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

P/L Dollars may be semi-reflective, with less reflectivity than the deep-mirror Prooflikes. Bids for P/L's are usually much lower than for DMPL's, but command some premium over non-P/L strikes.

EARLY GOLD TYPE COINS

Spreads Tighten For Many Generic Issues Dealers Remain Optimistic Regarding Better Dates

Over the last few weeks, numerous dealers have been cutting their margins for the most generic of issues. The difference between the Bid and Ask price is becoming quite narrow. This is due to the high buyers maintaining their Bids at posted levels and the lowest sellers shaving their Ask prices as much as 5% to 12% for various coins. Where we have noticed this the most in the past week is in the Mercury Dimes, Walking Liberty Halves, and Dollars, both Morgan and Peace. This should not alarm you all that much because it is generally occurring with coins that are priced under $100. Where Bid is $45 and the Ask might have been $60, the new Ask is now $55. In some cases where the population is quite high (400-500+), the Ask may be even closer to the Bid.

To some dealers, this may seem as though the sellers are becoming eager to reduce inventory. To others, it appears that they are trying to create more activity. Obviously, the more times you can turn inventory in a short time span, the more profit you can make over a one-year period. This is the only way some dealers can operate on a 10%-15% margin and survive. We all know, with business expenses as high as they are, a viable coin business cannot operate on a yearly 10%-15% margin. The only way is to turn inventory over as many times as possible.

You must keep in mind that these tight spreads are typically for coins that are common. Except for the occasional discounted non-generic coin, most sellers want 20%-30% over the Bid price. This is figuring the added cost of maintaining inventory along with the vagaries of the unpredictable coin market. If every dealer was a broker with no inventory, they could work on slimmer margins; but the likelihood of selling coins to customers would be lessened without inventory to show. That is why the coin business cannot mirror the stock market.

This week's charts report that minus signs outnumber plus signs about four to one. There are over 400 minus signs with the heaviest activity in Morgan Dollars, Silver Commemoratives, Walking Liberty Halves, Mercury Dimes, and Buffalo Nickels. This is the largest number of declines that we have encountered in several months. Why are we seeing all these declines this week when last week only consisted of a little over one hundred? It appears that most dealers who are lowering their Ask prices, are doing so in an effort to create more business.

A close-up look at this week's charts reveals that the previously mentioned series have produced the majority of minus signs. Much of this is due to the results of recent auction activity where prices realized were much lower than the previous Bids. Coupled with the fact that the high Bidders have either lowered their buys or removed them altogether, several areas have weakened somewhat.

One area where this is quite noticeable is in the Silver Commem chart. In the MS66 & 67 columns, the previous high buyers have all but disappeared. The only thing that keeps these columns from exhibiting a massive decline is the fact that most sellers are reluctant to discount their current holdings in hopes that the high buyers will return. However, we are seeing some drastically lower prices from these auction results.

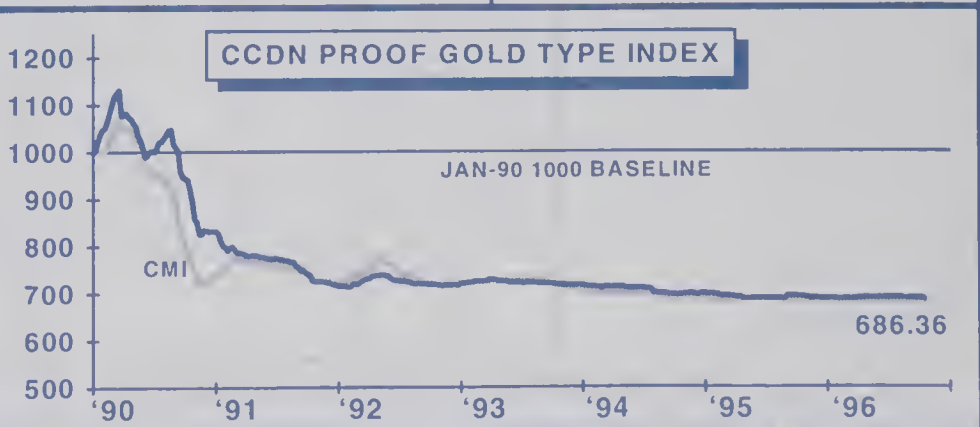

Many dealers have reported that better-date coins are still being sought on their want lists. Clients are attune to the fact that these types of coins do not come along every day. Patience being a virtue is most important when looking for just the 'right' coin. Whether it be rare by mintage or quality, coins that meet the proper criteria for each individual's collection may take time and energy to locate. All this before price is even discussed.

Then again, the coins of which we are referring require astute buyers and sellers; they understand that price should be the last consideration. When it comes to two knowledgeable numismatists—buyer and seller—they will already have a pretty fair estimate of what the value of the specific coin they are seeking will be. Granted, there will be exceptions; for coins that have populations of five or less, auction prices continue to amaze everyone.

While the certified coin market, sight-unseen bidding activity, has been in a downward cycle for at least the past six years, auctions have continued to bring big numbers for rarities. That should tell you something about the coin business. It is not dead. In contrast, it is not the stock market. You have to look at your purchase and you have to live with it. It is not a piece of paper; it is an object of beauty, a manifestation of America's beauty of bygone days.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDN may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDN uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers and are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

Certification does not guarantee protection against the normal risks associated with potentially volatile markets.
Client or sight-seen sales may command a substantial premium above Bluesheet Dealer-to-Dealer Bids.

MARKET STRENGTH CONTINUES BUYERS FOCUS ON AUCTIONS & "BIG-TICKETS"

ACTIVITY

by Kevin Foley

The collectible paper money market continues to be a bright spot in an otherwise lackluster numismatic marketplace. The November National and World Paper Money Convention house was a sell-out. The house for Krause Publications' February 23-26 Chicago Paper Money Exposition sold out in early December, and has a waiting list of 15 dealers waiting space. One market barometer seldom commented upon is the relative ease for difficulties for convention sponsors have in filling these house areas. While coin shows have tended to shrink in size over the past five years (some quite considerably), this has not been the case in the paper money area. Not only are established dealers continuing to return, but new entrants are also supporting the paper money specialty events.

Buyers continue to display strong interest in auctions. As mentioned here in the past, it is not unusual to see individuals reluctant to make a purchase from a dealer in a private transaction actually pay more for a comparable item at auction. Because of the inherent subjectivity of grading, and the fact that grading opinions and abilities vary widely even among recognized professionals, many buyers seem to need the assurance of size provided by the auction process. This is the auction assurance of knowing that someone else (the party they are bidding against) shares their opinion of an item's value. That the winning bid of $2,100 awarded a note from someone else who bid it as nice enough to be worth $1,000 in a private transaction, without the other buyers present at the auction arena, this additional confirmation of value is lacking the fear that the $2,000 item may only be worth perhaps $1,000 to the next buyer.

This general attitude of buyers who behave quite aggressively at auction and just as timidly in private transactions has resulted in a two-tiered market. The same material, more often than not, will sell for a higher price at auction than in a private transaction. In addition, material offered at auction is far more liquid and typically sells, rather than languishing in a display case for an extended period. As a principal in Currency Auctions of America, this is a process I consistently note.

LARGE SIZE TYPE NOTES
This is one of the strongest areas in numismatics and shows every sign of remaining that way. Prices are moving up for all conditions of material, from VC to Gem. In addition, buyers are seeking notes in all price ranges. The most expensive notes, those rare pieces typically selling above $10,000 are especially strong. A notable new group of buyers for this kind of material has become active in the past two to three years. The market here had previously been quite thin, and dealers were often frustrated that an item which ought to be worth more (based on its rarity) would sell for a disappointingly low number. Simply because there were so few buyers for such rarities. That situation has been completely reversed today as a growing number of buyers, with resources to match their interests, have entered the field. These buyers realize that if they miss a note to one of these competitors such an item may not become available to them again for years, if ever.

SMALL SIZE TYPE NOTES
Interest here remains in the specialty areas, i.e., scarce Star Notes, error blocks, misuses, etc. Buyers are attracted by the fact that a bit of study and knowledge can be quite handsomely rewarded. The differences between a rare and common piece can be as simple as a prefix letter in the serial number or a single digit in a back plate number. Students of Small Type will often have greater knowledge of these matters than a selling dealer and may often "bargain" a bargain as a result. Prices of type material remain quite stable and can be expected to do so because of large quantities available.

FRACTIONAL CURRENCY
The Martin Gumpertz Collection, the only complete modern issue Fractional collection yet formed, is being offered for sale on January 6-7 in Orlando, Florida by Currency Auctions of America. The collection contains numerous premium conditions and ultra scarce to outright rare pieces. Its sale will define current values for fractional.

NATIONAL BANK NOTES
Like the Large Type market, National Bank Notes are attracting a growing body of collectors not afraid to spend serious money to acquire items needed for their collections. One attraction offered by National Bank is the considerable challenge presented by the task of forming a distinguished collection. The surviving population of notes from many banks constitutes only a tiny handful of pieces, with some banks still awaiting the appearance of a discovery piece. Despite this rarity, notes on banks that exist in tiny quantities can be legally acquired (often found) for a few thousand dollars at most, and in many instances for less than $1,000. These dual factors—the challenge of acquisition and relatively low prices in relative terms—can be expected to continue to stimulate interest in National Bank.

MISCELLANEOUS
Stocks and Bonds, US Dollar Notes and Confederate material continue to enjoy the same strong demand as in the recent past.

AUCTIONS
Buyers will have much to choose from in the coming months. Currency Auctions of America will hold a 2,500+ lot sale in Orlando in January. M. Smythe and Company will hold a significant Stock and Bond sale in conjunction with its Lancaster, Pennsylvania, stock and bond convention later that month. Even Kagan will hold a major sale February 24-26 in conjunction with the inaugural Chicago Paper Money Exposition.

The GreenSheet reports the national currency market on a monthly basis.

Market Trading Common Issues at New Levels

Auctions Maintain High Interest Level

The sight-unseen certified coin market is undergoing another round of adjustments this week. To our dismay, the majority of changes are lower in nature. However, this should come as no surprise to most knowledgeable dealers. It becomes painfully obvious that the more common issues can be the most difficult to sell when everywhere you look, you see the very same coins in dealer inventories. If you cannot sell stagnant inventory, you certainly cannot pay the current Bid levels for more of the same coins. Thus, Bids retreat and eager sellers discount coins they no longer want to inventory.

At the same time, we have noted that the number of declines this week has decreased from over 400 last week to just over 230 this week. Also of significance is the fact that most of the declines are very minor. In other words, discounted sellers lowered their prices just enough to entice a potential buyer. At present levels, it may not take a big discount to move certain issues. Remember, there is a multitude of issues that are currently priced at levels far removed from their "highs" of 5-6 years ago.

On a brighter note, at least the majority of the declines are for the common issues. Which means that the better issues are holding their own fairly well. If you notice the "Market" columns in this week's issue, you will see the latest activity that we have monitored for each coin. In the examples where we found coins for sale this past week, we have designated them with a "w". An "m" signifies that the Ask price was current within the past month. The letter "t" represents that a trade took place at that price; an "a" denotes that an auction price has been recorded.

As you peruse the various charts, you will find that there are several instances where coins actually traded at higher levels than the corresponding sight-unseen Bid. When this occurs, it is a result of a sight-seen trade with no other more appropriate sight-unseen information available. Coupled with the fact that the better-date issues may have much higher Ask or Auction prices in the "Market" column, you can see that there is a certain amount of activity occurring at over sight-unseen levels.

The latest Stack's sale produced some very interesting results. Many of the rarities were not yet certified, but we are sure they soon will be. The following list of highlights indicates some very strong prices. For a complete list of prices realized, please contact Stack's in New York.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDn may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDn uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDn does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

MARKET LISTINGS

MARKET columns reflect the latest dealer-to-dealer selling prices seen in the market, based on monitoring Low Asks or Last Trades from wholesale trading networks' sell lists, coin shows and other sources of wholesale transactions. Auction prices realized or retail trading information are used to adjust prices for infrequently traded issues. The Publisher warrants that it has exercised due diligence; presently, there is no practicable method of following all wholesale postings or transactions. Readers should be aware that there is no implied guaranty or belief that the prices listed are actually representative of the current market value of any coin; listing does not guarantee that such a coin is now available for purchase, or that it was actually available at the time the Market price was posted. Due to the volatile nature of the market, current values may be greater or less than the market price listed. A higher grade coin might display a lower Market level than a lower grade specimen, due to limited sell information. Listing Policy: During the thirty days prior to publication we track the lowest sales-related price in the marketplace. Last Trade information normally takes precedence over Low Asks, except when a lower Ask is posted during the last week before publication. We delete stagnant Market prices which are lower than current Bid. Since the timeliness of the information is important, we use the following timing symbols: "w" – Lowest asking price during the week prior to publication (week old); "m" – Lowest asking price during the previous three weeks (month old); "t" – Trade during the most recent month; "lm" – Lowest asking price appearing last month; "lt" Trade appearing last month; "ot" Trade older than 2 months; " " a blank, for all Market prices older than two months; "a" for auction transactions; "oa" – auction older than 1 month.

COMMEMORATIVES

Some bids within represent very conservative sight-unseen buy prices on the part of the highest visible bidder. In these cases, a more accurate reflection of a coin's true value may be found in the CDN, albeit, on a sight basis.

Sight-Unseen Market Stable As Year Winds Down Best Versus Worst Performers In Mint State Type

Since the beginning of the year, the CCDN CMI is essentially steady at around the 680 level. The various series that make up the total CMI have varied according to the needs of buyers and sellers throughout this year. The overall CMI has been as high as 682.35 this year and as low as 677.79. As we stand this week, the CMI is 679.41. Some of the more active series have been Morgan and Peace Dollars, Mint State Type, Proof Type, and Mint Gold Type.

An in-depth look at the Mint State chart indicates a variety of increases and decreases since the first of the year. While there are over 150 issues higher at this time compared to the beginning of the year, we have selected eight "big gainers" to review in the following chart. The chart lists the initial Bid in January, the latest Bid, and the percentage increase over this period of time.

As you can see, many of the "big gainers" are copper coins. This is an area that many dealers feel is very moderately priced and their customers seem to bear this out. Most of the buyers of these issues find that their customers help keep dealer inventories low, especially when premiums are kept reasonable.

ISSUE	GRADE	JAN 5 BID	NOV 1 BID	% INCREASE
Lg. Cnt, Lib Cap~R & B	NGC63	$3,500	$5,500	+57.14%
HfCnt, Classic~Brown (1809~1836)	NGC61	$115	$168	+46.09%
HfCnt, Braided~Brown (1840~1857)	NGC63	$150	$218	+45.33%
Lg. Cnt, Coronet~Brown (1816~1839)	NGC65	$425	$595	+40.00%

Cpd. Bust HfDimes (1829~1837)	NGC62	$210	$275	+30.95%
Two Cent Pieces~Brown (1864~1873)	NGC65	$186	$240	+29.03%
Lg. Cnt, Lib Cap~Brown (1793~1796)	PCGS63	$3,600	$4,500	+25.00%

At the other end of the spectrum are the issues that have not fared as well during the year. Now, whether these declines are a direct result of an increase in available coins, or a consequence of concern that dealers will receive low quality for their money, you must decide for yourself. We do know that many of the issues that have suffered since the first of the year, have been able to maintain their previous levels on a sight-seen basis. The chart below recounts eight of the worst performers so far this year.

In dealing with sight-unseen Bids, most dealers just want the numerical facts. Did prices go up or down? There is a certain amount of good news that we can report despite the fact that numerous Bids have fallen since the beginning of the year. On

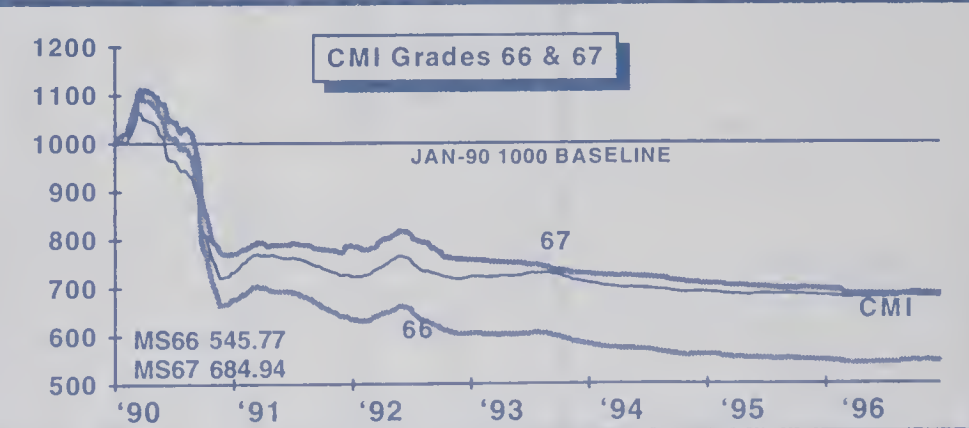

ISSUE	GRADE	JAN 5 BID	NOV 1 BID	% DECREASE
Lib Std. HfDimes, Arrows (1853~1855)	NGC65	$1,325	$850	-35.85%

Standing Lib Quar., T. 2 (1917~1930)	NGC67	$1,625	$1,100	-32.31%
HfCnt, Classic~Brown (1809~1836)	NGC66	$2,200	$1,600	-27.27%
Cpd. Bust Quar., Lg. Sz (1815~1828)	NGC64	$3,600	$2,725	-24.31%
Indian Head Cnt~R & B	PCGS63	$30	$23	-23.33%
HfCnt, Drpd Bust~Brown (1800~1808)	PCGS62	$860	$700	-18.60%
Lib Std. Dol., With Motto (1866~1873)	PCGS65	$22,000	$18,000	-18.18%

average, the market has remained fairly steady throughout the year. This is quite important for something that is billed as a sight-unseen market for certified coins. In our humble opinion, the sight-unseen market cannot work like the stock market. However, it does work as a basis for what coins might be worth if you have to sell various common issues instantly over the telephone and you have very little time to do it. It is designed for rendering an opinion of the least amount of money that a dealer will pay without examining the coin. This, of course, is not how coin collecting began, and it is not how the coin business should be practiced today.

Sight-unseen Bidding fulfilled its expectations early in its inception. Yet, as more and more coins were graded by the certification services, more coins could be classified into one grade category. When this occurs, you will always have a range of high-end to low-end coins. The low-end coins, for high population issues, will be the chief determinant for the sight-unseen values for this particular grade. Only by sight-seen examination can it be determined whether a buyer will offer to pay more for a coin that fits his individual grading criteria; and thus, can be sold to a customer in anticipation of an eventual resale back to the dealer when the customer decides that the time is "right".

The World's Most Famous Coins

Are Graded
By PCGS...
Shouldn't Your Coins Be?

The Norweb Extremely High Relief $20 St. Gaudens, the King of Siam Proof Set, the 1913 Liberty nickel...the owners of these world famous coins could have chosen any grading service to grade their coins. They chose PCGS. Before you choose a grading service to grade your coins, here are some of the facts you may want to consider:

1. PCGS has graded more coins than all of the other grading services combined. In the past 10 years, PCGS has graded 4,562,067 coins with a declared value of $6,255,402,250! In the rare coin market, the majority of submissions to grading services are from professional coin dealers submitting their own coins. If the professionals choose PCGS, doesn't it make sense that you should, too?
2. PCGS coins are worth more than coins graded by other grading services. You don't need to take our word for it. Go to any coin show or auction or call around and check prices. Dealers almost always pay more for PCGS. If coins graded by PCGS are worth more money, isn't it in your best financial interest to have your coins graded by PCGS?

3. PCGS coins are the easiest coins to sell. Once again, you don't have to take our word for it. Call around and check out how easy it is to sell PCGS coins. When it's time to sell your coins, don't you want the ease of sale offered by PCGS grading?
4. The PCGS holder offers the world's best long-term protection for your coins. The PCGS sonically-sealed, tamper-evident holder is the best holder in the rare coin market. At PCGS, we feel that your coins are the most important coins in the world and that they deserve the great long-term protection offered by PCGS holders.

Whether you own a 1913 Liberty nickel, or a common date Morgan dollar, it makes sense to take advantage of the value and protection offered by PCGS grading. Find out how you can have your coins graded by the world's number one grading service. Weak Common Issues Push CMI Down Once Hot Buffalo Nickels Lose Some Steam

The CCDN CMI is indicative of the fact that the wholesale market for certified coins was slower than normal this past week. There were just over two hundred Bid changes in all the charts as dealers mainly sustained previous Bid levels. The CMI drifted slightly lower to 679.25, down .16. While the lower CMI may be indicative of a weakening market, a more positive view may be that 97% of the market remained stable at current levels. This means that over 9700 issues did not change; 9700 issues that we did not monitor discounted sales. In a negative, declining market, there would be many hundreds of discounted sales reported. A sampling of the dealers we spoke with this past week, felt that the market was not any weaker, just no certain direction to be established at this time.

The largest majority of the declines are for the more common issues in the specific series. For example, in the Morgan Dollar series, several of the generics in MS64 & 65 are lower as we monitor a general lack of interest at previous levels. When the high buyers offer to pay less than the listed Bid levels, as the days pass, sellers tend to become impatient and eventually discount coins at new, lower levels. Thus, the buyers and sellers impel Bids to lower levels when there is a constant lack of activity.

The latest Heritage Bullet Sale took place in Dallas, in conjunction with the Silver Dollar Convention. Of the over 700 lots, Heritage reported very lively bidding for numerous rarities. The list at left is just a few of the highlights. For a complete list of prices realized, please contact Heritage in Dallas.

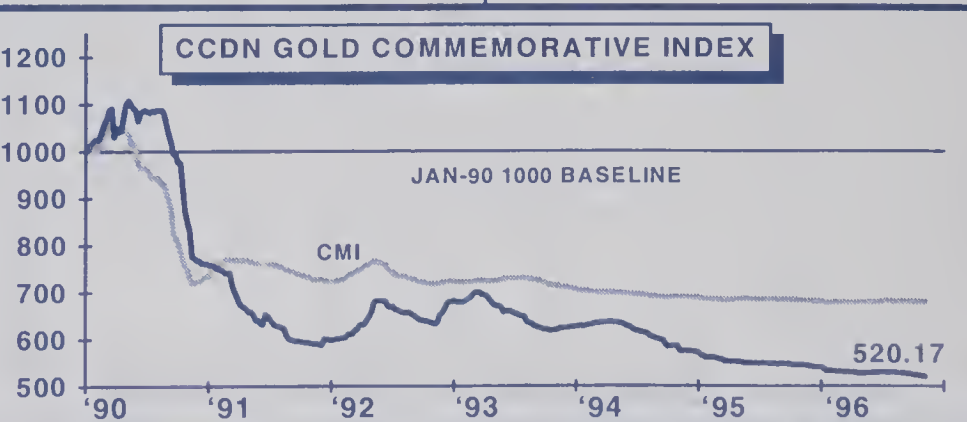

Several dealers had their sights on Buffalo Nickels for quite a long time. The low-pop issues were advancing week after week throughout 1995. As 1996 began and continued, the desire to pay more in order to own these elusive issues, became less important and prices stagnated. Without active buyers supporting the previous Bids, discounted trades and auction prices became more evident. As a result, there are numerous issues that lost a lot of the ground that they gained in the previous "up" cycle. The following list reports several Buffs that decreased since the first issue of the year.

BUFFALO NICKELS	Grade	5-Jan-96	8-Nov-96	Change
1935 D	PCGS66	$1,300	$500	- 61.54%

1925 D	NGC65	$2,550	$1,575	- 38.24%

As much as some of these issues have fallen this year, it may be a good time to check out the populations and determine if some of these are so reasonable that they have become good buys.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices. The CCDN may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDN uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

Certification does not guarantee protection against the normal risks associated with potentially volatile markets. Client or sight-seen sales may command a substantial premium above Bluesheet Dealer-to-Dealer Bids.

Some bids within represent very conservative sight-unseen buy prices on the part of the highest visible bidder. In these cases, a more accurate reflection of a coin's true value may be found in the CDN, albeit, on a sight basis.

Knowledge Is Power!

THE INSIDER'S ADVANTAGE...

"Inside Strategies for the Rare Coin and Fine Collectibles Market"

For the past eighteen years Silvano DiGenova has used his knowledge to build one of the strongest and most successful rare coin firms in the nation. He makes his money in the rare coin business every day by trading coins with the most experienced dealers in the business. In other words, he swims with the sharks. And invariably, he wins... because of his superior gift of the power of knowledge!

I know, talk is cheap, so here are the facts:

- At the New Carlton/Maryland coin show in February 1980, when the coin market was "smoking" hot, he sold off his entire inventory! Just two short months later, the coin market crashed!
- In the early winter of '86, he "shorted" 1,000 MS64 Morgan dollars to one of the country's most influential dealers, at $300 each! At the time, wholesale bid was $260 per coin, and everybody wanted to buy them. By the time he had to deliver them, the market had dropped, and he was able to purchase them for just $175 each!
- In October 1988, he purchased the famous "Clifford-Kagin" Territorial gold collection for $2.3 million! The general consensus among coin dealers was, that he paid too much. Just six-months later, he resold the collection for $3.1 million!
- In April 1989, he sold his entire inventory to Kidder-Peabody's American Rare Coin Fund! That was the same time that virtually every other coin dealer was caught up in the Wall Street mania, and couldn't wait to sell the public on the virtues of an investment in rare coins. Little more than a month later ... the coin market crashed!

Coincidence, or just a lucky guess? Absolutely Not! These incredible examples of Mr. DiGenova's uncanny market timing, are a direct result of the awesome power of his knowledge, and he is willing to share it with you each month through the pages of the most insightful rare coin and tangible asset newsletter on the market today!

newsletter

CCDN — a weekly report on the Sight-Unseen certified market published by the Coin Dealer Newsletter (est. 1963)

Education Is Of Primary Importance To Sight-Unseen Market Dealers Try To Increase Their Retail Market Share

Over the past several months, we have heard lots of comments from dealers concerning the value of the Bluesheet. They have voiced the opinion that Bids for sight-unseen coins are of monumental importance when trying to determine the base value of coins, either in inventory or for potential new purchases. Now, not all dealers agree that sight-unseen Bids are important to the marketplace; some feel that sight-unseen Bidding is detrimental to the coin market. We, the publishers of the CCDn, after careful study of this market over the last several years, feel that the opinions of both sides have some validity.

The dealers who support sight-unseen Bidding activity, use this pricing information as the base value of coins in general; then they determine what they feel is the specific value of the particular coin relative to its quality in comparison to others in the same grade category. In other words, the more knowledgeable dealers use the information to maximize their understanding of the total marketplace.

With the more common issues (high population coins), this information is not as essential because there is usually very little difference between the wholesale price of the best coin and the worst coin in a particular grade. For example, an MS63 1881S Morgan Dollar traded this past week at $18, sight-unseen. How much more can a common 1881S Dollar be worth, without actually being an MS64? Then, it would be a low-end coin at that, probably valued at $27.

Where the knowledgeable dealers feel the sight-unseen Bids become of major importance is with the rarer issues. If they see a low population coin bid $3,000, sight-unseen and the sight-seen Bid in the Greysheet is $4,000, they know the value of the worst example. If they are offered a coin in this grade category, they know what their downside risk is, along with their upside potential reward.

What some dealers feel is a drawback to the sight-unseen Bidding market is the dealer or collector who does not understand this whole concept. They want to buy sight-seen coins at sight-unseen levels. How in the heck can dealers make any money selling coins this way? The answer is, they can't. If they run their business this way, eventually, they will run themselves right out of business. The customers of dealers have to be better informed as to how the market works. If they try to low-ball dealers, there will be fewer dealers in business; this will create less competition and the buy/sell spreads will become wider. In the long run, customers who try to buy cheap now, will just cost themselves more money when they sell their coins.

This is all very basic. Better informed dealers, who educate their customers, make for more knowledgeable collectors in the long run. Sight-unseen Bids in the Bluesheet are for dealer information only. Customers should not expect to buy coins at these levels. Heck, most dealers can't buy at some of these low levels. Some dealers Bid every day for a multitude of coins and never are offered any. So what does that tell you about some of the sight-unseen Bids? They are too low. This is especially the case today since so many issues have fallen over the past several years.

While we realize that some prices continue to drift lower nearly every week, what customers want to buy the worst graded coin in a category anyway? Customers always want to buy the best that they can afford. The main reason many of these common issues continue to fall is that every dealer has many of them and they do not need additional coins in inventory. Therefore, the sight-unseen Bids decline ever so slightly. The perception is a declining market, when in fact there are lots of coins trading at premiums of the current Bids.

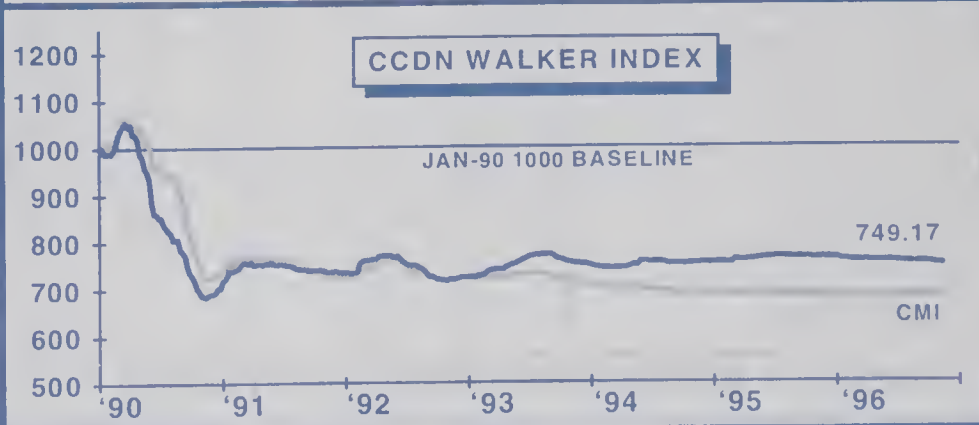

We are finding more dealers who are increasing their sales to customers and de-emphasizing their wholesale activities. Several dealers have told us that building up your retail business takes time and solid effort. It does not happen overnight. Advertising helps and educating your customers is of utmost importance. Customers who have a solid understanding of how the coin market works make for a long-lasting relationship. Also, educated customers become enthusiastic collectors.

This past week has been a prime example of "wholesale-only" dealers willing to sell at discounts of previous Bid levels. We have monitored a disproportionate ratio of offers to sell coins than to buy. At present Bid/Ask levels, sellers outnumber buyers approximately three to one. This means that there are more sellers willing to move coins at or near current levels than there are buyers willing to pay the current Bids. However, the coins being offered are usually the most common issues. This is especially so for the ones that are being discounted. The reason potential sellers have to discount these common issues is to entice potential buyers who already have most of them in stock.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDn may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDn uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDn does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

Baltimore Show is East Coast Success Bowers and Merena Auction Proves Active

The just completed Baltimore Coin Show has received many compliments from the dealers in attendance. Many outspoken dealers feel that this is going to be equivalent to the Long Beach Shows. There are numerous dealers who live in this area of the country who would rather stay on the East Coast and do not wish to travel long distances. Judging by the numbers of retail collectors in attendance, this looks like a good central location that draws from a multitude of nearby states.

As for the certified market, it appears that most dealers are preparing for the FUN Show in early January. Many dealers are reducing unwanted inventory and raising cash in anticipation of buying coins as the new year begins. While the sight-unseen market may appear weak, common coins will still sell at appropriate levels. The main problem we see is that most dealers do not need more common dated coins in inventory, so the potential sellers need to reduce prices just a little in order to entice possible buyers. This creates the weakness that we see in the CMI charts this week.

Yet, rare coins, nice quality issues, and want list items still command high levels. If you think you are going to sneak up on somebody and buy any of these coins at bargain levels, guess again. We are seeing mainstream marketmakers buy coins they need and they are willing to pay healthy prices for them. We also saw something that we have not seen in a very long time. We observed various coins changing hands two or three times at this show. Each sale brought substantial profits for each seller.

Over the past several years, one of the drawbacks of the certified market has been that a certified coin sells only one time at a show. That occurs because the grade is already on the coin and there is no guess work involved. However, more dealers are trading in sight-seen coins and their clients have become more educated in circumstances pertaining to high-end and low-end coins. Now, the possibility exists that coins can trade several times in a short period of time as one buyer likes a particular coin more than the previous seller. With the existence of this potential, there is a strong likelihood that more dealers will buy coins that they like, not just for inventory. In the long run, this will help to improve the economy of numismatics.

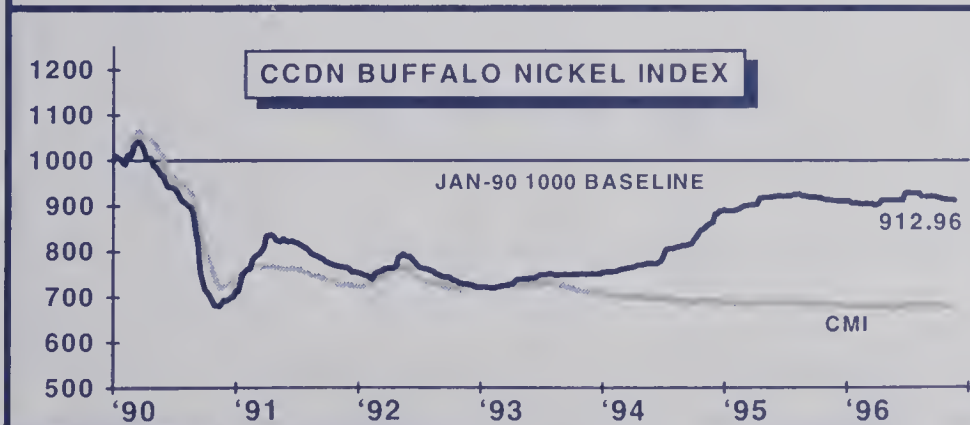

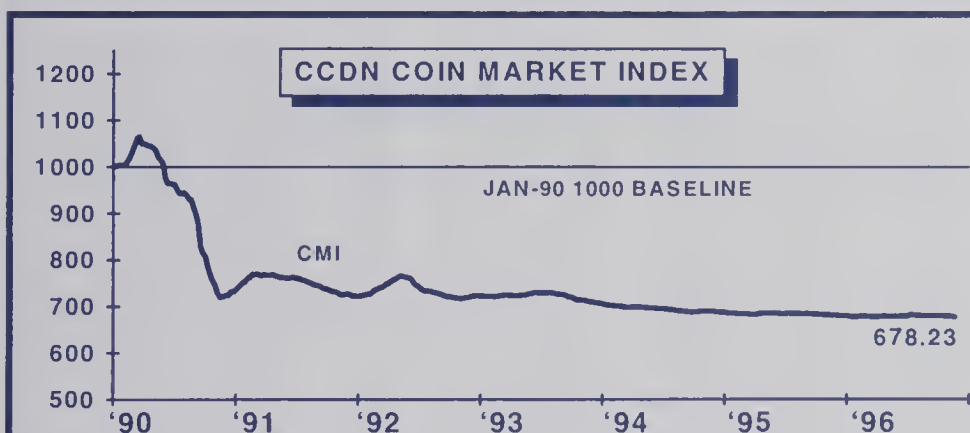

Keep in mind, that this usually works more so for expensive coins than low-cost issues. Coins under a thousand dollars normally do not have as broad a trading range as coins priced over $10,000. Coins priced over $10,000, typically, are rare in nature, whether by mintage, or superb quality. Also, the number of collectors for these more expensive coins diminishes as the cost of such coins increases. At the same time, getting back to our original point, as the cost expands, the more astute dealers have more opportunity for larger profits if they have more knowledgeable customers. The more proficient a client becomes, the more likely he is to remain a long-term numismatist.

The coin market has always been based on cycles; we have been in a downward market for a very long time. Yet, we seem to be in an educational cycle where more dealers and their clients are studying the vagaries of the marketplace. They are trying to take advantage of every aspect of the market, from original mintages, to population reports, availability of specific issues, overall eye-appeal of the particular coin, price, and any other element involved in the final equation. Superior knowledge is definitely going to play a major role in the future of numismatics.

The Bowers and Merena Auction highlighted numerous rarities. U.S. Gold coins seemed to be very popular with many bidders. Highlights are reported (see inset). As always, please contact Bowers and Merena Inc., in New Hampshire, for a complete list of prices realized.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDN may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDN uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

MARKET LISTINGS

MARKET columns reflect the latest dealer-to-dealer selling prices seen in the market, based on monitoring Low Asks or Last Trades from wholesale trading networks, sell lists, coin shows, and other sources of wholesale transactions. Auction prices realized or retail trading information are used to adjust prices for infrequently traded issues. The Publisher warrants that it has exercised due diligence; presently, there is no practicable method of following all wholesale postings or transactions. Readers should be aware that there is no implied guaranty or belief that the prices listed are actually representative of the current market value of any coin; listing does not guarantee that such a coin is now available for purchase, or that it was actually available at the time the Market price was posted. Due to the volatile nature of the market, current values may be greater or less than the market price listed. A higher grade coin might display a lower Market level than a lower grade specimen, due to limited sell information. Listing Policy: During the thirty days prior to publication, we track the lowest sales-related price in the marketplace. Last Trade information normally takes precedence over Low Asks, except when a lower Ask is posted during the last week before publication. We delete stagnant Market prices which are lower than current Bid. Since the timeliness of the information is important, we use the following timing symbols: "w" – Lowest asking price during the week prior to publication (week old); "m" – Lowest asking price during the previous three weeks (month old); "t" – Trade during the most recent month; "lm" – Lowest asking price appearing last month; "lt" Trade appearing last month; "ot" Trade older than 2 months; " " a blank, for all Market prices older than two months; "a" for auction transactions; "oa" – auction older than 1 month.

COMMEMORATIVES

Some bids within represent very conservative sight-unseen buy prices on the part of the highest visible bidder. In these cases, a more accurate reflection of a coin's true value may be found in the CDN, albeit, on a sight basis.

1997 NDD DISPLAY ADVERTISING FREE AD IF YOU ACT NOW!

Dealers advertising in the Numismatic Dealer Directory come back year after year, because they know that their ads get results. Where else can you find advertising that reaches every major dealer and advanced collector in America? Advertising that is there, week after week? Advertising that reaches the sophisticated buyers who make up your prime audience? Advertising that costs even less than the already low rates in our weekly and monthly publications?

Just as in the 1996 NDD, your advertisements will be interspersed on facing pages with the free listings for maximum exposure, and you have your choice of headings from Ancients to World Coins. Low rates apply from our one-eighth page at only $180, through a full-page at an astonishingly low $800. And, if we receive your check by December 15, we will give you two ads for the price of one (free ad can be in the 1997 NDD or in one of our other publications). If we receive your check by January 31, you will receive a free bonus ad one-half the size of your NDD order! You write the check, you decide whether you want a full or half bonus!

Knowing Your Market Produces Profitable Sales Dealers With Cash Reserves Scoop Up Deals

Not all coin dealers are created equal. Some have large inventories; some have smaller inventories. Several dealers have a great deal of cash reserves; many more have little in reserve. A multitude of dealers are knowledgeable about numismatics; but very few take advantage of this knowledge. It is one thing to know coins, it is yet another to know how to market them. Many dealers are quite successful in their wholesale businesses because they know what to buy, how much to pay for it, and whom to sell it to in a timely fashion—at a profit. Yet, not all dealers take full advantage of their knowledge. Some sit back and wait for business to come to them. While they wait, other more aggressive dealers take full advantage of what appears to be a weak market.

Over a period of a month's time, we speak with hundreds of dealers all over the country. Whether we chat on the phone, at various coin shows, or indirectly on the teletype systems, the dealers who are having success in this current market have one trait in common. They do not sit back and wait for business to come to them. They take advantage of their superior knowledge and abilities to market coins. Whether they sell to other dealers, or they have a retail presence, they make a note of who is buying what coins, in what grades, and how much they are willing to pay. We never see these people trade coins at levels under sight-unseen Bids.

My point here is that we see far too many dealers, leaving substantial amounts of money on the table, by selling coins under sight-unseen Bids to the dealers who know who the high buyers are. Now, we realize that not everyone can deal with the high buyers, there have to be wholesalers in order to make this market competitive. Wholesale dealers should be able to make a little money when they sell to another dealer who must then sell to a retail customer.

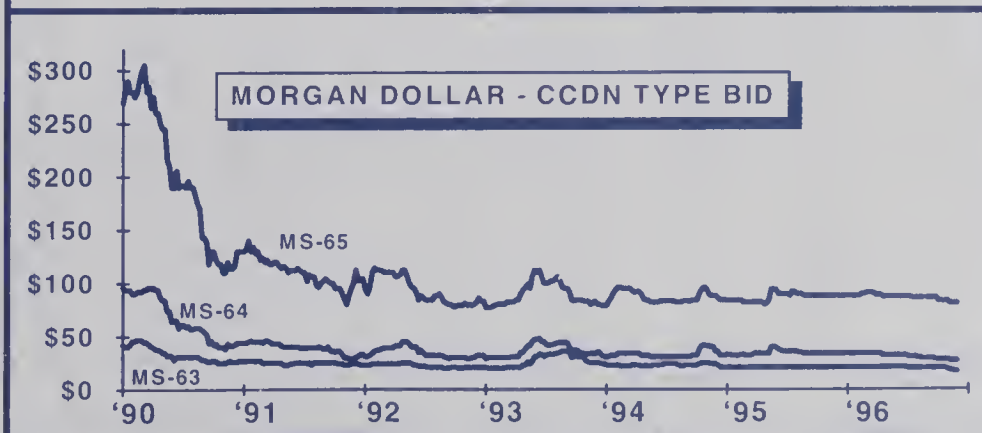

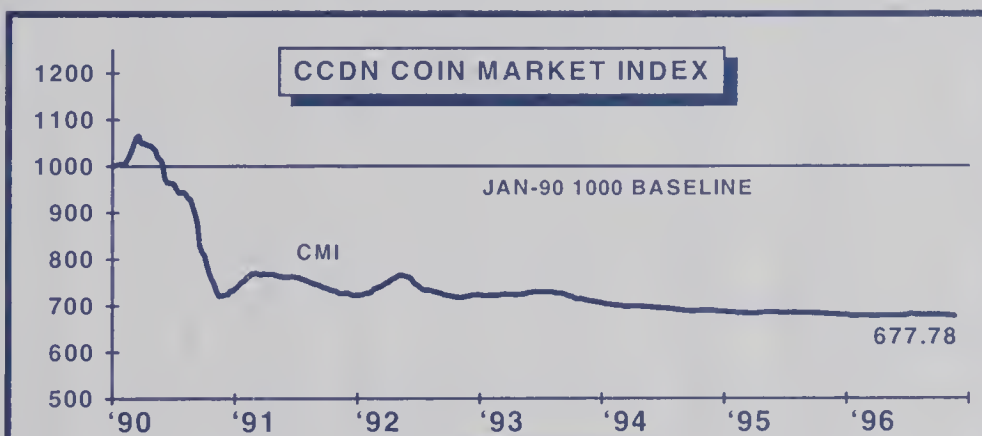

However, we are seeing some dealers sell coins at 25% to 30% under sight-unseen Bids. In fact, one such trade took place recently at $4,100 (dealer-to-dealer) when there was a sight-unseen Bidder at $5,000. The coin eventually traded at $5,500—wholesale to a sight-seen buyer. Ten percent is one thing, but some dealers are not doing their homework. Then they have the nerve to complain about the marketplace. A dealer in Baltimore reminded me of a quotation that we were both familiar with from many years ago. We have changed it slightly to be more applicable to our industry. "Those who can, do; those who can't, will eventually find another line of work."

This week's market is not much different from what we have been experiencing over the last several weeks. Discounted common coins create a slight downturn in the CMI that gives the appearance of a soft market. Just remember, "Looks can be deceiving." As the sight-unseen market for generic coins drifts just slightly lower, we are seeing sight-seen coins that meet the buyer's criteria, bring prices closer suited to the Greysheet. If you have nice coins, with eye-appeal, they should be sold to sight-seen buyers who have markets (and want lists) for them. Granted, many dealers are not being unnecessarily aggressive at this time of the year. However, if you want to sell coins, there are dealers, with ample cash reserves, who are willing to take advantage of those dealers who wish to reduce inventory.

Heritage Numismatic Auctions, Inc., just completed a Bullet Sale in Santa Clara. Heritage reported a myriad of wonderful collector coins that realized very handsome Bids. The following highlights represent just a few of the many within this latest sale. For prices realized, please contact Heritage in Dallas.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDN may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDN uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

Certification does not guarantee protection against the normal risks associated with potentially volatile markets.
Client or sight-seen sales may command a substantial premium above Bluesheet Dealer-to-Dealer Bids.

Coin Market is More Than Just Bids and Asks Discounted Sellers Cause Generics To Fall

As you peruse the Bluesheet this week, it becomes painfully obvious which coins are not appearing on want lists at previous levels. Just check out the minus signs! At this time of the year, dealers do not want to be forced to buy coins they do not like; in some cases, they may even like the coins being offered, but they do not wish to add to already heavy inventories. Therefore, their sight-unseen Bids become less significant, almost to the point of absurdity. Yet, dealers who are trying to raise cash, "hit" those Bids and prices slip that much lower. If you do not need to sell coins at this time of year, now would probably be a good time to wait out this market.

Lately, we have been monitoring a Gold market that has seen lots of discounting. Now, not all of the offers to sell will tend to force prices lower; many discounted sells are reductions in the dealer's asking price that is still higher than our posted Bid. This creates much tighter spreads when we still have supporting Bids for the very same coins. Notwithstanding, we have found numerous sellers trying to raise cash, thereby, lowering their asking prices right through the previous Bids. Typically, where minus signs appear, buyers have reduced their Bids so they do not buy too much of any one issue.

Most dealers are seeking to balance their inventories in two ways: one, they are trying to maintain an adequate mix of all the coin groups that they feel will be selling as the FUN Show leads us into 1997. Second, dealers would like to maintain some balance of forces between inventory and cash reserves. Preparing in advance for any special deals that may come along, is just as important as having sufficient inventory for your customers. Sometimes, having cash available is even more important if the "right" deal comes along, while others are cash poor.

In markets like we are experiencing now, a selective buyer is definitely in the driver's seat. If he comes across specific coins that are on his want list, he can pick and choose and usually get favorable prices also. We have spoken with several dealers of late, who are in this type of situation. They have found that their business, while off slightly due to normal year-end conditions, remains fairly consistent. One dealer recently told us that, "An active dealer will create more activity for himself." This seems to be the case with many of the dealers who are busy buying and selling coins and not sitting around complaining.

A few dealers have reported lately, that with all the discounting going on for many of the generic coins, it seems like a good time to replace these low-priced common coins. At the same time, some of these low-priced sellers are reorganizing their inventories and replacing this common material with better-date issues, higher graded coins, or just plain old-fashioned collector coins. As long as there are cheap sellers who feel that the market is going to drop even lower, and there are buyers who think prices are now at reasonable levels, this is a good time for buyers and sellers to help each other adjust inventories.

Now that we have discussed 5% of the market (generic coins or low-end coins) that makes the whole market look weak, what about the rest of the market? There are numerous areas throughout numismatics that continue to rate active Bids at current levels. Even though the Bluesheet is for sight-unseen Bids, we report over 9,000 (out of over 10,000 listed) issues that are at the very least steady. In fact, if you had one of every coin listed in the Bluesheet, in every grade, aside from being very wealthy, a majority of the coins would sell for more than the listed prices.

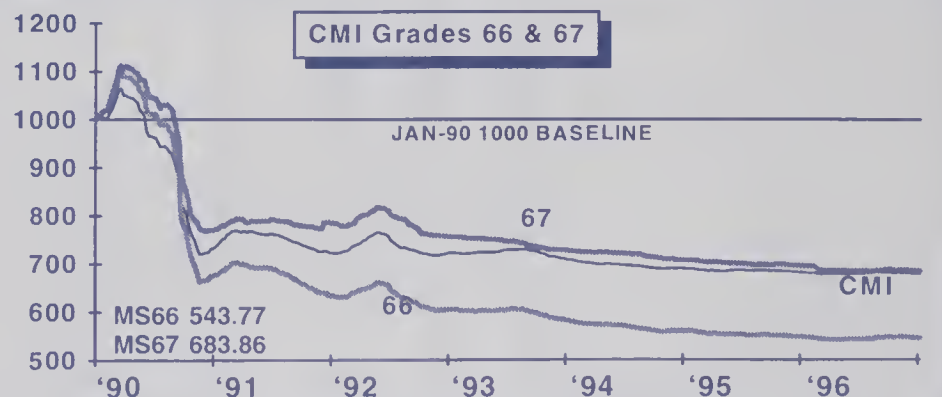

Our point is that the overall market is much healthier than a sight-unseen Bidding mechanism will tend to exhibit. It is only natural that Bids on all the common coins that sit in all the dealers' inventories, will migrate to their lowest value as long as there are no fresh funds coming into the market and there are dealers willing to sell at discounted levels. Most of the long-time collectors already have all the common coins they need, they will only buy more if the price becomes so attractive that it's almost scary.

The real attraction to numismatics, for every collector, is the search and potential acquisition of every coin that is either out of reach, or just out of reach. Coin collecting would not be any fun if every coin was generic and everybody could afford the same ones. All collectors enjoy the pursuit of their favorite issues and every once-in-a-while they complete their goal; sometimes, they even stretch for one of those coins that they thought they would never possess.

Economics 101 Explains Lower Sight-Unseen Bids Dealers Strive To Educate New Customers As Well As Old

As you begin to read this week's Bluesheet, you are probably wondering in which charts you will see the most discounted coins. You might imagine as you search through the pages that it kind of reminds you of walking through a mine field. You don't really want to do it, but you have to get to the other side. If, however, you knew beforehand that the mine field only contained fire cracker explosives (providing no more than a loud bang), it would probably make your trip a whole lot more enjoyable. Well, if you perceive the sight-unseen market in the same manner, you will realize that the discounted low-ball sales are nothing more than a little interference into the real world of numismatics. The real value of nice coins lies in the old adage, "Beauty is in the eye of the beholder."

Trading coins profitably by way of sight-unseen Bidding is not a pragmatic proposition. Trading coins sight-unseen is only practicable for the most common issues; the ones where the certification services have graded thousands of coins in any given grading category. These can be traded sight-unseen. Yet, herein lies the crux of the problem. "Thousands have been graded." If there are so many graded that supply surpasses demand, then a basic principle of economics tells us that the price will have to fall in order to entice a new group of buyers. When these so-called generic issues dip to more attractive levels, then the coins will sell more easily.

Further, when you dealers sell coins to your customers, they usually do not buy them sight-unseen; they want to see the coins, they want to know what they look like before they put down their hard-earned money. It is time to realize that the sight-unseen Bidding mechanism is solely for determining the bottom range of value for the worst possible example in a particular grade. Above and beyond that, you have to know what you are doing when it comes to segregating low-end coins from average coins, to high-end coins.

Over the past several months, a few dealers have intimated to us how they handle customers that want to buy coins at Bluesheet prices. (Some dealers feel that a novice collector with a Bluesheet is comparable to a child handling a gun. It can be very dangerous. If you don't know how to use either one, they can be deadly). If they have a customer that wants to buy coins sight-unseen and pay wholesale levels, just like a dealer, they just offer to sell them the ugliest (low-end) coins they have in inventory. This way they either clean up their inventory, or, they educate the customer in the realities of "nicer coins cost more money."

The dealers we have spoken with lately are most determined to educate their customers in ways of collecting coins. One of the first steps is to enlighten customers on the proper interpretation of sight-unseen Bids. It is a basal value for a certain coin in a particular grade. It is no more than that. Sight-unseen Bidding does not take into account various characteristics of the individual coin that can only be understood when it has been viewed. It does not determine the full value of the coin, only the buyer and seller can do that.

While some dealers lament the condition of the coin market as 1996 draws to a close, there are many other dealers who are congratulating themselves on completing one of their best years in business since it began. Various dealers have related that their sales volume is the highest in their history and their profits are considerably higher than they might have expected. Some of these very same dealers are the ones who continue to make markets, even as the year comes to a screeching halt. They maintain their Bids for the more elusive issues and in some cases, even advance them. Low-pop, high grade Gold remains on their want lists, as does the difficult to locate better date Dollars (both Morgan & Peace).

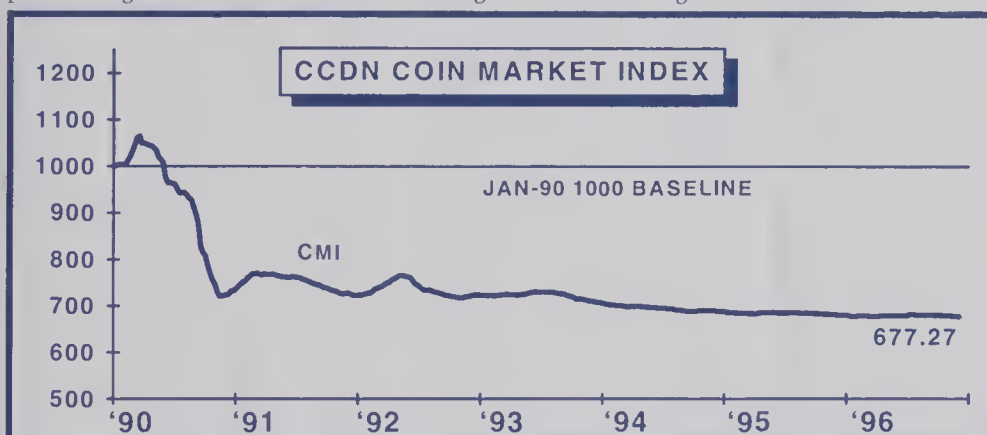

A look through the Proof Type charts shows many changes throughout the year. There has been a multitude of ups and downs depending on dealer needs; the overall picture of Proof Type indicates a lower market today (CMI—677.27) than we had on January 5th (CMI—687.72). While we note that there are numerous dealers interested in Proof Type and auctions continue to indicate strong bidding activity, the overall market is quite mixed. We have included a chart showing the issues that have advanced the most this year, in addition to the percentage gain. In all fairness, we have listed the issues that have tumbled the most also.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDN may not respond to the removal of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDN uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

Certification does not guarantee protection against the normal risks associated with potentially volatile markets.

Client or sight-seen sales may command a substantial premium above Bluesheet Dealer-to-Dealer Bids.

"COIN DEALERS ARE NO BETTER THAN PAWNBROKERS"

When we first saw this statement on one of the teletype systems, we thought it was a little offensive; in fact, it was very offensive. Some more reading confirmed our worst fears. Others were highly offended also. Pawnbrokers were very upset that they were being compared to coin dealers. You see, pawnbrokers are required to have licenses in order to operate their businesses. They are also required to be a member of their trade organization, which they all support with annual dues. That puts them way ahead of the coin industry; an industry that has not as yet demonstrated a willingness to support an organization to lead us into the 21st century.

If all coin dealers got together and became organized, just like a real industry, we could probably get some respect from the outside world. We need a fully supported trade organization to carry the ball for us. The only real problem we have is that it takes many years to be taken seriously as a viable entity by government. As a group, we have chosen to bury our heads in the sand and hope beyond hope that government leaves us alone. Dream on. As you can see from all news reports, from states all over the country, the government wants their share of your business. Guess what? They are going to get it, one way or another.

We currently have an organization that has done a very good job for the entire industry over the last five years. It is called ICTA..

Industry Council for Tangible Assets. Now many of you have had your heads in the sand for so long that you have no idea what ICTA has done for you lately. Judging by what we have read over the teletype systems lately, many of you think that ICTA is for special interest. You are right, it is. It is for the special interest of all coin dealers; not the 400 current members—all 10,000 coin dealers. Why do you think all of the major coin dealers are members of ICTA? Because they have basic survival instincts for business.

If you think ICTA had been run poorly many years ago by previous administrations, then join the club. However, it now enjoys an excellent reputation while enduring a lack of support by the majority. Further, ICTA has been run on a shoestring for the last several years by a non-paid Board of Directors, and two staff members (who are paid most of the time—usually not on time) who see to it that the coin industry benefits as much as possible. Without them, each and every one of you would be fending for yourself, at the mercy of government, lawyers, and especially the IRS. It would be apropos to conclude that many of you would have been driven out of business by now because of extremely high and excessive expenses just trying to defend your business.

One staunch supporter of ICTA wrote, "If you are not part of the solution, then you must be part of the problem." Why do you continue to let the members of ICTA stand up for you and speak for you? This is tantamount to being on welfare and accepting coin bureaucracy hand-outs. This seems to be a direct conflict of most coin dealer politics. You are willing to accept what ICTA does for you as a free-loader of the coin industry.

What does the CDN get out of your joining ICTA? We feel that a stronger coin industry, that is organized and has a fully supported trade organization behind it, is good for the entire industry. Our total business philosophy can be summed up in one statement: What is good for the coin industry, is good for us. The CDN Family of Publications.

If this offends you, do not blame ICTA. You should be supporting an organization that works for your betterment.

YES, I UNDERSTAND IT'S TIME I JOINED ICTA.

Want Lists Should Be Plentiful When FUN Commences Happy Holidays To All; Final CCDN of 1996

As we close out the year with this final issue, we take note that the overall market for certified coins has slowed considerably. Why not? This is a time for family, friends, and celebration; dealers want to spend time with their own families. Most dealers have lowered or withdrawn their sight-unseen Bids so now would not be a very good time to try to sell coins; many buyers are just bargain-hunting and are not making a serious effort to add to their inventories. In the meantime, several dealers have reported an increase in interest on the part of their customers. Not that they are ready to spend money right now, but they will be ready as early as the FUN Show begins.

There are many opportunities that should be explored when the new year commences. Several areas have been neglected for such a long time that they almost seem forgotten. If dealers concentrated on a particular series and selected specific coins from those areas, you might be interested to find that intense Bidding pressure would not create the number of sales you might think. By studying the populations of various issues, it becomes obvious which coins you might actually buy and which ones are not really available. There is a myriad of issues that have low populations (under 100) whereas increased Bidding would only serve to raise Bids without creating sales. When collectors see the value of their holdings increase, many are inclined to just hold onto them.

Table A shows a comparison of the CMI for the individual charts. We have listed the first issue of 1996 (January 5th) and today's ending index. A quick look indicates that nearly every chart is lower; however, this is more a portrait of frustration with sight-unseen Bidding than the individual markets actually being weaker. Many dealers have reported that this has been a very successful year for them. Bear in mind, that the dealers with positive reports usually create most of their business through sight-seen sales. They realize exactly what the sight-unseen market is and they take full advantage of it.

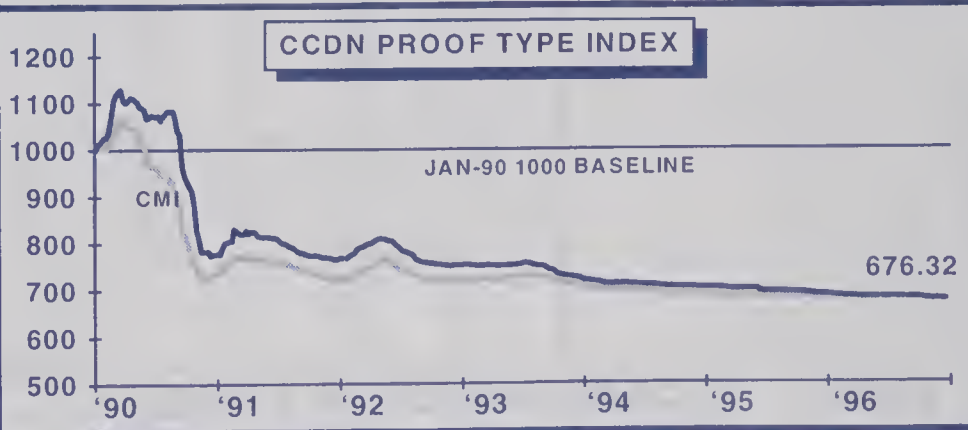

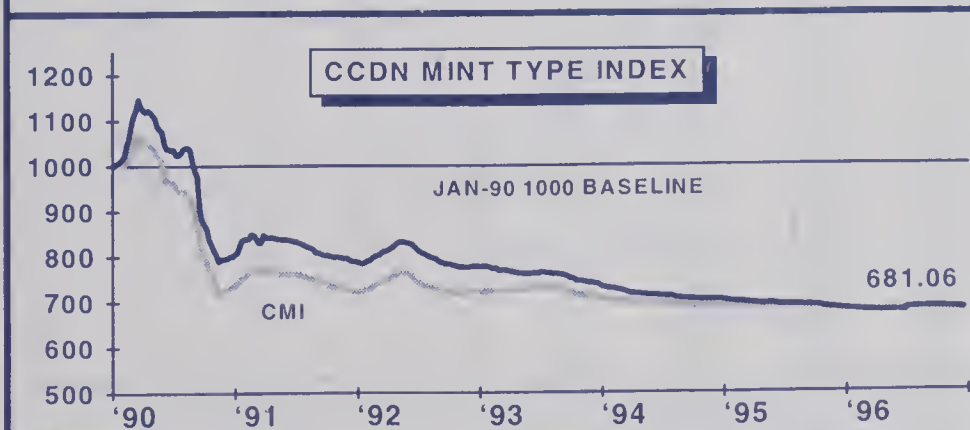

Just about the time you receive your next CCDN, you should be gearing up for the trip to Orlando, Florida and the FUN Show. The first big auction on the docket will be conducted by Auctions by Bowers and Merena, Inc. They have a 500 lot sale on January 8th. Included in this Rarities Sale are numerous specimens that are rarely seen in such high quality. There is a multitude of high-grade Barber Dimes, Quarters, and Halves. There is a near complete set of Walkers (many multiples of the same date), most of which are MS65 or higher. The section containing Morgan Dollars is sure to attract some spirited Bidding for the likes of the 1884S, in NGC64, the 1894O, in PCGS64, the 1895, in PCGS Pr66, and the 1895O, in PCGS61. Other highlights appear in inset above:

With this last issue of 1996, we would like to wish all of our subscribers a happy and safe holiday season. We appreciate your friendship throughout the year and hope 1997 is very successful for you and your families. The next CCDN will be issued on January 3, 1997.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDN may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDN uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

Certification does not guarantee protection against the normal risks associated with potentially volatile markets. Client or sight-seen sales may command a substantial premium above Bluesheet Dealer-to-Dealer Bids.

Some bids within represent very conservative sight-unseen buy prices on the part of the highest visible bidder. In these cases, a more accurate reflection of a coin's true value may be found in the CDN, albeit, on a sight basis.

Improved NGC services mean savings for you!

Numismatic Guaranty Corporation has renamed three of its popular services, but that's not all. CERTIFIED PREGRADE has become CROSSOVER, and this service is now free! You pay only for the submission Tier. RESUBMISSION EVALUATION has been simplified to REGRADE, and coins may now be submitted for this service under any Tier, saving you time. UNCERTIFIED PREGRADE is now called PRESCREEN, and it's free for submissions of 300 or more coins of the same denomination and type.

If You're Serious About Investing In The Rare Coin Market
Knowledge and Timing are Essential!

So Get... THE INSIDER'S ADVANTAGE... Today!

For the past 18 years, Silvano DiGenova has demonstrated a remarkable measure of knowledge and an uncanny sense of market timing, as one of the most successful rare coin traders of all time!

He makes his money in the rare coin business every day by trading coins with the foremost experts in the field. In other words, he swims with the sharks ... and invariably, he wins!

- In February 1980, while the coin market was "smoking" hot and the "experts" were buying with reckless abandon... he liquidated his entire inventory! Just two short months later, the coin market collapsed!
- In the summer of '86, he "shorted" 1,000 MS64 Morgan dollars to one of the "leading" experts at $300 each! By the time he had to deliver them, the market had dropped, and he bought them for just $175 each!
- In April 1989, he sold his entire inventory to Kidder-Peabody's American Rare Coin Fund! That was the same time the "experts" had a severe case of Wall Street fever. Little more than a month later...the coin market crashed!
- In August 1996, (for the first time in 8 years) he issued an "all-out" buy signal for rare coins! What's next???

Coincidence, or just a lucky guess? Absolutely not! These amazing examples are proof-positive of the extraordinary knowledge and sense of market timing Mr. DiGenova possesses. And now, he's willing to share his expertise and insights with you through the pages of the most dynamic and insightful rare coin newsletter on the market today! If you want to find out what's next...
